[Cleveland, O., Herald.] Yesterday and the day before we copied into our columns from the Rochester, N. Y., "Democrat and Chroalole," a remarkable statement, made by J. B. Henion, M. D., a gentleman who is well-known in this city. In that article Dr. Henion recounted a wonderful experience which befell him, and the next day we published from the same paper a second article, giving an account of the excitement in Rochester, and elsewhere, caused by Dr. Henion's statement. It is doubtful if any two caused greater commotion both among professionals and laymen.

Since the publication of these two articles, having been besieged with letters of inquiry, we sent a communication to Dr. Henion and also to H. H. Warner & Co., asking if any additional proof could be given, and here it is:

GENTLEMEN: I owe my life and present health wholly to the power of Warner's Safe Cure, which snatched me from the very brink of the grave. It is not surprising that people should question the statement I made (which is true in every respect) for my recovery was as great a marvel to myself, as to my physicians, and friends. * * * J. B. HENION, M. D.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 21. Sies. The best proof we can give you that the statements made by Dr. ence of his fellow members of the city Henion are entirely true, and would not government: "Every night I get down have been published unless strictly so, is the following testimonial from the best citizens of Rochester, and a card published by Rev. Dr. Foote. H. H. WARNEH & Co.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

We are personally or by reputation acquainted with Dr. Henion, and we believe he would publish no statement not literally true. We are also personally or by reputation well acquainted with H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of Warner's Safe Cure, (by which Dr. Henion says he was cured) whose commercial and personal standing in this community are of the highest order, and we believe that they would not publish any statements which were not literally and strictly true in every particular.

D., narrating how he had been cured of Bright's disease of the kidneys, almost in its last stages, by the use of Warner's Safe Cure. I was referred to in that statement, as having recommended and urged Dr. Henion to try the remedy, which he did, and was cured. The statement of Dr. Henion is true, se far as it concerns myself, and I believe it to be true in all other respects. He was a parishioner of mine and I visited him in his sickness. I urged him to take the medicine and would do the same again to any one who was troubled with a disease of the kidneys and liver. ISRAEL FOOTE, (D. D.)

It seems impossible to doubt further in the face of such conclusive proof,

FACETIÆ.

An old farmer had business in a sash, door and blind shop in Elmira the other day, and his son, a boy of 16, who had never seen much of the elephant, went in with him. Realizing that he must have some curiosity in regard to the machinery, the old man observed:

"Now, Henry, this is a planer, and it isn't running; that is a jig saw, and it isn't under motion; over there is a rip saw, and she isn't ripping; here is a buzz saw, and it is going. You hear me Henry! this 'ere buzz saw is going."

"All right, dad!" was the response, and the boy was left to look around while the old man went upstairs.

When he came down five minutes later, Henry was dancing around as if he had tacks in his boots, and about an inch of one of his fingers was lying in the sawdust.

What is it?" shouted the old man. 'Finger off!" howled the boy. 'You infernal pumpkin-head, didn't I tell you that buzz saw was going?"

"Yes, dad, but where was she going to? You didn't tell me that!" "THAT was a bad accident on your road yesterday," he said to the President of a Southern railroad corporation.

"How?" 'Why, seven or eight people were "Oh, yes, I believe something of the

A MAN who was trying to make a sadly worn dress coat and a pair of articles were ever published which frayed-out cuffs hold him up against the blizzard, the other day, got a bad fall in crossing Union Square. When he picked himself up, he looked over the ground so carefully that a pedestrian halted and asked:

"Did you lose anything?" "I'm looking for a dollar bill," was the reply.

"Sure you dropped it?" "Oh, no; but I'm certain that if there was one anywhere about my clothes, that jar must have shaken it out where I can lay hands on iti"

AFTER all, there is nothing more admirable in a public man than the courage of his religion convictions and practices. Remarkable Escape. John Kuhs, of Lafayette, Ind., had a very narrow escape from death. This is his own story: "One year ago I was in the last stages of Consumption. Our best physicians gave my case up. I finally got so low that our doctor said I could not live twenty-four hours. My friends then purchased a bottle of DR. WM. HALL'S BAL-SAM FOR THE LUNGS, which benefited me. I continued until I took nine bottles. I am now in perfect health having used no other medicine."

At one time glass surpassed gold, not only in value as a material, but in forms of vases and drinking vessels wrought into various patterns by means of wheels and points. An article of the kind was considered a worthy present for a king. Glass-carving is a branch of the art of carving precious stones begun by the lapidary savage, and improved with more or less ability by workers in archaic times and earliest civilizations. In the Greekand Roman periods, when the glyptic art was encouraged as a whole, carving on glass may be said to have reached its zenith. Perhaps it is to the later Greeks and Romans that we are indebted for the finest work of the kind, Colored glasses were generally preferred to glass of only one color for carving; and at the present time cameo work, or relievo in one color, or more than one, upon ground of a different color, is growing in favor of the educated and wealthy at home and abroad. To England is due the honor of reviving the art of carving

Asphalt paper is likely to become of great use in many ways. In thin sheets it is useful for wrapping silks or other fabrics that need protection from moisture, for lining cases or packing boxes for pianos, etc., or rolled up into pipes for conveying water. Asphalt tubes are only one-fifth the weight of iron, will not rust, and are quite tough and strong. The tubes are simply sheets of paper of a peculiar quality dipped in melted asphalt, and then rolled upon a cylinder. A machine for preparing the asphalt wrapping paper consists of a hollow cylinder, heated by steam, and a wedge-shaped box containing the bot asphalt. The box has a narrow slit the width of the paper, and as the paper passes a thin layer of asphalt is distributed on the paper just before it passes the cylinder.

During the last two years, the Nature reports, several Celtic tumuli in the district of Geinberg, in Upper Austria, have been opened and found to contain valuable relics of prehistoric times. Recently a similar tumulus was discovered at Mattigholen, in the same neighborhood, and among its contents was found a diadem of pure gold richly carved in the well-known style of old Celtic art.
