

RUSSIAN RHEUMATISM CURE

HAS PROVED TO BE THE REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

My wife was so afflicted with rheumatism in her shoulder and arm that she could do nothing for herself, and could not sleep in bed, but had to be held up in a rocking chair. Physicians prescribed many patent medicines, but the pain did not get worse. I sent for the Russian Rheumatism Cure, under a cloud of doubt. It was used according to directions for one week, and my wife was cured. It is now over four months since the cure was effected, and she can do all kinds of work as well as ever, and has no symptoms of the old disease. We have no hesitancy in recommending the cure to all similarly afflicted, and we are glad to see it so widely advertised.

Truly yours,
J. J. FISHELL

Thousands of others have been cured.

INDORSING THE GREAT STRIKE.
The Central Labor Union Issues an Address Calling for Aid.
New York, Feb. 7.—A considerable part of the session of the Central Labor union was taken up in discussing the strike of the coal-handlers, longshoremen and freight-handlers. When the meeting was called to order a delegation representing the Ocean association appeared and through a spokesman reviewed the strike and the causes that led to it. He said the men had shown no signs of weakening. He said that certain reports published about dissatisfaction among the rank and file was false.
The Central Labor Union endorsed the strike and promised the delegation that it would call upon all its subordinate unions for financial aid. A committee of ten was appointed to attend to the matter. They will visit the subordinate unions and collect funds. The committee retired and drafted the following address:
"Thousands of the hardest worked and the poorest paid men in the ranks of industry have for weeks been engaged in a peaceable but determined struggle with monopolies whose careers have been marked by fraud and corruption and oppression. The struggle was inaugurated to enable the men to obtain a single installment of long denied justice. They asked for an increase of wages which would enable them to exist. For weeks they have held out in face of the greatest opposition and under the most adverse circumstances, and are still as determined as they were on the day the struggle began.
"While such a struggle is in progress with such tremendous interests at stake, we would be untrue to humanity did we fail to extend a helping hand to those in it. Therefore we call upon organized workmen to contribute to a fund which we have decided to raise for the strikers. Contributions at once and as generously as possible. Show our struggling fellow-workmen that they have our substantial sympathy, and show iron-hearted monopoly that the people are opposed to it in its unholy attempt to crush out labor and destroy legitimate industry."

Wants to be Governor.
CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 7.—Cassius M. Clay makes the following announcement:
To the People of Kentucky:
The republican convention meets at Louisville on the 11th day of May next to nominate a candidate for Governor of Kentucky and other officers. I present myself as a candidate upon my party and my native State for that office. I have made fifty-seven appointments to speak in fifty-seven counties, the last ending at Williamsburg, in southeastern Kentucky, on the 13th of April, nearly one month before the convention. I am the only farmer who is a candidate on the republican side. All the other aspirants are lawyers. The farmers and farm laborers comprise a majority of the people of this nation. They are the life of the whole people; yet we are less repressed and more heavily taxed than any other class. I am now, and have always been, a farmer. My interest is your interest. Suspend your nomination in the several counties till you give me a hearing, and then you will intelligently decide upon your representative. I believe that we must vitally amend the new taxation law, called the Hewitt bill; that the state can be run upon less taxation and better run than now; I am for retrenchment and reform.
CASSIUS M. CLAY,
Whitehall, Ky.

A Gold Mine in Mrs. Ramsay's Back Yard.
SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 7.—A. M. Ramsay has been depot agent at Sunny Side for thirty years. During that time Mrs. Ramsay has saved up for her husband a considerable sum of money. They did not believe in banks, and were afraid to loan out the money, so they had recourse to holes in the ground. Mrs. Ramsay would trade off her money for twenty dollar gold pieces and bury them in her back yard. Some time before Christmas she buried $50 there. It was her custom on sunny afternoons, now and then, to unearth her treasure, count it, and bury it a gain. The old couple were horrified yesterday morning when they arose to find that some one had been mining for gold during the night. The lucky finders took every dollar of the old lady's savings.

Eight Men Fight a Battle.
PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 7.—T. J. Boice and F. M. Hopkins were fatally wounded in a melee which occurred near the Wirt county line. A worthless person named Miller had circulated reports affecting the character of one of the Hopkins girls, and her father met Miller and four brothers named Boice at a shoemaker shop near the mouth of Westfork Creek. The eight men were soon engaged in a terrible fight, in which stones, clubs, and the shoemakers' tools were freely used. T. J. Boice had his skull broken by a blow of a shoe hammer. Hopkins' back was broken by a blow of a club, and the elder Hopkins and another of the Boice boys were badly hurt. The fight was a terrible one, lasting for half an hour.

Laying Track Sunday Morning.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 7.—A gang of workmen began laying a track across Vincent place, in this city, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning, for the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg terminal. A resolution pending in the common council, to rescind the permission to lay the track, will be voted upon Tuesday evening. There is much opposition to the railway crossing the streets on a level with the roadway, and it supposed the work was begun on Sunday to avoid an injunction.

The Schooner Lynworth Sunk.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The signal corps station at Smithville, N. C., reports that the American schooner Jennie Hall from Philadelphia to Cuba, with a cargo of coal and barrel staves, collided off Body's Island, with the American schooner Edith Lynworth, Foster, from Port Auerebia to New York with a cargo of coconuts. The Lynworth sank immediately, but her crew was saved. The Jennie Hall proceeded to Wilmington for extensive repairs.

After The Guyardotte Dynamiter.
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The statement made a few days ago that the search for the dynamiter who caused the explosion in the Old Dominion steamer Guyardotte last Monday night has been abandoned is untrue. Inspector Byrnes is very close upon his track, and his arrest is believed to be only a matter of a day or two. His name is known, together with his address at the time of the attempt to destroy the vessel, but he has since moved away.

Assassinated White With His Family.
LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 7.—Col. J. W. Melburn, a prominent citizen of Poplar Bluffs, Ashley county, was assassinated in his bed room. Melburn had taken off his coat preparatory to retiring, and was talking to his wife and children, when some one outside fired at him through the window. Six shots took effect, and he fell backward on the floor. He is said not to have had an enemy. The murderer and the motive are so far unknown.

Selected a Specialist Newspaper.
BRUSSELS, Feb. 7.—The police of this city have selected a new specialist paper called the Conservateur. An associate socialist was released from prison at Ghent. A demonstration by his followers was suppressed by the police, as it threatened to develop into a riot.

AN ISLAND GOES OUT OF SIGHT

Earthquakes and Volcanic Eruptions Bury it Under the Pacific.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The story of a wonderful volcanic outbreak on the little island of Ninatu, situated in close proximity to the Friendly group in the South Pacific ocean, has just been narrated by a sailor to a reporter.
On the night of December 28, the natives were startled by earthquake shocks, heavy lightning and thunder and rain. They were so scared that six villages on the east side of the island were abandoned, and in company with the three white traders the natives went to the west shore. The quakes and storm continued for three days, and on the 31st of December a huge pillar of flame shot up from the centre of the lake, accompanied by volumes of boiling water and showers of stone and pumice. The waters of the lake boiled and scalded, and then from its bosom a cone of land started up. Four craters upon this new upheaval began to vomit fire, stones, ashes and scoria covering the island, burning up every article of vegetation. This war of the elements continued for ten days, and everything was covered with volcanic dust to the depth of many feet. A canoe which the natives went to go across to another island for shelter was buried thirty feet under ashes and lava, and they had just succeeded in digging it out when the steamer Suva hove in sight. It was found that the natives had but five days' provisions, and that, although the volcanic convulsions had ceased they were very much frightened. As the Suva did not carry many passengers, she went over to Tonga and two schooners were dispatched to the relief of the sufferers. A plentiful supply of bread fruits, bananas, taro and yams were taken, and the natives will be transported to other lands, as the entire crop of their lands on Ninatu has been destroyed.
The captain of the Suva sounded all round the island and ascertained that the water in the harbor had increased in depth. Land and sea birds that were numerous before the eruption had entirely deserted the island and where was a smiling landscape is now a desolate lava and pumice covered scene. Volcanic steam is still rising from the island when the Suva left on her return trip to Fiji.

THREE STATES SHAKEN UP.

Earthquake Shocks in Missouri, Kentucky and Illinois.
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 7.—Two earthquake shocks passed across the central portions of the states of Illinois and Missouri. In newspaper offices and top stories of the telegraph building the shock was very distinct. Printers and others who were on the streets state that there were two shocks. Telegrams from Springfield, Mattoon, Shelbyville, Charleston, Vandalia and other towns in central and southern Illinois show that the shock was widespread. The same story is told from Jefferson City, Booneville, and Lexington, Missouri.
LOUISVILLE, Feb. 7.—A shock of earthquake was felt in this city. So few were awake that it did not create any special alarm. The wave came from the south, and although distinctly felt by a number of persons did no damage.

The Catherwood-Phillips Divorce.
OCONEGOW, Wis., Feb. 7.—The Catherwood-Phillips divorce case has been decided by Judge Sims in favor of the defendant, William J. Catherwood. The decision of the court was that the marriage contract which the plaintiff, Nellie P. Phillips, claimed with defendant, was not sustained by the evidence, and that, therefore, the parties never having been married, there could not be a divorce granted.

Big Bear Pardoned.
WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 7.—The last of the Indians sentenced for the recent rebellion will be released. Big Bear, chief of the Cree, who sacked Port Pitt and massacred ten white people at Frog Lake with three of his braves, will be released from Hong Mountain prison, after serving about eighteen months of a ten years' sentence. All the other prisoners have been pardoned already.

Grandpa and Baby Horribly Burned.
ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 7.—James Collins, eighty years of age, was left by his grand daughter in charge of her child of two years. The old man in getting out of bed, knocked over a lamp, and the clothing was fired. The old man was found on the floor by a passer-by with his clothes on fire, and the child was literally roasted alive. The old man was seriously burned.

Refusal of O'Brien to Enter Parliament.
DUBLIN, Feb. 7.—Mr. William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, publishes a letter in the Dublin Freeman's Journal, refusing to become a candidate for a seat in the house of commons. He says he can be more useful to the Irish outside parliament's "detestable precincts."

They Won't Tolerate Evictions.
DUBLIN, Feb. 7.—A Tipperary tenant named McCarthy was evicted. A mob subsequently demolished his house, saying they would not tolerate evictions in Tipperary in future.
