—It won't be many days until the stage coach between Centre Hall and Bellefonte will be among the things of the past—the opening of the railroad will do away with the coach. Years ago this was one of the liveliest stage routes in Central Pennsylvania, when coaches between Bellefonte and Lewistown were between Bellefonte and Lewistown were live my by four horses, and with oppositions.

—If blossoms indicate a good yield chestnuts will be plenty this year.

—The Bellefonte papers state that a few mornings since, before the snow had peeped over the eastern horizon. Major William F. Reynolds awoke in his bed, and, to his surprise, observed a man bending over his had and looking at him. The fellow evidently wanted to act as cashier for the cash ha expected on between Bellefonte and Lewistown were drawn by four horses, and with opposition coaches, passengers could ride between these two points for twenty-five cents. This was in the days of Bob Cummings, Mike Buoy and Woddy Graham. Now the Lewistown pike knows the stage coach no more, and the road is lonesome. The iron horse has come, and there is a revolution in the mode of travel—we go quicker, cheaper, and with more comfort. The landlord along the pike feels the change at the table and bar, but sees less change in his till. Even the ever-ready hostler sees his occupation disappearing, and pipes for watering horses are no more as plenty as rain drops.

A DISTRESSING CALAMITY.

Father and Mother Witness the Burning of Their Home, With Six of Their Children. Pittsburg, July 17 .- Last night about eleven o'clock the residence of John M. Evans, a small two-story log but, three miles from Grahamton, Clearfield county, was destroyed by fire, and six of his children, ranging in age from six to fifteen years, were cremated. Evans was awak-ened by a strange noise, and, under the impression that burglars were about took his gun and went outside to investigate. To his horror he discovered his humble dwelling in flames. He quickly gave the alarm, but before he could reach his children, who were sleeping on the second floor, the roof fell in, and in a few minutes the building was ablaze. His wife and three young children were sleeping on the lower floor and were taken out safely, but the parents were forced to see the others perish. The next morning the intelligence of the fearful calamity spread rapidly throughout the county, and hundreds were soon drawn to the scene. The mangled remains of four of the children, charred and unrecognizable, were gathered up and buried in one coffin. The other two were apparently reduced to ashes, as no trace of their remains could be found.

MIND YOUR P'S.

Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, and not follow the example of the man who had been taking the county papers for many years without paying one cent for them, for the pecuniary prospects of the press have a peculiar power in pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly and his pocket book kept olethoric by prompt paying patrons, he puts his pen to his paper in peace, his paragraphs are more pointed, he paints the pictures of passing events in more pleasing colors, and the perusal of his paper is a pleasure to the people. Paste this piece of proverbial philosophy some place where all persons can see it.

a Train's Bafety.

Philadelphia, July 19 .- George Murphy, engineer of the express train that left Atlantic City at 6:45 o'clock yesterday morning, lost his life in a smash-up at Franklinville by remaining at his post instead of jumping, when he saw the danger. One hundred and fifty passengers undoubtedly owe their safety to his bravery. The fireman, John McClintock, also stayed by the engine. He was thrown about thirty feet, but was only slightly injured. The train was going at a high speed and struck an open switch, on which the engine came in collision with a lumber car. Engineer Murphy put on the air-brakes and threw open the throttle, but was buried under his engine. He sustained a compound fracture of the skull, a broken jaw, a compound fracture of the right leg, be sides several internal injuries, and died in a few minutes. He was a married man and lived in Camden. The Pullman car, which was next to the engine, turned around, its hind trucks being left on the track. The occupants were badly shaken up, but none were seriously hurt. The passengers of the smoking car were compelled to climb out of the windows. The balance of the train remained on the track.
