Cieveland and Hendricks have been elected. After the fourth of March there will be a Democratic administration at Washington, with great possibilities for the progress, prosperity and advancement of the country.

T has labored As the POST has labored unceasingly for twen-ty-five years for these glorious results, so it will extend to the new administration a hearty greet-ing and a cordial support in its re-establishment of principles and policies vital to the public wel-fare, by reforming abuses, righting wrongs and asserting the supremacy of the Democratic faith. We are on the threshold of important events and exact chapter. To a hereover, who sided in and great changes. To a Democrat who aided in Cleveland's election, the future is full of interest and hope. The WEEKLY POST will aim to keep fully The WEEKLY POST will aim to keep fully abreast of the times in everything relating to the incoming administration. Its policy at home and abroad will be intelligently discussed, generously supported or candidly and kindly criticised. No year in the history of this journal promises to be so replete with matters of interest to Demo-crats as the one we are about to enter. The meet-ing of Congress, the declaration of the Presiden-tial vote, the inauguration, the new Cabinet, the obspaces in the public service, the opening up of that vote, the inauguration, the new Cabinet, the changes in the public service, the opening up of the books, all are of great concern. The WEEK-LY POST will furnish the earliest intelligence, with judicious comment from the old Democratic standpoint. Success will not hamper it any more than a quarter of a century of defeat impaired its energies. The session of the Legislature, with a Reform Governor opposed by a Republican majority, promises to be fruitful of important issues and exciting incident. Mr. Hill had dieted for a day or two in order to get up an appetite for crow, but when the smoking bird, done just to a turn, was set before him, the task proved the same way, was then set before him for gastronomic comparison. Mr. Hill declared the first bird to have been of beiter flavor. The company thereupon began to lay wagers that Mr. Hill had eaten no crow at all. This was the impression until the steward was sent for and solemnly affirmed that the first bird was a genuine crow. Mr. Hill, therefore, like some more prominent Massachusetss politicians early in the Republican campaign, not only ate his crow, but declared that he liked it.
