What Sporting Men Rely On.

When Lewis R. Bedmond, the South Carolina moonshiner, cornered, after for eight years eluding the government officials, was asked to surrender, he exclaimed :

"Never to men who fire at my back!" Before he was taken, five bullets had gone clear through him, but strange to relate, he got well, in the hands of a rude backwoods' nurse,

By the way, if Garfield had been in the hands of a backwoods nurse, he might have lived. A heap of volunteer testimony against the infallibility of the physicians has been accumulating of late, and people are encouraged to do their own doctoring more and more. It is cheaper and quite as certain.

Before Detective Curtin of Buffalo eaught Tom Ballard he "covered" him with his revolver. Tom saw the point and tumbled !

Joe Goss was "covered" a few weeks ago and he tumbled, and so did Dan Mace. Death "fetched em" with that The drink will be found strong and dreaded weapon-kidney disease. But exhilarating. they should have been lively and drawn first. They could easily have disarmed the monster had they covered him with that dead shot-Warner's safe cure, which, drawn promptly, always takes the prey. It is doubtless true that sporting men dread this enemy more whiting, and rub the plated ware. Let than any mishap of their profession, and presumably this explains why they newspapers. as a rule are so partial to that celebrated "dead shot."

Redmond was right. No man should surrender when attacked in the back. He should "draw," face about and proceed to the defence, for such attacks, so common among all classes, will fetch a man every time, unless "covered" by that wonderfully successful "dead shot."-Sportsman's News.

WASHING THE FACE. - There are some who object to washing the face often, especially with soap, thinking this an injury to the complexion. But those who have made a specialty of skin diseases say no part of the body needs soap so much; that the face, being exposed to dust, collects so much. it is not enough to wash it in clear water. They say if soap makes the face shiny, as so many claim, it only shows that it is the more needed, and that the work of drying after the bath has not been properly performed. The face, however, should not be wet immediately, before or after going out. Its most thorough ablution should be performed at night, before going to bed, and the following method should be observed in the process: Fill a basin with soft warm water, lather a medium-sized sponge with good soap, and wash the face carefully. Then take fresh water, without soap, and wash again with the hands, and rub thoroughly with a Turkish or crash towel until the face is dry and tingling. This will do much toward improving and preserving the complexion; and the little vexations black spots, called "flesh
