THE LAST WAR AND THE NEXT.

The New York Sun says it is about time to stop devising new ways to expend millions on account of the war that ended twenty-two years ago, and to begin on the war that is ahead.

The so-called Dependent Pension bill, now in the hands of the President for wholesale pension legislation of the past few years, it is a creature of sham sentiment and deliberate fraud, a thing which Congress lacked the manliness to strangle before it got far away from the cranks and the claim agents who gave it being.

It is safe to say that this Government satisfied long ago and with unexampled liberality nine hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand of the just claims of the widows and orphans and disabled of the War of the Rebellion upon its

The Arrears of Pension act was passed eight years ago on the strength of the assurance by its promoters that it could not possibly require in the aggregate more than $20,000,000. The total amount already paid out on account of this legislation is more than $200,000,000.

If Mr. Cleveland signs the Dependent Pension bill, he will create a new class in the country, a class of pauper veterans, and the glory of the Union cause will expire in a grand scramble of candidates for the badge of mendicancy.

He will also add to the annual expenses of the Government a new fixed charge of an amount as yet undetermined, but probably from $50,000,000 to $75,-000,000 a year.

It would be a wise and patriotic act if Mr. Cleveland should veto this bill. The money which it is proposed to give away insatisfaction of shadowy claims based on the last war is urgently needed to next war to come.

The future as well as the past has its esponsibilities.

STATISTICS AS TO STRIKES. Bradstreet's furnishes a new and fairly (2) all strikes in the United States begun during January, 1887, and (3) strikes announced during the first three days of ed. Realizing that an accident was about February. It is ascertained the total to occur, he jumped from his seat with the number of men on strike during January, intention of making his escape. The train 1887, was about seventy-eight thousand slowly. He thought it was all right, and against 47,200 in January, 1886. Inasmuch as 9,000 men have struck since January 31 last, the comparison becomes 87,900 on strike since January 1, 1887, as compared with 47,200 in 1886. In addition to this total of men out of work, it is to be noted that 16,300 workers in factories, mills and elsewhere are idle because of the scarcity of coal or because of lack of work caused by strikes of others. This points to 104,000 industrial employes who have stopped work since January 1, as compared with 47,200 for a like period in 1886. There were eight strikes begun in 1886 carried over into the current year. These involved 5,000 men. Four have ended, two of them successfully, including 1,170 men, and two failing, involving 830 men. In January there were begun over 90 strikes by 73,000 employes. Of these 32 have ended, 22 of them, involving 5,700 men, having failed. About 60 January strikes, therefore, remain unsettled. The 24 strikes reported for three days in Feb ruary furnish a list of 9,900 men. None of these has been settled.

THE NEXT SENATE.

The Senatorial elections are now all settled, except New Jersey and West Virginia, both of which will, beyond doubt, efect Democrats. The outcome is that the Democrats gain four seats in the next Senate-one in California, one in Indiana, one in New Jersey and one in Virginia-and the Republicans gain one in Nevada.

There are 42 Republicans and 34 Democrats in the present Senate. The changes, transferring three seats to the Democratic side from the Republican, will make the figures stand 39 Republicans and 37 Democrats. But it is believed that Senator Riddleberger, of Virginia, will act with the Democrats as soon as Gov. Daniel becomes his associciate, and this will even up the numbers to 38 Republicans and 38 Democrats

Thirty-two Unknown Bodies. WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Feb. 7.-Men worked all day upon the ruins of the wrecked Montreal express which jumped over the White River bridge in the darkness, but few bodies were found. The splintered cars in the rocky gorge, blackened and charred by fire, have not given up all their dead and the total loss of life will his signiture, is a humbug. Like all the not probably be known for several days. All the farm-houses within a radius of five miles are utilized as temporary hospitals, and some of their inmates narrate new. tales of their experiences in the horror. One of the wrecked cars on the ice had not been overhauled at last accounts, and it was thought that at least twenty bodies were in the debris. Should this prove so it would run the list of killed up to over sixty, not including those which may have been carried into the river through the ice. The latest computation as to the number of persons on train places it at over 100. Thirty-two bodies remain unindentified.

An agonizing incident of the disaster was the death of David Maignet, a Frenchman of Shaungun, Canada. He and his 12-yearold son Joseph were on their way from Holyoke to their home. The boy sat three seats behind his father in the third car from the rear. He was dozing in his seat when he felt the car shiver. This motion was kept up for a few seconds, and then the car dashed over the bridge upon the ice. By hard work the boy got out of one of the car windows and at once went in search of his father. He discovered him by the light of the burning wreckage just above him, pinned down by a part of the top of the car which had fallen directly across his chest and legs. The old man was as firmly held as though in a vise. The boy hastened to his father's assistance and spoke words of encouragement to him. He seized his father and struggled with all his strength to extricate him, but in vain. The flames were approaching rapidly. "Joseph," said the father, "run and get an axe or a saw." But the boy could not find either. 'Pull me At Locust Grove, ne ar Grove & Wolf's out then," said the father, "even if you have to break my legs to do it. "Joseph" saw mill. tugged away with all his might, but could not stir his father an inch. With wonderful coolness the father gave himself up to his fate. "It's no use, my boy," he said. "There is no hope for me. Leave me and save yourself. But remember the dying meet the expense of preparation for the words of your father, always be a good boy. Farewell, my son; I will meet you in the other world." The flames were then so close at hand that the boy could remain no longer. He left his father and got out of the reach of the flames, and watched his parent slowly burn to death.

Mr. Henry W. Tewksbury, of West Randolph, Vt., Says that he was in the first day accurate report (1) leading strikes begun | coach. He was dozing at the time of the in 1866 and unsettled on January 1 last accident, but was aroused by feeling the car jumping upon the railroad ties. He had been in two railroad accidents before this one, and knew what the sensation portendso sat down again. He tried to move, but found he could not budge an inch. He noticed with great alarm that fire had broken out at the further end of the car. He struggled with all his strength to free himself, and screamed for help, but there was no one at hand to help him. Having leaned back resignedly to meet what seemed his fearful fate, his hopes of life were renewed by hearing voices. He unwound his fur cap and saw the engineer and fireman close at hand. He called to them frantically for assistance, which they proffered at once. Seizing hold of him his rescuers sought to pull him out, to those visitingthecity for business or but failed. Thinking that this was a hopeless case, they were about to leave him and help others, but he begged them to try again, and to break his leg if necessary. They did so, and managed to get him out, breaking the leg and an arm in the effort.

Br. Bray tells a heartrending story of the death of EdwardoFrank Dillon Springfield, Vt., who was a student in tre Hall station, prices $75 to $125 per Dartmouth college. The fire approached near and nearer and the efforts of the rescuers were unavailing to save him. Piteously he appealed to them to save him, although he knew this was impossible. As the fire reached him he gave one last cry, and closed his eyes in death. In the presence of at least a score of men he was burned to

One Hundred and Five Days of Fasting. WABASH, Ind., Feb. 7 .- Mary Baker, the White County fasting girl, mentioned in previous specials, has completed the 105th day of her fast. Her attending physicans and nurses are astonished at her indurance. Several days ago the extremities began growing cold and signs of dissolution appeared. She is still conclous and is longing for death. She sleeps but one hour each day. There is great interest among the medical fraternity in regard to the diagnosis of the disease, and the autopsy will be atterded by a number of prominent physicians from different parts of the State.

Want a Commercial Traveller Appointed. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7 .- The commercia travellers of the country, being primarily interested in the proper administration and construction of the interstate commerce bill, are preparing a request to the admir stration at Washington, to appoint W. J. Pickering, of Philadelphia, chairman of the national railroad committee of the Travellers' Protective association, one of the commissioners created by the law, and the committee of prominent business men from various parts of the city will visit Washington during the coming week for the pur-dose of urging their claims. Pulpit Endorsement of Henry George. New York, Feb. 7.—The Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost of the Belleville avenue Congregational church preached last evening on Henry George. "For my part," he said, in conclusion, "it is clear that, Henry George is in the straight moral position, and since the great body of humanity always end in doing what is right, the time will probably come when all rents will go to the general government."

Rioting in Belfast Yesterday. BELFAST, Feb. 7.—Two men were arrested in Servia street for rioting. As the police were taken them to jail a mor attacked them and attempted to rescue the prisoners. The police drew their pistols and fired into the crowd, severely wounding a boy about sixteen years of age, and the mob dispersed. There has been no dre "NEARLY CRAZED with pain" is the sad cry of many a victim of rheumatism or neuralgia, and frequently other diseases, such as kidney and liver complaints, are directly traceable to rheumatism or neuralgia. These diseases, for some unexplainable reason, are rapidly in creasing, and in many instances are the direct cause of much sickness which so hides its real origin as to be mistaken for other diseases. In curing rheumatism, neuralgia, sick headache, and in many cases of kidney and liver troubles, Athlophoros has wrought wonders. Those who have used it are best qualified to speak of its merit.

Rouses Point, New York. I took Athlophoros and I think it helped me. I had not walked for S weeks when I took the Athlophoros and have walked since. I have taken nearly all medicines ended for rheumatism, and I think that Athlophoros helped me the most of any. I am not entirely cured yet, but am going to take Athlophoros if it comes on bad again. THE IMPROVED HENLEY MONARCH FENCE MACHINE

STOVES, STOVES, STOVES.

COMMON SENSE REASONS WHY THE IMPROVED HENLY . MONARCH . FENCE . MACHINE IS THE BEST AND HAS NO EQUAL.

Because the wire is stretched the full length of the field before the weaving is com 2 Because any sized wire can be used, and either 2, 3, 4, or 5 double strands can be used. 2 Because any sized wire can be used, and either 2, 3, 4, or 5 double strands can be used, weaving all with equal facility.

3 Because any size, length, or style of picket, or slat, or board, can be used, weaving fancy iron pickets equally well and solid.

4 Because it will make a fence over rough and uneven ground, or up and down hill alike, making as good a fence as on even, level ground; and the machine being adjustable, the pickets are all woven plumb.

5 Because the Monarch machine stretches the wire tighter, thus making the strongest and best wire and picket fence.

6 Because any one, man or boy, can operate it, and there are no parts to get out of order and repair.

7 Because it is made of the best materials, and, with proper care, will last a life-time.

8 Because the price is within the reach of every farmer.

9 Recause it is the only machine that forces the slat or picket firmly against the wire, thus securing the slat in such a solid and and permanent manner that it cannot be pulled out, and breakage is impossible.

10 Because the fence made by this machine will turn all kinds of stock, and is much stronger than any barb wire fence, and completely obviates all danger of injury to stock.

11 Because by weaving past the post, and fastening the wire strands to the posts with staples, and itot nalling the slats to posts, thus keeping the wood parts from coming in contact with each other, it will not hold the moisture or rot. This is a very important matter, as all boards in board fences soon rot off at post, and occasion continued expense for repair.

12 Because it makes the handsomest, best, strongest, and most durable fence, and is the only first-class, practical fence machine in the world.
