-The corner-stone of the burned Lutheran church of this place was lifted from its bed in the wall, one day last week, and the tin box opened. All the contents, books, documents in writing, "Reporters" and "Luth. Observers," were found well preserved, and showed no signs of having gone through a fire.

-The foundry owned and operated county, was burned on Friday night, 12, at 12 o'clock with all its contents. It is supposed that the fire originated from sparks from castings which lodged in the building. The loss is between $700 and $800. There was no insurance. All amployes will be temporarily out of work.

The World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition opened at New Orleans, La., December 16, '84, and will continue until May 31, '85 The success of this great show is now assured, and the vastness of its extent, the variety of the interests involved, and the wide field from which its features are drawn, it will exceed in magnitude anything of its kind ever held in this country. Besides a fall representation of the limitless industries and the unbounded resources of every State of the Union, every country of the world will display something of its resources, its art, or its handiwork. The collection of international exhibits will be complete, and that, in connection with all the richness of America, will form an epitome of the advance of civilization as perfect as it is unique. Agriculture, mechanics, science, art, commerce, trade, and every branch of human industry will make part of the great fair.

Its location at one of the formost commercial cities of the South, as well as one of the most attractive, fitted in every way for the entertainment of a great gathering of people, leads added interest to the enterprise. The winter season at New Orleans is the most delightful portion of the year, and the inhabitant of the severer climate of the North would find a most grateful change in the geniality of Southern winter. Accommodations will be ample, ranging in expense from the comfortable room of the visitor of limited means to the luxurious apart ments of the wealthy. It will be a winter vacation where one may find not only health and pleasure, but profit and in-

For the benefit of the large number of visitors who will be attracted thither, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has placed on sale at all the principal stations of its system excursion tickets to New Orleans, good to return until May 31, '85. In consideration of the reduced rate at which the tickets are sold they are subject to certain conditions as to limitation of trips going and returning. These conditions are simple and will be explained in detail by agents. The tickets are of two classes: Those covering the same route in both directions, and those covering one route going and a dif. | dec24 ferent route returning.
