

PROFITABLE HO BITTERS.

Interview with Mr. Wilson Soule on the Benefits of Newspaper Advertising.

Mr. Wilson Soule, Secretary and Treasurer of the Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company, has been spending the last two days here, arranging his advertising matters, and was interviewed by a UNION reporter at Mr. H. P. Hubbard's office, as to the results and the worth of newspaper advertising.

In the Spring of 1878 they placed an advertising order of $40,000 with Mr. Hubbard, using THE UNION and other first-class mediums. The results were sales of $107,000. They increased the advertising the following year to $100,000, the sales to $360,000. The next year they spent $120,000, with $480,000 sales, and the next year the expenditure was slightly increased, as also the sales.

The Hop Bitters Company now have besides their parent house at Rochester, N. Y., manufacturing plants at Toronto, Canada; London, England; Paris, France; Antwerp, Belgium; Breda, Holland; and Melbourne, Australia. Their sales in Europe are very satisfactory indeed, it costing a little more to manufacture there, on account of duties, but Australia seems to be an Eldorado for them. He said that one dollar spent there brings them as much return as $5 spent in this country. He added that the results, both in this country and abroad, had far exceeded their most sanguine expectations.

He gave a large part of the credit to the proper and judicious placing of their advertising by Mr. Hubbard, who does all their advertising business here and abroad, saying, "we consider results the proper measure of a man's work." Mr. Soule is a young man about thirty, compactly built, and evidently enjoys the best of health. He and his father, Mr. Asa T. Soule, are the sole proprietors of the company. In addition to other investments they have nearly a quarter of a million dollars in an irrigating canal in Southwestern Kansas, which promises to be a perfect bonanza. From the fact that while they have a reasonably fair amount of rain, in that section of the State there seems to be a time of two or three weeks in the middle of the Summer when the farmers must have water or their entire crops will perish. The main canal is over ninety miles long, and, with its laterals, will cover several thousand square miles of country.

FACETIE.

It was a Cass avenue car. Two young ladies were standing directly in front of a morbidly eccentric man who had not once looked at them or offered them a seat. One of them stepped on his foot, which had no business to be there anyhow, and maintained her position. Then he looked at the other passengers and asked aloud: "Why am I like a character in an old nursery rhyme?" Nobody answered, although all were dying to know. "Because," said the eccentric man as he settled back in his ill gotten seat, "I have belies on my toes."

DUMLEY came into the dining room and, casting a sweeping glance over the table, jammed down into his chair and muttered under his breath: "Liver again, of course. We've had liver every morning for two weeks." "What's the matter, Mr. Dumley?" asked the landlady; "an't you feeling well this morning?" "No, madam," he replied, shortly, "I am suffering with the liver complaint."

Mrs. MINKS—"What has become of your beautiful parrot?" Mrs. FINKS—"I sold it." Mrs. MINKS—"Why, what for?" Mrs. FINKS—"It's got to using such horrible insolent language. Whenever he saw my back turned he would yell: 'You horrid old thing!' 'You old cat,' 'You stuck up old curmudgeon,' and the most awful things you can think of."

WESTERN OLD FAMILIES.—First Western Dame—"I beg your pardon, Mrs. Blank, but when it comes to first families I think I am the one to boast." Second Western Dame—"You, indeed. Why this city was already a village when your ancestors arrived."

MINKS—"Why, where have you been old boy? Haven't seen you about for some time." FINKS—"No, I am no longer connected with the firm of Ward & Ward."

MINKS—"What has happened?" FINKS—"I got to thinking very deeply on the subject, and concluded I would never again have anything to do with Wall Street." MINKS—"You don't say so!" FINKS—"Yes, I have returned and started a faro bank."

MABEL—"Yes, the key of C is my favorite. I hate sharps and flats." Augustus—"I thought you were above being influenced by the color line."

MABEL—"The color line! what do you mean?" Augustus—"You said you hated sharps and flats, did you not?" MABEL—"Yes, but what has that to do with the color line?" Augustus—"According to your own admission you dislike dark-eyes."

A BIG awkward Straddle came down the street with its hat cocked over one eye and its hands in its trousers' pockets. "Where are you going to spend the Summer?" asked a mudhole, looking up from a crosswalk. "I was going to take a little run around the resorts on a bicycle, but I just happened to think I have a couple of appointments here in Chicago next month and the month after." "What to do?" "Oh, the two big political parties have got to get up platforms, you know."

The Washington Post says: We admire the stand taken by numerous eminent physicians in changing the mode of treatment of coughs and colds, and publicly endorsing Red Star Cough Cure because it is efficacious, free from dangerous ingredients and without morphia or opium. This excellent remedy costs but twenty-five cents.

Aim at a specialty in business. "Blood Purifiers" and "Invigorators," "Tonics," and "Alteratives," have been palmed off upon the people, but, after a brief season of experiment, have disappeared because of their utter worthlessness. Dr. Walker's famous VINEGAR BITTERS are not of this class. Many million bottles have been sold, and still does the demand continue to increase.

Small leaks sink great ships. There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by SCOVILL'S SASSAPARILLA, or BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, for all diseases of the blood, when the patient had been given up by physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by all leading professional men.

CONSUMPTION CURED. An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, the name of the remedy, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail on receipt of stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOX, 241 Foster's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

A Flat Contradiction. Some one has told you that your catarrh is incurable. It is not so. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure it. It is pleasant to use and it always does its work thoroughly. We have yet to hear of a case in which it did not accomplish a cure when faithfully used. Catarrh is a disease which is dangerous to neglect. A certain remedy is at your command. It is less pain to learn in youth than to be ignorant in age. The Cause of Consumption. Scrofula, manifesting itself in blotches, pimples, eruptions, salt-rheum, and other blemishes of the skin, is but too apt by and by to infect the delicate tissues of the lungs also, and result in consumption. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will meet and vanquish the enemy in its stronghold of the blood and cast it out of the system. All druggists.

The tongue has no bones, but the tongue breaks bones. ONE of my children, a girl about nine years old, had a very bad discharge from the head and nose of a thick yellowish matter, and was growing worse. We had two different physicians prescribe for her, but without benefit. We tried Ely's Cream Balm, and much to our surprise in three days there was a marked improvement. We continued using the Balm and in a short time the discharge was apparently cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Despair has ruined some, but presumption multitudes. To thoroughly cure scrofula, it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid.

HOUSEHOLD. CHICKEN fried with salt pork: After a very tender chicken is cleaned and cut up, roll the pieces in flour seasoned with salt and pepper; slice half a pound of fat salt pork in thin slices, put it into a frying-pan and fry it brown; then take it up and keep it hot; put the chicken into the drippings and fry it brown. When the chicken is brown cover it with boiling water, season the gravy palatibly with salt and pepper, let it boil for a moment, and then serve the chicken and fried pork on the saucet-dish, sending the gravy to the table in a bowl.

POTATO FRITTERS.—Burst open four finely baked potatoes; scoop out the insides with a spoon and mix with them a wineglass of cream, a tablespoonful of powdered sugar, the juice of one lemon and three well-beaten eggs; beat the batter several minutes, or until it is quite smooth, and drop large tablespoonfuls of the mixture into boiling fat and fry a light brown; dust powdered sugar over them and send to the table on a hot dish.

To POLISH PLATE GLASS.—To polish plate glass and remove light scratches, rub the surface gently first with a clean pad of fine cotton wool, and afterward with a similar pad covered over with cotton velvet which has been charged with fine rouge. The surface will, under this treatment, acquire a polish of great brilliancy, quite free from any scratches.

INDIAN SUEET PUDDING.—One-half pound suet chopped fine, one cup molasses, one pint milk, one egg, meal to make a very thin batter, teaspoonful ground cloves, teaspoonful ground cinnamon, one teaspoonful salt, a little nutmeg, a few currants or chopped raisins. Boil or steam three hours. Serve with sauce.

If you wish to pour boiling hot liquid into a glass jar or tumbler it can be safely done by putting a spoon in the dish before you pour, but a draught of cold air must not reach it.

BOOKS FOR THE GUEST CHAMBER.

—At one time I was staying in a house where the guest chamber contained among the furniture a little shelf of books. I have often thought of them since, with wonder that more careful hostesses did not provide the same. Nights when I could not sleep, and mornings when I waited in my room for the breakfast bell, I dipped into the contents—a volume or two of poems, some short stories and interesting travels comprised the whole—and I found not the least pleasant part of my visit in those quiet moments by the window that overlooked the great old-fashioned garden. Any housekeeper could spare six or eight books from her library, and almost any guest would bless her for the thought. A little work-basket fully stocked; pen, ink and paper ready to hand; the visitor's cards neatly as much for these as for fresh towels and extra coverings. The Golden Rule, which is a guide to all branches of good house-keeping, as to all branches of business, comes to one's aid here, and what we care most for in another's home we should endeavor to give the comer to our own.

For General Debility, Physical Weakness, etc., Hildebrand's Homeopathic Specific No. 24, has obtained a wide sale and deserved popularity. To encourage sleep, create an appetite, brace up the system, and to purify the blood, take the unfailing Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy.

OLD-FASHIONED CHICKEN POT PIE.—Cut the chicken as for a fricassee. Chop a quarter pound of salt pork, and with it cover the bottom of a wide-mouthed, rather shallow pot. Next lay in the pieces of chicken; sprinkle with minced onion, and just cover with cold water. Over this lay a thick biscuit crust, pretty short. Stew one hour and a half, and then cut by holding a red-hot shovel close to the crust, or if you have a stove cover that fits the pot heat this very hot and fit it on, leaving it five minutes or so, the pot being drawn to the side of the stove, where it will be hot without boiling. Now lift the crust out with a fork and cake-turner, and cover to keep warm. Take out the chicken and set over boiling water. Add a little boiling water to the gravy, thicken with a tablespoonful of browned flour, season with pepper, salt and parsley, and boil one minute. Then put in square or strips of pie crust, cook gently ten minutes, arrange the chicken on a flat dish, lay the dumplings on it, pour the gravy over them and cover with the crust.

THE USE OF THE SPONGE.—A sponge makes the best of mustard carriers. The nurse mixes the mustard in a basin of water until the mass is smooth and of even consistency. Then she takes the soft mass all up with a clean sponge, lays the sponge in the center of a soft white handkerchief, ties up the corners of the handkerchief neatly to form a ball, and applies the smooth convex surface to the surface of the skin. This mustard sponge warmed again by the fire and slightly moistened, can be applied three or four times, is good for several hours, and saves the trouble of making a new poultice for re-application, often a matter of importance during the weariness of night-watching. The sponge can afterward easily be washed clean in warm water.
