

TOMATO FIGS.—Make a rich syrup of sugar, figs, preserves, flavor with lemon peel; use small tomatoes, put as many into the kettle as you can; boil slowly 15 minutes, remove carefully from the syrup, so as not to break them, place separately on shallow dishes and put in the hot sun. Continue to cook others until you have as many as you wish. If the sugar becomes weakened, add more sugar. Dry the tomatoes a few days, roll in white sugar, pack in jars or boxes, sprinkle sugar between the layers.

When you visit or leave New York City, save Baggage Express and Carriage Hire, and stop at the Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot.

Regent rooms, fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European Plan. Restaurant, supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages and elevators at all depots. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first-class hotel in the city.

FROSTED PEARS.—Take half a dozen large pears which have been stewed whole in syrup, dry them well, then cover them smoothly with a white icing made as follows: Beat the white of an egg to a firm froth, add a quarter of a pound of powdered and sifted sugar, a table-spoonful of lemon juice and a few drops of cold water, and beat the mixture thoroughly until it forms a thick, smooth liquid. When the pears are covered with this, set them in a warm place or in a cool oven to stiffen the icing.

MASON & HAMLIN commenced as melodeon makers in 1824. They soon introduced the improved instrument now known as the organ, or American organ, as it is termed in Europe. The new instrument proved so superior that it soon took the place of everything else in this country, being adopted and manufactured by all who had previously made melodeons, and many others who were induced to commence the business by the rapidly growing demand. Now about 85,000 American organs are made and sold yearly. Those by the Mason & Hamlin Company have always stood at the head, being acknowledged the best. The same makers are now producing improved Upright Pianofortes, which they believe, are destined to be as high as their organs have done.—Boston Traveller.

YEAST CAKE.—Good sized potatoes, one dozen; hops, one large handful; yeast, half pint; corn meal, a sufficient quantity. Boil the potatoes, after peeling, and rub them through a colander; boil the hops in two quarts of water, and strain into the potatoes; then scald sufficient Indian meal to make them the consistency of empanadas, and stir in the yeast and let rise; then with unsalted meal, thicken so as to roll out and cut into cakes, drying quickly at first to prevent souring. They keep better and soak up quicker than if made with flour.

In Your Blood Purse?
For impure blood the best medicine known, Scovill's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, may be implicitly relied on when everything else fails. Take it in the spring time, especially for the impure secretions of the blood, which are the cause of the year; and take it at all times for cancer, scrofula, liver complaints, weakness, boils, tumors, swellings, skin diseases, malaria and the thousand ills that come from impure blood. To insure a cheerful disposition take this well known medicine, which will remove the prime cause, and restore the mind to its natural equilibrium.

To boil an egg so that it is fit to eat, drop it in boiling water, place the vessel, covered, on top of the stove at one side where the water will not boil. Let it stand eight or ten minutes. By this method the egg will be cooked through and the white will be soft—not the hard, indigestible substance it becomes by the usual method. Even if the egg is left a little too long, and becomes hard, it will not be like an ordinary hard-boiled egg, as trial will convince any one.

Heart Pains.
Palpitation, Dropsical Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness, cured by "Wells' Health Renewer."

CRULLERS.—Take half a pint of buttermilk, one-half cup of butter, two cups of sugar, and three eggs. Dissolve half a teaspoonful of soda in a little hot water, add a teaspoonful of salt, half a nutmeg grated, half a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon of good strength. As much flour should be worked in as will make a smooth dough; cut in rings or in any shape you choose, and fry in very hot fat. Crullers used to be cut in little squares after being rolled out in a thin sheet, then the squares were slashed.

MENSAUR'S FORTIFIED BEEF TONIC. THE ONLY preparation of beef containing all the nutritive properties. It contains blood-making force, generating and life-sustaining properties; invaluable for indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous prostration, and all forms of general debility, also, in all debilitated conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, nervous prostration, over-work or acute disease, particularly if resulting from pulmonary complaints. Caswell, Hazard & Co., proprietors, New York. Sold by druggists.

PEACH FRITTERS.—Are delicious, and are a welcome morsel to those deluded people who prefer fruit cooked. Make a nice smooth batter of flour and sweet milk, add eggs and salt to your taste. Peel and cut the peaches in halves, removing the stones, of course; dip the pieces of peach in the batter, and fry in hot lard. It will take about 10 minutes to fry them properly.—Drain them by placing them on a very hot plate, scatter powdered sugar over them, and send them to the table hot.

"Hough on Rats."
Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bedbugs, skunks, chipmunks, etc. Druggists.

WHORTLEBERRY PUDDING.—One cup molasses, two cups flour, three cups whortleberries, one teaspoonful cream tartar, one-half teaspoonful soda. Sift the cream tartar in the flour, and the soda through the molasses. Bake in a buttered pan in a quick oven. Serve at once. Sauce.—One well-beaten egg, with a little sugar stirred in, add two spoonfuls boiling water.

Nature.
Dame nature is the great teacher and physician, and Carboline, made from pure petroleum, is one of her grandest remedies for baldness. Try it and you will see no other.

How to do it.—Bonanza, Jr.—I see you have advertised for a coachman. Mr. Millionaire—"Ah! how do do, Mr. Bonanza, and how is your estimable father? Piling up the millions as usual, I suppose? Yes, I have advertised for a coachman. Do you know of a good man?" "I should like the position myself, sir."

"Ah! I see. You love my daughter, but you are too late." "Too late?" "Yes, I gave my wealthy young friend, Mr. Fatpurse, a job as coachman a few weeks ago, and she cooped with him last night."

"Are you the manager?" "I am." "I would like an engagement as leading man in your new society drama." "What is your name?" Algeonon Verso de Vere. "I never heard it before." "What proof can you give me that you are competent to fill the requirements of the place you demand?" "Alas, I do not know. I was discharged from a London company for incompetency." "Then you are from England?" "Yes." "Have you ever had catarrh?" "I have a chronic case." "Say no more—you are engaged—our success is already assured."

"A Perfect Flood of Sunshine!"
will fill the heart of every suffering woman if she will only persist in the use of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." It will cure the most excruciating menstrual pains, and relieve you of all irregularities and give healthy action. It will positively cure internal inflammation, prostration, miscarriage and all kindred disorders. Price reduced to one dollar. By Druggists.

THE BOY LEFT.—A lady residing in the suburbs has a small boy, who like many of his species shows a decided propensity to pick up words and phrases not adapted to polite ears. With these he occasionally startles the family, and is especially apt to do so, of course, when visitors are present.

A gentleman caller recently asked him some trivial question when he turned on him and said: "Did you speak, or did a cabbage-head burst?" Exit boy, in company with his father.

Notwithstanding the great number who yearly succumb to this terrible and fatal disease, which is daily winding its fatal coils around thousands who are unconscious of its deadly presence, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will cleanse and purify the blood of scrofulous impurities, and cure tubercular consumption (which is only scrofulous disease of the lungs). Send three letter stamps and get Dr. Pierce's complete treatise on consumption and kindred affections with numerous testimonials of cures. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

TAKING THE SAFE SIDE.—I'm not very familiar with American money," said a Montreal banker, "but this bill doesn't look right." "I guess it's genuine," the depositor remarked. "If it isn't I know where I got it." "It may be all right, but I am not sure. Here, John," he said, turning to the messenger boy, "run into some hotel or liquor saloon with this bill, and ask an American cashier if it's genuine."

"Hough on Corns."
Ask for Wells' "Hough on Corns," etc. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

MAKING PROGRESS.—Eastern man.—"Ah! Yes, our launches are becoming very liberal." Western man.—"In what way?" "Well, for instance, in addition to the organ we now have horns in the cockpit." "Right in the choir?" "Yes." "Well, you are ahead of us. We still have to slip out the vestry door and round the corner for our horns."

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is a certain cure for that very obnoxious disease. As much flour should be worked in as will make a smooth dough; cut in rings or in any shape you choose, and fry in very hot fat. Crullers used to be cut in little squares after being rolled out in a thin sheet, then the squares were slashed.

CONCORD GRAPE ICE.—Four ounces of Concord grapes—a cupful, one pound of sugar, one quart of water, juice of one lemon. Mash the grapes and sugar together raw, add the lemon juice and water, strain into a freezer with all the pulp obtainable and freeze at once. The lemon juice brightens the color. Small quantities can be frozen in tin pails set in a freezing mixture of finely pounded ice and salt in a tub, if kept in motion, though freezers, of course, are better. When all three are frozen lay a sheet of thin paper on the bottom lid of the mold to make a tight fit; place the mold, spread in the three layers with the spoon evenly, put on paper, then the lid; fill the crevices along the edge of the paper with a little melted butter to keep out the salt water, then put the mold down in the freezing mixture, cover it well with ice and salt and let it remain two or three hours. When to be served, wash off the mold in cold water and wipe dry, take off the lids and paper and place the tri-colored brick of cream on a folded napkin on a dish; or a silver dish having a perforated bottom drainer. Where a large quantity of this fashionable ice is made to serve at dinners that last for hours, the bricks are taken out of the molds early, wrapped in manilla paper and packed in a large ice-cornet freezer, there to remain frozen until they are taken out one by one as wanted.

CREAM PUDDING.—One quart of milk, four eggs, four tablespoonfuls flour. Mix flour with a little milk, then add the eggs, beaten well, and flavor to taste. Pour this into the rest of the milk which must be boiling, cook a few moments, pour into a dish, sprinkle over the top five spoonfuls of sugar, and cover tightly until dissolved. Serve while quite warm.

For all open cuts on horses or cattle nothing is better than the so-called "power salve." Boil a handful of the green bark of the elder in two table-spoonfuls of lard; add one table-spoonful of turpentine. Let it cool off a little, take out the elder bark, and add one table-spoonful of gun powder, three of vinegar and three of sweet cream.

CATSUP.—Rub enough real ripe tomatoes through a sieve to make a gallon of juice; add to this one quart of vinegar, one tablespoonful of salt, one of mustard, one of cinnamon, one of cloves, and one teaspoonful of cayenne pepper. Boil until it is thick as desired.

A pretty tily is made of bins all-wood Java canvas; fringe the edge all around; then arrange as gracefully as possible the daisies, which you can buy all ready for applying. The stems and little bits of vines for filling are worked in Kensington stitch; yellow and white daisies may both be used.

CURTS cloths should be made large enough to hold the chairs set around the table, and be tacked to the floor. If they have a border or gray binding they become quite ornamental, especially if the border matches some tint in the carpet.

The Broadway give-away. Stranger—"If you please, sir, we want Broadway and Tenth street." "Newdealer." "Yes, we can't have Broadway; it's meeself has rid it in them papers as how it's been away; but yez might get Tenth street if yez hurry up an' see the board of Aldermen."

"WHAT name does your husband all you by?" said a bride to a friend who had been married several years; "does he call you ducky or lovey? My darling calls me ducky." "Does he? Mine doesn't call me popsey-wopsey, but he doesn't need that term now." "What does he call you then?" "He calls me, 'Say, there!'"

JINKS.—"Why what is the matter with your nose?" Finks.—"It has been frosted-bitten." Jinks.—"Oh! come now, you have not been on an Arctic expedition." Finks.—"No, but the other evening I kissed a Boston girl."

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

I lost faith in everything; I was satisfied that my time had come, and so I told my doctors.

Then, as usual, after all else had been tried, some one suggested your medicine, and I, neither expecting or hoping for relief, began to use them—the Palatine Syrup and Seaweed Tonic. In two weeks I was so much better that I got up from bed and went down; and in four weeks I felt thirty pounds of flesh, and I am very happy to say that I have been a well man ever since my recovery, which I consider is entirely due to you. I shall be pleased to see any one who may be interested in my case, or will gladly answer letters from those who find it impossible to see me.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Do not produce sickness at the stomach, nausea, or griping. On the contrary, they are so mild and agreeable in their action that a person suffering with Sick Headache, Sour Stomach or Pain in the Bowels, is specially relieved by these distressing symptoms. They act directly on the liver, the organ which, when in a healthy condition, purifies the blood for the whole body.

In all cases of Liver Complaint or Dyspepsia when there is great weakness or debility, Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic should be used in connection with these Pills.
