It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves Heartburn and Belching, and strengthens the muscles and nerves.

For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, &c., it has no equal.

The genuine has above trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no chance. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

Items of Interest.

Vermont is never pronounced "Var-mount" by people of that State, says the Rutland Herald, except in imitation of outsiders.

According to the will of a New Hampshire man his "dear wife" is to receive $10,000 in case she remains single eight weeks after his death.

The Popolo Romano lately printed the following advertisement in English: "A Roman gentleman wishes to marry English, American, or German lady. Very serious affair. Apply W. W."

A French chemist has invented an armor for those who fear assaults from vitrol throwers. It is in the form of a colloid ointment, which, when spread over the face forms an invulnerable glazing.

A conductor in Massachusetts put a tramp off his train and threw him a bundle which he supposed was his baggage. The tramp threw it back, and it was afterwards found to be a package of bills containing $4,500.

SCROFULA

Usually develops in early life, and is a peculiar morbid condition of the system, usually affecting the glands, often resulting in swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, thickening of the lips, enlarged neck, sore eyes. A scrofulous condition is often hereditary, but bad diet, too free use of fat meats, bad air, want of sunshine and nourishing food will induce it. Some people are troubled with scrofulous swelling of the glands, and with ulcers and kernels, which may cause very little pain; others may have inward scrofula, scrofula of the lungs, scrofula of the spleen, scrofula of the kidneys, and scrofula of the bones. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will drive away any case of scrofula and not to appear in another place, for their action on the blood and bowels will carry the disease entirely from the body.

One of the greatest libraries in this country is that of Adolph Sutro, the borer of the famous Sutro tunnel. Mr. Sutro has scoured Europe in search of rarities, and has now stored in San Francisco enough books to bring the titles along up to 150,000.

A zealous Christian woman in Lowell has left her husband's bed and board because he will not be converted. She has reached the "perfect state," and is so outraged that her husband, otherwise an exemplary man, will not come to her way of thinking that she will no longer live with him.

According to the Indiana Pharmacist, raw oysters not only have a remarkable wholesome influence upon the digestive organs, but are highly recommended for hoarseness. Many leading vocalists are said to use them regularly in preparing for their appearance in concerts or operas.

One cubic inch of gold, says the Jeweler's Circular, is worth $210; one cubic foot, $312,380, and one cubic yard, $9,796,792 (counting the ounce at $18). At the commencement of the Christian era there were altogether $427,000,000 worth of gold, but at the time of the discovery of America only $57,000,000 remained. At present the value of all the gold in the world is counted $9,908,000,000.

At the recent funeral of Gen. Fabrizi, almost the last of the heroic group of patriot soldiers who supported Garibaldi, a small company of the original Garibaldians (fast thinning), in red shirts and breasts covered with medals, but otherwise many cases showing signs of extreme poverty, attracted the reverential attention of the crowd. All the Garibaldian family came from Caprera to attend the funeral.

A colored preacher in the outskirts of Columbia, S. C., notified his congregation on a recent Sunday that he would not preach until he had $5. The hat was passed round, and when returns were made $3.50 was in the pot, whereupon the preacher said he must have $1.50 more before he would preach. The hat was passed around the second time, and the $5 made up when the congregation was treated to one of the pastor's happiest efforts.

"An ideally pure water," said Prof. William G. Tucker, in an address before the Albany institute, the other night, "should be clear, colorless, tasteless, and odorless, though little such exists in nature, and these properties are not necessarily proof of purity. Water may be as clear as crystal, and yet carry typhoid fever from a hamlet on one side of a mountain to dwellers on the other, as the celebrated case at Lausanne, Switzerland."

Dr. John J. Moran attended Edgar Allen Poe in his dying moments. He now writes that the habit of intemperance did, to some extent, cloud the poet's early life, but not his later years. Poe's constitution was such that he could not become a dram-drinker, and for four years previous to his death he was perfectly temperate. His death was caused by ill-treatment and exposure suffered from a party of Baltimore roustabouts, who caught him, ooped him up, drugged him, and voted him during an excited election. In attending him during his last illness, Dr. Moran saw that his patient gave no signs of a debauch. He refused a glass of spirits the day before he died.

A discussion has been lately going on in England with reference to the employment of electric eels for purposes of vivisection. One paper points out that, before an anti-vivisectionist protests against experiments upon electric eels, he should abjure oels altogether as an article of food; for eels are usually skinned while they are still alive, on the ground that this culinary process removes the oil with the skin and leaves the flesh white and firm. And the St. James's Gazette says that no virtuous have been written down to the eel's credit. It does not care for the sufferings of other fish. No eel is ever touched to its heart because a big oel has made a breakfast of two dozen whiting. Besides, the eel is a cannibal. A big eel in want of a meal always looks out for a little eel. Why anti-vivisectionists should be tender over so unfeeling a creature it is hard to see.

BORROWED BOOKS.

Books possess in a hardly less marked degree than umbrellas the power of exciting the acquisitive propensities of the prescriptively respectable, and the appropriation of a book is, like that of an umbrella, regarded as a peculiarly venial breach of the Eighth Commandment. The form which the offense ordinarily assumes is that of the permanent retention of a book lent for temporary use and enjoyment. The neglect to return the volume does not necessarily imply dishonesty on the part of the borrower, as the omission may have been due to simple forgetfulness on his part. But the ardent bookhunter whose passion for rare works and rare editions amounts to a mania, will sometimes be hurried in the eagerness of pursuit into acts unsusceptible of any such charitable interpretation. The confirmed bibliomane is indeed one of the most determined and remorseless of human beings. "Tall" copies and "large paper" copies, incunabula and Elzevirs, possess a fascination for him compared with which the fascinations of the turf and the gaming table are tame and commonplace. If none but equivocal means present themselves of realizing some long-cherished bibliographical ambition, they must be crooked indeed if he recoils at them, and bibliomania is of all manias perhaps that most nearly allied to kleptomania. Tallemant des Reaux tells us in one of his Historiettes that when Dumoustier, the famous French draughtsman, was in the height of his fame, he received a visit one day in his studio from Cardinal Barberini, Urban IV's Legate in Paris, who was accompanied on the occasion by Monsignor Pamphili, one of his assessors. The attention of the latter was attracted to a handsomely bound volume lying on a table in the room, which proved to be a copy of the rare English edition of the "History of the Council of Trent." Pamphili took the volume up, glanced through the leaves, and profiting by a moment when Dumoustier's attention seemed to be completely monopolized by his other visitor, slipped the book inside his soutane. The artist had, however, noticed the act, and instantly interrupting the course of his conversation with the Cardinal, he asked permission of his Eminence to point out to him a thief. He then went up to Pamphili, tore open his soutane, and snatched the book from its hiding-place. What adds piquancy to the story—for the truth of which, or indeed of anything else coming from the gossiping abbe, it would be rash to vouch—is the fact that this same Monsignor Pamphili subsequently sat in the papal chair as Pope Innocent X.

THE ECONOMIC EFFECTS OF WAR.

War is, of course, economically, purely destructive. The men employed produce nothing; the engines prepared are useless, except for killing; the money expended is most of it consumed on objects which can yield no direct return. Enormous quantities of food are wasted in transport, domestic animals are used up in unproductive labor, and the men slain are necessarily among the strongest in the nation. Nevertheless, the economic loss of war is often not felt for a time; and it is probable that in the war supposed to be coming with Russia this will be the case to an unusual degree. It is by degrees that the economic effect of war comes to be felt, through the agency, usually, of taxation. No nation can throw away perhaps two years' revenue in one on unproductive effort without becoming gradually poorer—that is, without having less to spend in giving good wages to great multitudes of men. Suppose a war to cost fifty millions a year—and the American war cost 120 millions—though much of that is spent in wages, the whole is a loss, for even the wages are paid from the economic point of view, for doing nothing. When the war stops, therefore, there will be distress, great or little in proportion to the expenditure, but, great or little, equally inevitable, not to be kept off by any financial arrangement. It may be rendered short, of course, or even innocuous, by other causes such as a sudden discovery of a new and cheaper motor, which by reducing the energy to be expended on producing a result, positively aids to the national force, and therefore, to the national producing power, or by the opening up of new channels of industry; but, apart from these, there is no avoiding the economic consequence of war. War is waste; the nation pays for the waste by taxation, and therefore, every individual in the nation must, pro tanto, suffer. The particular war may be right, or unavoidable, or purely self-defensive, but one of its consequences must be this; and it is never wise to conceal what must inevitably happen.

A NEWSPAPER WITHOUT AN EDITOR.

A newspaper in Madrid, called the Correspondencia, is peculiar in its way. It has the largest circulation of any paper in the capital, reaching 200,000 to 300,000 a day. It has no editor, but a dozen wide-awake reporters, who scour the town for every kind of information. They come to the office and drop the manuscripts in a bag, and there they stay until the forman wants copy. Everything is then thrown into the forms without regard to order or anything else, and the paper is read from end to end in spite of this fact.

A Queen's Opinion.

J. M. Quesen writes from Johnston, Va., that he has been sorely afflicted for several years, but he was urged to try PERUNA, which he did, and he now feels that he is about over his trouble, and considers it the greatest medicine in the world. He says he has to go a distance of fifteen miles to obtain PERUNA, but it will repay him for this.

Ellwood Shalkross, former editor of the Saturday Journal, Wheeling, W. Va., says: "Gentlemen: Some time ago I was afflicted with a pain in my back in the region of the kidneys, and suffered considerably. Having read your advertisement, I went to Logan & Co., of this city, and purchased a bottle of PERUNA, which I took, and it resulted in the complete removal of the pain. I think I can safely recommend it as a superior panacea for pains."

Mr. Aaron Shreffler, Alma, Marion county, Ill., writes: "Dr. S. B. Hartman & Co., Columbus, O., Dear Sirs: Myself and wife have taken three bottles of your medicines and received much benefit by the use of them. My wife was troubled with neuralgia, headache and weak stomach. Her headache has not troubled her for the last two weeks, and her stomach is much better. She took only PERUNA. I used both medicines, and my general health is so much improved that I feel like a new man. My stomach is very much better, and the MANALIN keeps my bowels all right. We intend to keep taking the medicines until we are permanently cured."

Mr. Evans T. Jones, Prospect, Marion Co., O., says: "After having taken medicine from different physicians of this place without any relief, I was induced to try your PERUNA, which I purchased of Cook Bros., druggists, of this place, and after using some six bottles of the same, I feel very much benefited. Am sure it will finally cure an entire cure."

T. J. Ewing, Cattleburg, Ky., writes: "In the early part of last winter I contracted a severe cold, attended with a bad cough, then, being exposed during late fall, added to my disability. I have taken your PERUNA with good results. My cough has entirely left, soreness is gone, and am increasing in flesh."

Thomas Bradford, 314 Western Avenue, Allegheny City, Pa., writes: "I have had liver complaint for three years; I thought I would have to quit work; I have taken two bottles of your PERUNA, and am well."

S. Wolf & Son, Wilmot, Ohio, writes: "We handle your goods, and they give good satisfaction."

STONE IN THE KIDNEY.

Expelled After Using Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" Two Weeks.

One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public is that of Mr. J. B. Beach, of Stone Ridge, Ulster county, N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered since Oct. 18, 1874, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach paid hundreds of dollars for medical treatment, with only temporary relief from his agony.

By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," and experienced a marked improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine. On the 15th of September he voided a stone as large as he could pass through the natural channel.

Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying, "It will always afford me pleasure to recommend the 'Favorite Remedy' to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the kidney and bladder, or any disorders arising from impure state of the blood."

Wm. McKnew, 124 Fayette St., Baltimore, Md., says: "I believe 'Favorite Remedy' is a good medicine. It is doing me more good than anything I ever tried, and I have tried almost everything for I am a sufferer from dyspepsia." While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in Stomach and Bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels and all the class of ailments inseparable from the constitutions of women. Price, $1; six bottles, $5.

The Harpooner's Story.

NEW BEDFORD, June 1, 1885.

DR. J. C. AYER & Co.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it without any relief, I was induced to try your PERUNA, which I purchased of Cook Bros., druggists, of this place, and after using some six bottles of the same, I feel very much benefited. Am sure it will finally cure an entire cure."

T. J. Ewing, Cattleburg, Ky., writes: "In the early part of last winter I contracted a severe cold, attended with a bad cough, then, being exposed during late fall, added to my disability. I have taken your PERUNA with good results. My cough has entirely left, soreness is gone, and am increasing in flesh."

The Trooper's Experience.

MARSA MATRUH, (S. Africa), March 7, 1885.

DR. J. C. AYER & Co.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure to testify to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-scurvy." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, and gave up that. We recovered in a week, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T. K. DODD.

Trooper, Cape Mounted Riflemen.
