think the great defeated need not "g not go for him-it let him entirely alone and went for Cleveland, which showed great good sense.

The Werld: Cyrus Field, who helped to kill off Blaine with his Belshazar feast is trying to unload on poor old Burchard. He aseerts in his organ that Blaine undertiood the oda gentuman ${ }^{2}$ Bucrard had said this bis remark would Blaine understood Burchard to to say that he Democratic party was the party

The Times says some of the disap-Binine organs are consoling York, which gave Mr. Cleveland 192,824 majority for Governor, has given him only 1,140 for President. This falling off oould be significant if Cleveland had ceived fewer votes for President than he the case. Hos total vote in 1882 was 535 , 347 ; the vote for the Democratic elector in Xew York is 505,073 , Democratic gain of nearly 28,000 . The reason he received such a huge majority for Governor was simply that omeme 200,000 Republicans Who had voted for Garfield refosed to vote for Folger. These were mainly sapport their candidate for President. But with all their effort they could only give B baine more than Garfield had tour anti-Stalwart, but this time it was distinctly anti-Blaine, and it is half again may be counted anti-Cleveland. The greater than in is80, and if we add this with the net Demoratic gain of 22000 over the last Presidential vote we find Garfield. That shows what a magnetic candidate can do.

It looks as tho Conkling might be ocrats are nearly all for him and with 1 Re done. Let it be done, and let a simi lar thing be done in Pennsylvania, ele an able but upright Republican in pre ference to a boss, as no Democrat will stand a chance.

Hon. S . T. Shugert has retired from the Centre Demorota, we we by the last isentre Dociocra, as we see by the last is ve of that paper. Mr. Subgert was a veteran in the "art preservative," and connected with the earliest newspape ne enterprise of this county. He is an able and forcible writer, and one who can give valuable counsel in political affars and his cool head and clear insight wwil be mised in the corps editorial. He is be missed in the corps editorial. He is a staunch Democrat, was never given to the ways of the wire-worker and trader in politics-he is one of the men who believes that honesty in politics is as nuch needed as in any other calling or profession. We hope Mr. Shugert will enjoy a pleasant retirement and that he may live long enough to see a half dozen Democratic presidents elected.
