THE TICKET.

The Democratic county convention

the ticket is a good and strong one.

In again nominating Gov. Curtin for congress, in spite of the great war gov-(r lor's declination, the Demogracy but the eminent service he has been in the national legislature. We know he can sland another term, and we know the him. He has been an honor to the 20 district and the state.

For state senator Hon. P. G. Meek had a unanimous endorsement. His acquaintance with state politics and state affairs in general, fit him for the position. His bristling Democracy deserved the recognition bestowed, and if nominated by the conference he will go in without any obstacle, and we would be pleased to see the sentor fall to Centre and our editorial brother.

Messis. Woodward and Rhone came in for a unanimous re-nomination. This endorsement is entitled to the fallest support from the Democratic voters, and they will no doubt receive it. They are both farmers, and will work in the interest of that important class of our people. Both are possessed of large intelligence and will stand by the interests of their constituents upon all questions, and seek to legislate for the general good.

For Prothonotary Louis A. Shafer was nominated on the first ballot by so large a vote that it was simply a virtual ratification of the will of the masses previously expressed. Mr. Shafer is a young man of fine attainments and most excellent character. He hails from one of the best families of Walker township farmers whose Democracy is of the first water and whose influence has been felt in Democratic politics in this county since its formation. No family has a better Democratic record than the Shafer family, and when we take its numbers and long service into consideration, none has received less recognition than the Shafers. But, all this aside, Lew Shafer, our nominee, must stand on his own merits, and here is where the Democracy can point with pride to their man-sterlingworth. temperate, spotless character, and eminently possessed of every qualification to fill the office of prothonotary, speaking German and English, all taken together, make his fitness so apparent that many Republicans think there should be no nomination against him. What we say of Lew is not overdrawn and falls even below the worth of the man.

For district attorney we have J. C. Meyer, by acclamation. Our nominee is a rising young Democrat who will be of future service to the party. He is fully competent for the place, and is a young man of excellent repute. It will bother the Republicans to match him, and he will go in by an over whelming majority over any nominee pitted against him.

For county surveyor we have that live Democratic worker of Millheim, John H. Reifenyder, who has always been true and at his post through sunshine and rain. As a surveyor he ranks among the best in this part of the state and his large acquaintance with our territory, lines and boundaries, make bim a most fit man for the place. His nomination by acclamation was a deserved compliment.

Now, fellow Democrats, above is a ticket to be proud of. Give it your earn-
