CENTRE HALL, PA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1887. NO. 1

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED KURTZ, . . . Editor.

VOLUME 60.

With this issue the CENTRE REPORTER enters volume 60 of its existence. We have before us copies of the first issue of the paper, which was founded at Aaronsburg, the second week in July, 1827. These copies are about one-fourth the present size of the REPORTER. It was founded by Adam Gentzel, as a German paper, and later was published, for a brief time by Mr. Finkle, when it again passed into Mr Gentzel's control, and continued to be published by him until July 1846, when it was purchased by Ludwig Kurtz, father of the present editor, who continued to edit the same until 1858, when the writer took charge of it, and opened an English department, under the head of "CENTRE REPORTER." Finding the German readers dropping off, we concluded to print the paper all English, and removed to Centre Hall and continued the publication of the REPORTER as an English paper.

The REPORTER in all this time, has been faithful to the Democratic organization, and pursuing a consistent course we occasionally incurred the opposition of bad men and designing politicians. The masses however, always stood by the paper because they ever found in it an outspoken advocate of honest men and honest principles, never hesitating to raise a warning voice against unprincipled politicians, when they sought to prostitute the good old Democratic party.

It never could be used as a tool of factions or cliques, nor has it been a milk and water concern, and never will be, so long as it remains under our control.

The course of the REPORTER in the future will be the same as in the past, fearless and true to the right.

The REPORTER enters 1887, according to a careful count, with a larger and more solid list than it had at the beginning of 1886.

We are thankful for past support and will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public in the future. To advocate the good of the masses and uphold the banner of Democracy shall be our aim.

There was another shake at Charleston on Tuesday morning, but no damage was done.

And now we have an account of a lady who sees with her eye shut. We expect her tongue can wag with her mouth shut.

Two thousand Philadelphia brewers went out on a strike. If that means no more beer, there won't be much misery except for the strikers.

Centre county enters 188 free of debt—thanks to the efficiency of our commissioners The present and preceeding board have served the people faithfully and great credit is due them.

Shall a woman be hanged, is a question being discussed by the New York World. Women have decided that themselves and that should settle it. One often hears a woman say, "I'll be hanged if I don't" do so and so.

The Morning Patriot has become a penny paper. It will need encouragement to make it a success, and it should be largely patronized to make the experiment a lasting one. The Patriot is one of the leading Democratic dailies and gives all the late telegraphic news. It reaches Centre county at 9 on morning of publication.

The new prothonotary, D. A. Schaeffer, took possession of his office on the 1st inst. Mr. Schaeffer needs no introduction, and all that the REPORTER has said in his favor we would repeat. He will be found capable, obliging and almost faultless in serving his term, preserving the spotless record of a gentman, sustained by him previous to his election, the county can feel proud of securing so good a man.

Some fellows are already attacked with the grunts at the mention of Chas. S. Wolf's name as the next temperance candidate for president. Whenever an old hog gets a shaking up it will grunt. No one has given the old carcass of the bosses such a shaking up as Charley Wolf, hence whenever his name is favorably mentioned you always hear a grunt from somewhere inside the machine by fellows kneeling at the feed of the bosses.

DENY THE POOL CHARGE.

The South Pennsylvania injunction case was revived on the 31, when the Pennsylvania Railroad company, Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad Company, Bald Eagle Valley Railroad Company the Pennsylvania Company, the Bedford and Bridgeport Railway Company and the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company filed into court to answer to the bill in equity filed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the South Pennsylvania case. All the defendants deny that there was any agreement between themselves and the other defendants, "To control the trade of the state of Pennsylvania and prevent the existing competition in the transportation of passengers and freight." The defendants pray that the bill may be dismissed without costs to them.

Cleveland Blaine is the name of a Mauch Chunk baby. The poor child will probably be subject to gripes all its life.

WHAT CURTIN THINKS.

"What will congress do this session?" was asked of Congressman Curtin by a newspaper reporter. He replied:

"I think we will try to put some kind of a tariff bill before the house, though as to what its especial features will be I cannot tell We want something done with the tariff, and the sooner some good bill is introduced and passed the better for the country. I think we may have a lively session from this out. The interstate commerce bill will create more discussion than is anticipated. It will go through and be of great benefit to the country. It will destroy pooling and equalize rates, so the producers in the west will stand on the same footing as far as a market is concerned. It is all right if a railroad does not charge any more from Pittsburg to New York, than from Chicago to New York, but they must not cut under. This puts things on an equal basis—I have given this problem some study and can see no injury to the railroads and nothing but justice to the people who ship freight. I am chairman of the committee on labor and railroad strikes, and of course have heard many facts in relation to railroads in general. The committee will soon make a voluminous report of the strike on the Gould system. Strikes will be fewer now than ever, because only the head of the Knights of Labor, Powderly can order a strike."

Mrs. Logan is having much influence in the election of a Senator from Illinois to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her husband.

There is chance for a split among the Knights of Labor—one wing desires to have Powderly deposed and another chosen to take his place as Master. Powderly is not anarchist enough for some of the Knights.

It is very truthfully remarked by the Philadelphia Enquirer that the quarrels among the Knights of Labor and the general dissatisfaction felt by the members of the order against the general master workman are growing so serious as to threaten the destruction of the organization. It is believed however, that not the best but the very worst element among the Knights are the promoters of the troubles which exist, and that it is only the anarchists who are so bitter in their opposition to Mr. Powderly. His cause of offense is two fold. He orders an assessment of each of the members, the fund resulting therefrom to be used in maintaining such workingmen as were locked out by their employers, as well as those who were on strike, and again he directed that no money should be contributed by the Knights for the benefit of the convicted Chicago Anarchists, now facing the gallows for the cruel and wholesale murder of the policemen in the Haymarket riot.

This last direction was a most proper one to make.

The Supreme court of this state has decided the State law against oleomargarine constitutional, and hereafter the article can neither be manufactured nor kept for sale in this state. Judge Gordon dissented from the opinion of the other Judges.

Ex-Governor Curtin was given a savory dinner to his Tammonic colleagues, Ermentrout, Snowden and Hiestand, representing the great Pennsylvania German constituencies of Berks, Lehigh and Lancaster, consisting of noodle soup, sauekr raut, a roast with horse radish sauce and pumpernickel, the whole washed down with royal old Irish punch, in honor of the venerable ex-Governor's extraction. The vernacular of the Green Isle and the Rhine blended in harmonious chorus over the festive board and the parting separated with a pleasant realization of Ireland and the Fatherland forever.

He should have been. Beaver there who three years made 112 tubs of sauer kraut and sent it to market. Perhaps Beaver's sauer kraut was there any how.

We were in the Commissioners office during the holidays and was informed by Commissioner Wolf that the finances of the county were never in a better condition. The commissioners collected all outstandsng accounts, wiped out a debt of over $80,000 and made improvements in the court house of about $10,000. Our county enters 1887 in a good healthy condition, which is the result of Democratic economy.

The State Legislature met on Tuesday, Senator George Handy Smith, of Philad, will be president pro tem. of the Senate, and Thomas P. Cochran, of Lancaster, chief clerk. The Republican house caucus has fixed on H. K. Boyer of Philad for speaker, and George Pearson of Mercer, for chief clerk.

Gen. Logan's death has put a new face on the Presidential question with the Republicans, as the dead Illinois Senator was a prominent candidate for nomination in 1888. The Republican leaders of this State held a private conference a few days ago and concluded to present J. D. Cameron as Pennsylvania's choice for President. This toss will make Blaine shake, whether he will or not, Blaine had counted on Pennsylvania.

LACK OF EXPLANATION.

Sunset Cox says he never saw a Turk drunk on the streets of Constanstinople, but forgets to add that the streets of that city are so narrow that a man has no room to stagger, and the town so dirty that no sane man would ever attempt to paint it.

INGERSOL NEGLECTS HIS CLIENTS.

Bob Ingersol has so much law business on his hands nowadays that his old client, the devil, will have to be looking around for new counsel or plead guilty.

WINTER TOURS OVER THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Pursuant to the annual custom the Pennsylvania Railroad Company placed on sale at its offices, November 1st, a stock of winter excursion tickets to all the prominent winter resorts of New Jersey, Virginia, Florida, other prominent points in the Southern States, and to Havana. These tickets are sold at reduced rates, in consideration of which they are required to be used on the south-bound trip within fifteen days from the date of purchase as stamped on the back, and for the return trip prior to May 31st, 1887. Stop-off is permitted at any point named on the ticket, and if the tourist desires to break the journey at any other point, he should apply to the conductor of the train or purser of the boat, who will grant the permission by issuing stop-over check or notation on the ticket.

These tickets cover almost every Southern point to which winter travel ends, and the variety of route afforded by the extensive Southern connections of the Pennsylvania Railroad, commends its lines to the favor of the traveler, to whom ease, comfort, promptness, and speed are material considerations. Through buffet and sleeping cars run between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, and Virginia and Florida points, and the tourist to Cuba may make the trip without interrupting his journey, except at Tampa, where he exchanges the car for a steamer.

For further and detailed information, apply at the ticket offices of the company and connecting lines.

THREE GIRLS CAUSE THE DEATH OF A CENTRE COUNTY MAN NEAR LEWISTOWN.

The following Christmas tragedy we clip from the Lewistown Sentinel: John Akely, a workman at Logan, and De la Corbet, Jennie Quay and Ella Kountzman, of Lewistown, went out the pike to beyond Yeagertown in a sleigh on Christmas day. All were intoxicated, and the girls are said to have acted shamefully while going through Yeagertown. Beyond Yeagertown Akely was thrown out of the sleigh. He managed to get in again, but was thrown out another time on this side of the town. At one of these times he clung to the sleigh and was dragged a considerable distance, while the girls beat him over the head with the whip to make him leave go. They got away from him on this side of Yeagertown and left him lying in the snow. Some one found him there and removed him to his boarding-house. In some manner in the scuffle or in throwing him out the girls inflicted injuries of a fatal character upon his person which resulted fatally. He had been very roughly handled, as there were a number of wounds and bruises on his limbs and body. Drs. Parcels and Harshbarger attended the injured man, but his injuries were beyond the reach of surgical skill. He was conscious, but owing to his intoxicated condition at the time of the occurrence, he had but faint recollections of it. He charged, however, that the girls had robbed him of all his money before throwing him out, comprising his fortnight's wages in a pay envelope. The case was reported to the District Attorney on Tuesday, and he and 'Squire Settle went to Logan Wednesday morning, but they were too late to secure the man's ante-mortem deposition, as he was then unable to speak, and died about noon. The three girls were arrested on Wednesday and taken before 'Squire Settle, who committed them to jail.

The victim of this drunken frolic was about 35 years of age. He was from Bellefonte, where his father and brother still reside. His father wrote that he was not able to come over to see his son before his death, and he was too poor to provide for the burial.

The coroner went out on Thursday morning to hold an inquest.

GOING TO A DANCE.

A Sleigh Filled with People Struck by an Engine.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 3.—A large bob sled containing eleven gentlemen and nine ladies, who were en route to the Heine residence, three miles southeast of this city, to attend a dance, was struck by the eastbound fast train on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway while the sled was crossing the track Saturday evening, killing two and injuring seven ladies. The gentlemen all escaped, several jumping. The scene after the accident beggars description. The groans and cries from the wounded were heartrending. Following is a list of the killed and injured: Killed—Mrs. Lizzie Lepper, aged 23; Miss Tina Mincker, aged 17. Injured—Miss Lotta Eix, leg broken; Miss Lizzie Ranning, ribs broken; Miss Lena Haight, arm broken; Miss Emma Shults, leg broken; Miss Lizzie Willie Wiecks and Miss Belle Bishop, sustained slight injuries. A relief train with several surgeons was sent to the scene of the accident, which was just outside of the city limits, and conveyed the killed and injured to the city, where they were properly taken care of. The driver was warned not to attempt to cross the track, a caution which he did not heed.

A Horrible Catastrophe.

MADRAS, Jan. 3.—Later investigations show that the catastrophe in the People's park on Friday was more extensive than at first reported. The fire which burned the reserved enclosure lasted only fifteen minutes, yet in that brief space of time 300 persons were killed, some being burned to death, others being suffocated by smoke or crushed in the efforts of the people to escape. Three hundred more were injured in various ways. The report that all the victims were natives proves to have been inaccurate, as the bodies of two European women have been found, and many European children are missing, and, it is feared, are among those who perished. The commander-in-chief of the native contingent and the first prince of Travancore were among those who narrowly escaped. It is suspected that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

War Among the Brewers.

DETROIT, Jan. 3.—The contest between the journeymen brewers and the brewery owners here has been continued now several weeks. All non-union beer has been boycotted, and to supply the demand and make the boycott severest on the non-union brewery proprietors in Detroit, the strikers have been securing beer made in union breweries in other cities, the bulk of it of late coming from the International brewery, Buffalo. It is now announced that that source of supply has suddenly failed, and it is intimated that the Brewers' association here has bought off the competition. At all events a momentary panic was created in union circles, but by unlimited telegraphing, a favorable answer was at last received from a Cincinnati firm, and union beer will be plenty in Detroit again. The striking journeymen brewers will organize into an assembly of the Knights of Labor this evening.

Col. Roebling's Health.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Col. Washington A. Roebling, who has for years been an invalid, has almost wholly recovered his health, and is now able to travel and transact business. Col. Roebling became chief engineer of the Brooklyn bridge after the death of his father, John A. Roebling, and contracted the caisson disease during his labors of superintending the work in the caissons. The disease baffled the skill of physicians, and it was not expected that Col. Roebling would ever regain his health. He was for years unable to leave his room, though he continued to superintend every detail of the construction of the bridge, which he could see through a telescope. A few months ago the disease took a favorable turn, and the colonel's recovery has been rapid.

Gen. Loring Buried.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The funeral of Gen. W. W. Loring, of the Confederate army, and ex-chief of staff of the khedive, took place yesterday. There was a large audience present at the service, including distinguished officers of the Confederate and Union armies, eminent citizens, and friends of the deceased. The citizens were Gen. J. D. Schofield, C. M. Wilcox, Roger A. Pryor, C. P. Stone, G. W. Smith, T. F. Dockery, John C. Newton and M. T. McMahon; Cols. Chaille Long, J. L. Snead, W. J. Talliaferro, G. T. Ferris, J. R. Sadler and E. E. McLane. The temporary interment was in the Second Street cemetery. The body will be removed soon to St. Augustine, Fla., for final burial in the family plot.

Duck Hunters Lost.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Three men hired a boat at the Seaside house on Jamaica bay yesterday afternoon to go duck hunting on the bay. The wind increased while they were engaged, and when they endeavored to return they found themselves surrounded by floating ice. Several boats were launched from shore to try and rescue them, but the drift ice was running with such force that the efforts had to be abandoned. At dark the men were still struggling to gain the land, but with little success, and it is feared they were frozen to death. Another boat with two men in it was seen further out in the bay. They were in the same predicament and were probably lost.

A Cattle Company Assigns.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 3.—The Dolores Land and Cattle company, with ranches situated in Dimmit, Kinney and other counties, has assigned. The company was chartered last year, with a stated capital of $2,000,000, and were assessed at $250,000. Their ranch lands cover 200,000 acres and are stocked with 16,000 head of cattle. It is believed the company is only temporarily embarrassed, their assets being much larger than their liabilities. The assignment was a complete surprise and is regretted by all owing to the high standing of the parties concerned. George A. Seabright is the principal stockholder in the company.

Louisiana's Sunday Law.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3.—The Sunday law went into force, and, contrary to expectation, met with little opposition throughout the entire state. In the city a state senator had filed a suit against the authorities, enjoining the enforcement of the law. A civil court judge issued the rule, but the district attorney denied the right of the civil court to interfere with the execution of a criminal law; consequently, he advised that affidavits be made against all saloons kept open under cover of the injunction. This will be done, and the cases sent at once by the committing magistrates to the criminal court for jury trial.
