blow that prostrated lawyer Weare. Turning his attention to the principal combatants, who by this time hal clinch-ed and were committing mayhem upon one another's ears and cheeks, the Judge commanded the Jury to rise and quell the riot. At the same time the Judge one expected to see a double tragedy ing only truth and justice. He excelled in the statement of his case. However complicated, he would disentangle it, and present the real issue in so simple and clear a way that all could understand. Indeed, his statement often rendered argument unnecessary, and frequently the court would stop him. and say, "If this is the case, Brother Lincoln, we will hear the other side.' Considering the number of meteoric stones which reach the earth's surface, it would not be surprising if many lives had been destroyed by them. It is stated that loss of life] resulted from a large fall in Africa ; that about the year 1020 many persons and animals were killed ; that in 1511, about five o'clock one evening, a priest was struck and killed; and that, still later, in 1650, a monk was killed. But these, according to Mr. James R. Gregory, seem to be the only instances recorded of death from falling meteorites.
