Merchants' Place, Bellefonte. D. GARMAN & SON.

DEATH OF D. G. BUSH.

The people of our county were startled on Thursday morning of last week, by the death of D. G. Bush, of Bellefonte, who was the most enterprising citizen of our county without any exception. We copy from the Watchman:

The death of D. G. Bush, Esq., which occurred at his residence in this place on Thursday morning, of a complication of diseases which have kept him in poor health for several years, removes from our midst one of the biggest hearted, most liberal-minded and enterprising citizens this section of the State has ever had. In his death Bellefonte loses one who has done more to build up the town, to enlarge its business facilities, to add to its real wealth, and to improve in every way than all its other capitalists combined. It loses a citizen whom every one respected; a neighbor who was loved by all; a man who needed no seals or written contracts to require him to keep his word; whose integrity was above suspicion, and whose liberality in public enterprises others might feel proud to emulate.

Mr. Bush was a few months past sixty years of age. He was born in Bradford county, this State, and during early life earned a living as a farm hand. His education [with the exception of two terms at an academy] was obtained in the public schools of his native county. At the age of twenty he entered the law office of Ulysses Mercur, now Judge of the Supreme Court of the State, as a student at law, where he remained but a year, leaving that to follow the profession of teaching. While at this work he became an agent for the sale of Pelton's outline maps, the general agency of which was shortly afterwards tendered to and accepted by him—a position held until he settled in Bellefonte in 1856 to complete his preparations for the bar. In 1857 he was admitted and began the practice of law. This he followed with his usual energy for a few years, when he turned his attention more particularly to the real estate business, in which he continued to be engaged until his own estate grew to that extent that it required his entire time and attention.

He leaves a widow and three children—two sons and a daughter, to mourn the loss of a loving husband and an indulgent father.

LOCAL ITEMS.

We hear that chestnuts are very plenty on the mountain this year. Every body in Bellefonte eats peanuts. They are cheap, you know. What benefit did the G. A. R. get from the last two entertainments held? A new bridge was put over Elk creek on the pike leading from Coburn to Millheim. The special delivery system will be extended to post offices on the first of next month.

Gathering chestnuts on Sunday is regularly indulged in by the small boys of our town. Don't do it boys. Joseph Garber is the name of the young man killed at Scotia mines instead of "Frank" as stated in our last issue.

Rev. Land will administer the Lord's supper in the Reformed church, of this place, on Sabbath morning, Oct. 10th.

No frosts thus far and the leaves seem to have made up their minds to change color without the help of Jack Frost.

Rev. G. W. Carrin, formerly pastor of the Evangelical church of this place, now at Williamsport, popped in to see us on Tuesday.

The train frightened a horse at the depot last week and wrecked the buggy badly. We could not ascertain whose conveyance it was.

This being synod week here chickens are getting restless. Such as are not cote enough to roost high are in danger of being gunned.

On last Wednesday evening two young men drove from Bellefonte to this place, and collided with a telephone pole, wrecking their buggy.

Messrs VanPelt, Sandoe Mingle and Rhone of this place were down at Bald Eagle creek last week after black bass, and report a good catch.

The entertainments given by the Clymer family for the benefit of the G. A. R. were well patronized. Have not heard how much the Post realized.

Butter is getting scarce in this valley just now. Perhaps the Spring Mills creamery will fill up the gap. But if it is all shipped to the city folks, what then?

The Lewistown Sentinel says creamery butter is now retailed here at 20 cents a pound. If the ratio of increase is continued, we wonder what the price will beat Christmas time.

We are sorry to learn that our old friend, Wm. From, of Tusseyville, was taken seriously ill, the other day. Moses Richard returned home sick on Saturday from Harris town.

The Presbytery of Huntingdon will hold its next meeting in the Presbyterian church near Arch Springs, commencing on Thursday, October 5, and continue in session two days.

A number of dwelling houses are being erected along the pike this side of Bellefonte. We presume they are being built for the accommodation of the employes of the new iron company.

Henry Boozer and D. C. Keller, of this place, left on Tuesday morning for the South-western part of Ohio, where they expect to buy a lot of cattle and ship to Centre Hall for butchering.

State College base ball team would like to play the Centre Hall team a game some day next week. They expect to play Altoona League team a game before long and desire to have a practice game beforehand.

We are told that our Presbyterian brethren contemplate the erection of a house of worship at this place in the near future. Another spire would make outsiders believe that our little community is composed of God fearing people. And so it is.

Joseph Croizer, long a farmer resident of Potter twp., will leave the farm formerly owned and still occupied by him, next spring and take possession of a farm near Egg Hill. We are sorry to lose so esteemed a citizen of this neighborhood.

The mail-route from Centre Hall to Potter's Mills will hereafter take in Tusseyville—making the route Centre Hall, Centre Hill, Tusseyville and Potter's Mills, with daily mail. This puts the Loop section within convenient mail facilities and is only an act of justice to the large population in that locality.

The Millheim knitting factory, we are pleased to learn, is a settled matter so far as home backing is concerned. This is creditable to the spirit of enterprise in our neighboring town. In some places there are folks who fight any improvements that are projected. If the knitting factory is started it will employ to 50 hands to start with and prospect of increasing the force to 100 at the end of a year. Now that's an item for a town like Millheim and we hope the enterprise will not fall through.

There is one drawback on all industries in this county. The railroad freights are so high as to operate seriously against our business men who are regular shippers. We can't compete with outsiders who seem to be favored in this regard. Centre county people have contributed heavily to the railroads; Pennsylvania alone gave $240,000. We think we might be favored a little in return by a lessening of freight charges which would ultimately benefit the railroad company by an increase in shipments.

WILL DIG FOR COAL.

Some of the citizens of Brushvalley are of the opinion that coal deposits exist beneath them in large quantities. Old miners and experts have expressed the same opinion. Some years ago two miners from the anthracite region, with their families, came to the valley and began operations, but on account of lack of funds were unable to carry on their search. The general appearance of the land and the nature of the rock and soil, we are told, give good indications of coal deposits. These facts were given us by an old resident and if true, as we hope, Brushvalley would be in for a big boom. Land would bring fabulous prices; railroad companies would soon extend their lines through that rich agricultural district and employment be found for many hands. The only way to settle the matter is to make a thorough examination, and one of the well-to-do farmers down there tells us he will sink a shaft with this object in view at the mountain on the north side of the valley.

Lewis of the Philad. Branch is the man who brought down the prices of ready-made clothing in this county. He deserves your most liberal support for it. Hundreds of dollars are saved every year by the people of this county in the purchase of clothing, and you can thank Lewis for it.

The Spracetown M. E. church festival was well patronized on Saturday evening; quite a large number attended from Centre Hall. The Tusseyville band discoursed fine music. The proceeds of the festival were about $112, leaving a handsome profit of near $80 for the church.

A jury to view damages by L. & T. railroad passing through farms of Michael and Wm. Grove, in Beaver twp., last week awarded Michael Grove $1270 and Wm. Grove $1618. On the farm of A. J. Shively, thro' which the Buffalo Run road passes, the jury awarded $120 damages.

Gen. John Patton will be the Republican nominee for congress in this district, he having already received a majority of the counties by instruction. We would advise the Republicans to put Col. Coburn on; Jim has always stood up to the party work and his party owes him a little recognition, sure.

The widow of Daniel Reed, now having her home with her son Jacob at Aaronsburg, a few days ago broke a leg near the hip, by falling from a chest. Mrs. Reed is a sister of the aged Wm. Tobias of this town, and one of the oldest women in the eastern end of the valley. The fracture may prove fatal.

Foster, the big New York scamp arrested last week for his numerous rascalities, as banker, dealer in general merchandise, etc., who victimized scores of dealers in all parts of the county, tried his game on the Centre Hall roller mill, which he attempted to beat out of a car-load of patent flour about two months ago, but was foiled in his work.

There is a great rush to Ed. Powers' shoe store, where the stock of the firm of Powers & Son is being sold off at reduced prices. We are informed the best bargains yet offered are to be had there, and that the stock comprises an assortment of everything in the line of boots and shoes needed by men, women and children of all classes, and all in goods that can be warranted.

Sam'l Sloop's house has got on its pins and will be under roof soon. The cellar for Wolf's new house, Will Flory's house, and one or two others, are under way. The Luth. parsonage is being beautified with a nice new porch—D. F. Luse engineering the job.

J. T. Lee has steady employment in the Bellefonte buggy shops where a good assistant was required; he manages to go to Centre Hall for "over Sunday." Moses Richard has a job on a new house near Linden Hall. Will Curry will soon pour his lap stones and solve in the bank building.

A FAIR GROUND.

The Reporter's allusion last week to having agricultural fairs again in this county has received favorable comment in various quarters. Gen. Beaver, among others, takes favorably to it and thinks the ground near the railroad, a short distance above Centre Hall would be admirably suited for a fairground with a half mile trotting course. This spot has the surface evenness required hence there would be no serious expense for grading a race course; the bulk of expense would be price of ground, buildings, and fencing.

If the land can be purchased at its real market value, the cost of the ground required should not run over $1,200. Lumber, hardware and labor are cheap, hence buildings and sheds could be erected for far less money than at any period in the last thirty years. We believe with $6000 ready cash to start on a good enough beginning could be made for the first year's fair, and have no indebtedness, and leave the proceeds of the fair for any needed additions.

The railroad running right to the ground would make it so convenient for people from both sides of the county to unload stock, machinery and lunch baskets, that there would undoubtedly be a credible display and with excursion trains a larger attendance than at our county fairs of the past.

We have a great county—rich in its agricultural products, coal, iron, lumber, manufactures, etc., yet we have no annual fair to display our greatness—our light is hid under a bushel, while all around us poorer counties give a splendid showing of what they have and our people must go away from home if they wish to see a fair.

Fairs have done a vast deal to stimulate our agricultural interests and benefit the farmers, each one wishes to make the best showing he can, and what tends to build up our agricultural interests betters the interests of the merchant, mechanic and laboring man. The agricultural interest is the ground work of all. Hence the farmers and all other classes, even the dude, are interested in this matter. It is really an easy matter to accomplish.

Who will join to put it through and have a fair for a starter next year? How many shares of stock will you take, say at $20 a share, or how much will you donate? Let's hear from all parts of the county. Give us your opinions and ideas and we will print them. Whenever a sufficient nucleus has formed steps can be taken to secure articles of incorporation and go on. Speak right out.

Mr. John Campbell, a lumberman, was killed in the neighborhood of Chery Run on Thursday last. He was on a truck coming down the tram road, when it jumped the track, throwing him against a tree, breaking his neck, as his leg above the knee, as well as mashing the leg from the knee down, resulting in his death. He was native of Maine and, not having been home for five years, intended leaving for Maine on the 29th inst.—Millfiling Telegraph.

Woodward still continues to have some little earthquake disturbances in a social way, and Esq. Reinhart is using his legal discretion to keep down the feelings of the folks when the little earthquakes occur. In the matter of Wm. Elinger, of whose pranks we previously mentioned, according to our latest information, he has not yet been arrested, and seems to still hold the fort in the mountains near Woodward and that he was actually seen in his house on Sunday of last week. If there is no other remedy, suppose Col. J. Wilson Norris be stationed at Woodward—the hero of the battle of Gettysburg surely could make very short work with Elinger and have an additional feather in his cap for auditor general.

On October 12, for the accommodation of its patrons, the Pennsylvania railroad company will run a special return train Bellefonte to Coburn and intermediate points, after the evening performance, leaving Bellefonte at 10:30 p. m. and arriving at Coburn at 11:50 p. m.

Special excursion tickets including admission to the show, will be sold at the following rates: Lemont, $.86 Oak Hall, .33 Linden Hall, 1.01 Centre Hall, 1.23 Rising Spring, 1.46 Coburn, 1.73

GRAND RALLY AT BELLEFONTE—WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 6. Black, Ricketts, Speer and Wallace will discuss the issues. Let all turn out, Democrats and Republicans, and hear the ablest men of the state. There will be an excursion from Coburn, and all along the line.

THE LITTLE GIANT Fence Loom, only $35, is the first perfect machine, and fully covered by patents issued in 1884. It is the simplest and easiest worked, having no bed platforms to haul about or stake down, or levers, ratchets, or clap-traps to get out of order. The wires can be stretched the full length of fence desired, before commencing to weave.

It will weave with wire, two, three, four or five double strands, of No. 8 to No. 16 wire, and any size pockets, from common building lath to those two inches thick, and any width. See adv. in another column.

DIED. On Thursday morning, Sept. 23, Mrs. Cyrus W. Hunter, of Stormstown, aged 29 years, 1 month and 20 days. Consumption was the dread disease which caused her death.

COBURN ITEMS.

W. H. Kremer, and Mr. Katherman, of your place, returned home on Sunday evening, and report having a good time in general. Mr. Kremer says he don't care about driving to Mahanoy City again, its rather slow travelling.

I noticed in your last week's issue that VanValin had started his distillery. That is a mistake, they won't start till after the 1st of October, then no doubt some will come down this way to fish. It is a mistake that there was a good working Democrat in our township, he is working, but it is hard against Shaffer. This is altogether wrong.

Harvey Ulrich is seriously ill with typhoid fever. Miss Brown of Sugar Valley, is visiting at Jacob Witmeyer's.

Last week Durham Bros. & Co. shipped two car loads of potatoes, and another party is loading a car to-day. They are paying 90c per bushel. Potatoes are not so plenty or as nice as last year, and are decaying.

Our schools have all teachers. E. C. Finkle teaches our school, John Cartoff the Elk Creek school, Auman Luse the Mountain school, Ed. Bracht the Gettysburg school, Mr. Small the Liberty school, and haven't heard who teaches the Pike school.

At present you can hear all the deer hunters making calculations on going a hunting on Friday, the first day of the season, and next week I suppose I can give you a good report, for they expect to bring lots of them home on Saturday night. Hope they will, for they earn all they get.

Prof. Reen had a private sale of his household goods the other day, and kept back and gone to boarding.

Bob, I see your bill is somewhat better. Had you called in Doc. Seriff and VanValin? The Lutherans intend holding a festival here on Saturday afternoon and evening, the 9th of Oct. YANK.

AARONSBURG ITEMS. Mrs. Daniel Reed who is quite an old lady, living with her son Jacob Reed, in walking across the room, tripped her foot on the carpet and fell so heavily upon her left side that it was feared she has sustained a fracture of the thigh bone. Being an old person and in feeble health, her recovery is very doubtful.

A child of Phillip Meyer's in Millheim, was poisoned last week by eating colored candy, calling in a physician at once, saved the child's life.

Mr. Ira Gramley has sold his stump machine to Ches. Staebler, and will retire from the business.

F. J. and A. D. Weaver have erected a slaughter house on the rear end of the Jacob Wolf lot. Now a meat market and a grocery combined on the front part of the lot where they expect to open out business shortly.

Samuel Wolf, of Penn township, died last week in the 7th year of his age.

Henry Fulmer who formerly was in the nursery business in our village, died last week in Union county.

TUSSEYVILLE AND LOOP ITEMS. Tusseyville will have a daily mail by the first of October, which will be connected with the Centre Hill and Potomac Mills route.

The Tusseyville band furnished music for the Spracetown festival which was highly appreciated by young and old, and the boys were well pleased with their treat.

An accomplished young lady of Harrisburg, Miss Jessie Weaver, is visiting Miss Viola Krumrine.

N. B. Spangler, who had been engaged in teaching a select school at Green Brier, having closed last Friday last, is now spending a few weeks vacation at home.

Wm. Bower who had gone to Kansas about the holidays, is now at home on a visit. Quite a number of our young folks attended the festival at Spracetown, and report having a good time.

The property of Michael Ulrich, dec'd., was sold Saturday last for $2669. Mrs. Ulrich being the purchaser. Teams are busy hauling lumber.

LEMONT ITEMS. Not so shivering as we felt a week ago, the weather has become moist and warm, and autumn heavy fogs hang over our head, and makes us feel as if we were not.

The chief event of the week was an address delivered to the Lemont Beaver Club by J. G. Love, of Bellefonte.

A great many from this place attended the Fair at Lewisburg last week, and returned home speaking of a good time and the fair a success. The base ball season is drawing to a close, leaving College township champions of the county.

Our accommodating station agent, Mr. Dreese, will soon be ready to move into his new residence on Main street. Mr. Dreese's house, when completed, will be a fine one, one that Lemont can well be proud of, and it would be good unto Lemont if others would go and do likewise.

MILLHEIM. Esq. Duck is erecting a new brick house. Jerome Spigelmyer, mayor of this town, also thinks of adding a new house to our town. Abs. Harter made sale last Saturday and will move to Sugar valley; he is mail carrier on that route. Remodeling of the M. E. church is under way, and same will be rededicated when work is done. Charles Kurtz of Centre Hall was in town a few days ago. No kicking Democrats on the surface hereabouts, all true to the ticket and the good old party, and if any turn up we'll mark 'em. No fooling now when we are on the way to success, after being penned out and abused for 25 years. Traitors in the camp would find a day of reckoning come. BUB.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

To Whom it may Concern: Some parties and firms finding that the Fence Machines they manufacture have proved to be failures when practically tested, and are inferior machines in every respect, and finding that the very popular Improved Henley Monarch Fence Machine, being a complete success as a light-running, easy-working, practical, durable, and superior machine, is rapidly superseding and driving them out of the market, are making a desperate struggle to keep their inferior and frail goods before the public, and for this purpose have resorted to the unbusinesslike and risky method of attempting to injure my immense trade, and the business of my agents, by flooding the country with circulars and other printed matter, containing misrepresentations, and foolish threats of prosecution against other manufacturers and parties intending to purchase other than their inferior machines. This character of competition is scarcely worthy of notice, and is only indulged in by parties and firms who have nothing to lose and everything to gain by such misrepresentations, to prevent the introduction and immense sale of the Monarch Machine. Fearing, however, that some persons might be induced thereby, I deem it best to issue this Special Notice, to inform my numerous patrons, and the public generally, that all such statements as appear in circulars, newspapers, and other printed matter, reflecting in any manner on the Monarch Machine, or its manufacture are without foundation, and are used to the injury of my trade, and the business of my agents. I shall be compelled to hold the authors of such means responsible for all damages accruing therefrom, my financial standing, and the position held by me as a manufacturer of leading goods of their class, is a sufficient guarantee of full protection to both my agents and patrons.

I give a further assurance of good faith on my part, to protect all persons purchasing my goods, and as an evidence of the utter worthlessness of any claims of infringement made against my manufacture, I make the following GUARANTEE.

Public notice is hereby given that I warrant and defend the sale made by me of each and every one of the Improved Henley Monarch Fence Machines, and guarantee to the purchasers, users, and vendors of said Machines, full protection against the claims of all parties for infringement or royalty.

For my financial ability and responsibility to make the guarantee good, I would refer all parties to the Union National Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio, and for general references as to my financial standing and business integrity, I would refer the public to any leading bank in the United States, or to Bradstreet's, or any other Commercial Reports.

The attempt of any parties to deceive the farming public by the publication of false statements and without misrepresentations will fail, and farmers are quick to recognize such facts, and also to endorse and adopt the best class of farming implements, as they have, universally done, with the Improved Monarch Fence Machine. My patents are radical, and are valuable ones. I have acquired and established them at large expense to protect my own business, and to protect the interests of thousands of patrons. I have done this on the highest and most reliable authority of counsel and expert witnesses, and found in this country, I have full confidence in my rights, and have always endeavored to exercise them fairly. My patents are valid, and will be defended on their merits in the United States Courts against all comers.

I have covered myself in the U. S. Circuit Court at Indianapolis, Ind., against the Richmond "Check Row" Co., for infringement on my patent No. 242,916, dated May 18th, 1886, and am pushing said suit to issue as speedily as possible.

In conclusion I would say that the Improved Monarch Fence Machine has been the most popular and successful of any superior machine, in material construction, operation and the character and quality of work it performs. The immense demand for it shows what a firm hold it has on the favorable opinion of the farming community, and that it will continue to hold its own as in the past, as the only leading and perfect Fence Machine in the market. I invite honorable competition, and challenge the world to produce its equal. Respectfully,

M. G. HENLEY, Sole Owner and Manufacturer of the IMPROVED MONARCH FENCE MACHINE, Patented. Shires & Kennedy, Centre Hall, Sole Agents for Pennsylvania.
