Mr. Harper was a native of Miles twp and hailed from an old, well-known and respectable family of near Rebersburg. He was a brother of the Harpers, merchants, at Bellefonte, and of our townsbor, kind to all he met-always ready to do a favor, and never disposed to injure the feelings of any one. He was the father of ex-prothonotary J. C. Harper. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss. On Sunday following his death, at 8 a.m., the funeral left the residence of the deceased for Rebersburg, where the burial took place, amid a very large concourse of people from all sections of Brushvalley. We can safely say that Mr. Harper died without an enemy.

DEATH OF MRS. D. GARMAN. One of the most sudden deaths, as well as the saddest, took place Wednesday afternoon, calling to her reward Mrs. Louisa, the highly esteemed wife of Daniel Garman. Mrs. Garman's maiden name was Schroyer. She was born at Rhule living Milton, Nov. 15, 1834, and died August 4, 1886, making her age 52 years. She was married to Mr. Garman in 1856, and leaves, besides her husband, nine children-7 sons and 2 daughters-as well as three sisters and four step-brothers, to mourn her sudden demise. The children are as follows, in order of their ages: Edwin F., Allen S., Ira D., Cornie M., Minnie B., William A., Rebecca B., C. Bruce and Robert T.

The cause of Mrs. Garman's death was cholera morbus. She took sick Monday ger. morning and grew worse from that time until death relieved her sufferings at 3:10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.-Ga-

NIVERSARY.

The people of Aaronsburg celebrated their one hundredth anniversary on last Saturday evening. In the year 1786 Aaron Levy, a Jew, bought a tract of land, laid it out in town lots and named it Aaronsburg, which title it bears to-day. The idea of celebrating their centennial anniversary was discussed for some time and seemed as if no agreenent could be reached until finally the natter was taken in hand by the mempers of the Lutheran congregation of that place. They made a special is entitled to credit for having added so Senatorial conferees: J H effort to collect all the relics and me-imposing and enduring an example to Reynolds, Joseph Gilliland. mentoes of the early settlers of Aaronsourg and vicinity.
