LINDEN HALL ITEMS.

The railroad is at last completed to this place, and our citizens are taking advantage of free travel. The new enterprise has already created quite a bustle, and strangers arrive with almost every train. Mrs. Waring, who is visiting Mrs. Hess, was the first New York pas-senger to Linden Hall, and instead of getting off at a depot was landed in a corn field; we expect soon to have better accommodations. Candidates have forsaken us entirely, but their bright smiles haunt us still. Quite a lively time was indulged in at our primary election, yet everything passed off smoothly. The young man who assured a certain candidate that he could influence the young voters of Harris to his support, has not been heard from since the primary meeting. He doubtless is aware that his influence ceased with his own ballot. The young voters of Harris have minds of their own and vote accordingly. Our annual pic-nic held on Saturday, 16, in Mr. Swab's grove, surpassed al expectation. The committee might remove the seats prepared lest they be damaged; also repair the fence which was badly racked. We notice some of our county papers urging Democrats to stick to the ticket. Yet it is admitted by all that this side of the mountain was entitled to the sheriff. vet the present nominee is a resident of Bellefonte. We therefore claim that our

All speak highly of Mr. VanDyke and all hands concerned, but the engineer got some little scolding from the ladies for extra sprinkling. We are surprised to hear that some of our citizens claim that had it not been for them and what they did we would not have a railroad. We know of no one here who ever served on any railroad committee, or called on the pres ident of the R. R. Co, but like all of us did lots of talking at home. If any

DEADLY FIRE-DAMP.

Death of Seven Men at Shamokin.

Shamokin, Pa., August 21.—Seven men lie burried in the Greenback Coliery, near this place, the victims of the deadly black damp.

On Wednesday morning the Buck Ridge Colliery on the Renshaw and Johnson tract was discovered to be on assorted lot of goods Mingle has, and at fire. Mining experts were at the scene of the fire all day, and it was decided to drive a hole from the Greenback into the workings of the Blue Ridge. The men who were engaged in driving the hole worked all night and had made good progress and everything at daybreak seemed favorable to the plans adopted for extinguishing the fire.

By 6 o'clock, however, the fire had burned through the old workings of the water level and great quantities of gas began penetrating into the Greenback workings, and seven workmen were overcome before they could get out of reach of the deadly poison. Everything possible is now being done to reach them, but no doubt exists any longer of their fate. Eleven mules are supposed to have been smothered or burned. The fire is burning more fiercely than ever. Both the Greenback and Buck Ridge collieries employed over six hundred men and boys who will be thrown out of employment.

HUNDREDS OF DUMB BRUTES KILLED.

Lancaster, August 22 .- An accident courred this afternoon at the west yard of the Penusylvania railroad at Columbia. A train, at the rear end of which was a caboose, and before the caboose a gondola car, was proceeding out of the yard when a stock train followed and a colli sion occurred. The locomotive of the last train crushed into the caboose, which caused an ogly wreck. Behind the locomotive were cars containing sheep and hogs, each holding several hundred animals. Four of the cars, as well as the engine, were completely knocked to splinters. The animals, nearly nine hundred in number, were nearly all maimed or killed, only about fifty of the four car loads of hogs and sheep being saved.

nothing to distinguish the place; but in a gale the waves become thick and of a reddish hue. Mud taken from the spot has all the cleansing qualities of soap, and is used to scrub the decks of vessels. Scientific men are puzzled to know what makes the "oil-spot."

The honesty and faithfulness of the International Postal Service has just been strikingly illustrated in the history of a letter, containing twenty-five cents, which was mailed in January, 1883, from Grand Rapids, Wis., and addressed to John Bathurst, in Australia, by way of Brindisi, Italy. After having been opened by mistake and advertised, the missive was sent to the British dead letter office.

on the 24th of June last, having made the circuit of the globe in one year, five months and fifteen days. The envelope bore all the marks of hard usage, but the piece of silver was still enclosed wrapped as when it was mailed.
