FROM KANSAS.

PLEASANT VALLEY, Kas, Feb. 3. MR. EDITOR! - Allow me a little space in your columns to give a few hints from from Kansas. In reading your paper I seldom see any thing from Kansas, or at least from this part of the state. Well, yesterday was ground-bog day, and I do not know how it was in Penn'a, but here she could have seen her shadow from morning yestimates. morning until night; we had a nice warm sunshine day, but according to the old prophesy we will have another winter before spring comes, but we would all be ready to say enough for we have had un-usually cold weather this winter. Had a great deal of snow, but is now nearly all gone, and it looks very much like spring. The grain on the fields looks very promising, and if nothing happens we will have another good crop this year; last year we had an immense crop of all kinds grain—so much that we did not know what to do with it, and thousands of bushels went to waste on account of continual wet weather; Kansas is sometimes very wet. There is a great deal of grain to thresh yet, and farmers are busy marketing grain notwithstanding the very low price. Best wheat at 65 cents per bushel, rye 35 cents, oats 25 cents, corn 20 cents, barley 30 cents. Kansas land is in great demand, and has greatly advanced in value in the last nine months; thousands of men are coming with their families from all parts of the world to seek homes and yet there is room for more. We have soil to raise all kinds of grain and vegetables that is unsurpassed any where, and land is cheap yet. Men with small means may secure ness. The many who have overlooked for themselves a home who never could get one in the east, and I am glad to see by responding to notices to be sent again shortly. Bear this in mind, friends.

—The mill foundation is nearly com of the rich and uncultivated soil. Lin

By the way I would like to bave two industrious farmers go on two choice farms, 160 acres each, close to the county-seat and the best of chances will be given. If there are any desiring such chances, they can write to me. Lest I weary you I must close. P. B. STOVER.

AN EKTRAORDINARY OFFER.

To All Wanting Employment.

We want live, energetic and capable agents in every county in the United States and Canada, to sell a patent article of great merit, on its merits. An article having a large sale, paying over 100 per cent, profit, having no competition, and on which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may secure from us. With all these advantages, and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every houseowner, it might not be necessary to make an "extraordinary offer" to secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to make it to show, not only our confidence in the merits of our invention, but in its salability by any agent that will handle it with energy. Our agents now at work are making from 150 to 600 a month clear, and this fact makes it safe for us to make our offer; po all who are out of employment. Any agent that Will give Gur business a thirty days trial and fail to clear at least 100 in this time, above all expenses, can return all goods unsold to us and we will refund the money paid for them. Any agent or general agent who would like to have ten or more counties and work them through sub-agents for minety days, and fail to clear at least 750 above all expenses, can return all unsold and get their money back. No other employer of agents ever dared to make such offers, nor would we if we did not have agents now making double the amount we guarantee, and but two sales a day would give a profit of over $125 a month, and that one of our agents took 18 offers in one day. Our large descriptive circular explains our offers fully, and those we wish to send to avery one out of this pittyment who will send us three one cent stamps for postage. Send at once and secure the agency in time for the address of all the agents, sewing machine solicitors and carpenters in the country, and ask any reader of this paper who reads this offer, to send us at once the name and address of all such they know. Address at once, or you will lose the best To All Wanting Employment. chiefee eyer offered to those out of employment to make money.

ABOUT PEPPER

The condimentary value of pepper stands very high, and, among European people, the English are perhaps the taining 6 Acres, all clear and in a high state of cultivation, thereon a House and Barn, necessary outbuildings, orchard of choice fruit, and a well of never failing water at the door.

Terms.—Ten per cent. of purchase money to be paid cash; one-half of balance when deed is delivered; remainder in one year, with interest to be assured by bond and mortgages on the revert. however, not being in the botany but in the mode of preparation. Black and white pepper come from the same plant. All pepper is black originally, but the blackness resides in a superficial skip. If the berry be ground entire, then, of course, the powder will be dark-colored; but if the outicle be removed previous to grinding, then the powder will have a tint more or less approaching white, though never quite white-in this consists the only difference between white and black pepper. The black pepper plant is indigenous to the East and West Indies, and it also grows in Sumatra, Java and other islands of the Indian Archipelago,

Two crops of berries are produced in the year, but the season of ripening is very irregular. If wholly unadulterated pepper is required it should be bought whole and ground in a domestic mill. But in a state of powder it is almost invariably adulterated, special ingredients being sald for this purpose. The two chief are known in commerce as P. D. and D. P. D., the first signifying "pepper dust," and the second "dirt of pepper dust." Both may be described as the sweepings, more or less contaminated, of the warehouse in which pepper is stored. In addition to the ordinary black and white peppers of domestic use, there is another kind called long pepper. The fruit of this sort is not shaped as berries, but as elongated cylinders with rounded ends. It is of more use, however, as an ingredient of cattle medicines than as a condiment for human
