EMPRESS PUDDING .- Eight or ten fine juicy apples, pared and cored, one-half a pound of stale maccaroons pounded fine, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, onehaif a teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half a cupful sweet jelly, one pint of milk, two tablespoonfuls of corn starch, the whites of three well-beaten eggs and a little salt. Put the apples into a wellbuttered pudding dish, fill full of water, cover closely, cook in a slow oven until tender. Drain off the water and cool the apples. Put into each apple a spoonful of jelly, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon, cover and stand awhile. Scald the milk, stir in the maccaroons, salt and corn starch. Wet with a little cold milk. Boil all together one minute. Take from the fire and let it stand a few minutes. Then stir in the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Pour the mixture over the apples, bake three quarof an hour, and eat, while hot, with spring.

LEMON SHORTCARE. -If your family like a good strong lemon flavor it will be a delicious dish. Make a shortcake dough exactly like a strawberry shortcake. While that is baking grate the peel of a lemon and squeeze every drop of juice from it into a bowl; then take half a cup of sugar and half a cup of molasses, a teacupful of water, a little lump of butted and a tablespoonful of flour. Let this boil until it is just about as thick as boiled custard. When the shortcake is baked cut it in two parts and pour the mixture over the lower one; then lay the upper part on this, bottom side up, and cover that also with the custard.

"I suffered with catarrh fifteen years; tried all about to try a change or climate when I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. I would not take any money consideration for the good one bottle did me. Now I am not troubled any with catarrh."

i. W. LILLIS, Chicago, Ill.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Originates in scrofulous taint in the blood. Hence the proper method by which to cure catarrh is to purly the blood, its many disagreeable symptoms, and the danger of developing into bronchitis or that terribly fatal disease, consumption, are entrety removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which cures catarah by purifying the blood, and also tones up the system and greatly improves the general health of those who take it.

If you suffer from catarrh, however slightly, you are in danger, because the disease, if not attended to, will soon become chronic, affecting your general health, and may also develop into bronchitis or consumption. As catarrh is the result of impure blood it is readily cared by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood, and gives who take it.

general health was poor in consequence. When I took Hood's Sarsaparilla I found I had the right remedy. The catarrh is yielding, as Hood's Sarsaparilla is cleansing my blood, and the general tone of my system is improving."

Frank Washburn, Hochester, N. Y.

Martin Shields, a successful marketman of Chicago, derived help from Hood's Sarsaparilia. He says: "I have been troubled with that distressing complaint, catarrh, and I want to say that I have been using Hood's Sarsaparilia, and I find it one of the best remedies I have ever taken. My trouble has lasted ten years, and never before could I get any relief, never, until I commenced to use Hood's Sarsaparilia. I would recommend its use to all suffering with that complaint. It is truly an excellent medicine."
