

SHAMEFUL ABUSE
Heaped Upon a Noted Englishman for His Open Honesty.

WM. ED. ROBSON, M. D., L. R. C. S. I., M. K. Q. C. P. I., late of the Royal Navy, of England, has got into professional trouble for writing the following open letter to the editor of the London Family Doctor:

"I believe it to be the duty of every physician to make known any means or remedy whereby sickness can be prevented, and it is for this purpose I write to give my experience both here and abroad. I ask the publication of the statement that people may be warned before it is too late, to say to them that there is at hand a means by which they may be restored to perfect health. It is well known to the medical world, and indeed, to the laity, that a certain disease is making a terrible havoc; that next to consumption it is the most fatal, and that when fully developed there is nothing to be done for the sufferer."

"Physicians and scientists have long been trying to throw light upon the cause, and if possible, find in nature a medicine for this fatal malady. They have shown, absolutely, that the blood-purifying organs of vital importance, are the kidneys, and that when they once fail, the poison which they should take out of the blood is carried by the blood into every part of the body, developing disease."

"In my hospital practice in England, India and South America, and also while a surgeon in the Royal Navy of Great Britain, I gave a great deal of attention to the study of diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs, and found that not only was the cure of chronic Bright's Disease hopeless, but that kidney disease was remarkably prevalent; much more so than generally known, and was the cause of the majority of cases of sickness, and further, that the medical profession has no remedy which exerts any absolute control over these organs in disease."

"Some time ago when I had a case which resisted all regular treatment,—which is very limited,—complicated with the passing of stones from the kidneys, much against my will I permitted my patient to use Warner's safe cure, of which I had heard marvelous results. In his case the result was simply marvelous, as the attack was a severe one, and development very grave, for an analysis showed per cent. of albumen and granular tube casts."

"The action of the medicine was singular and incomprehensible to me. I had never seen anything like it. The patient recovered promptly, and is today a well and healthy man. This stimulated my inquiry into the merits of the remedy, and after analysis I found it to be of purely vegetable character, harmless to take under all circumstances."

"Casting aside all professional prejudice I gave it a thorough trial, as I was anxious that my patients should be restored to health, no matter by what medicine. I prescribed it in a great variety of cases, Acute, Chronic, Bright's Disease, Congestion of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, and in every instance did it speedily effect a cure."

"For this reason I deem it my duty to give to the world this statement regarding the value of Warner's safe cure. I am prepared to produce and substantiate. I appeal to physicians of large practice who know how common and deceptive diseases of the kidneys are, to lay aside professional prejudice, give their patients Warner's safe cure, restore them to perfect health, earn their gratitude, and thus be true physicians."

"I am satisfied that more than one-half of the deaths which occur in England are caused, primarily, by impaired action of the kidneys, and the consequent retention in the blood of the poisonous uric and kidney acid. Warner's safe cure causes the escape of albumen, relieves the inflammation and prevents illness from impaired and impoverished blood. Having had more than seventeen years' experience in my profession, I conscientiously and emphatically state that I have been able to give more relief and effect more cures by the use of Warner's safe cure than by all the other medicines ascertainable to the profession, the majority of which, I am sorry to say, are very uncertain in their action."

"Isn't that a straightforward, manly letter?"

"Indeed it is."
"Well, but do you know the author has been dreadfully persecuted for writing it."
"How so? What has he done to merit it?"

"Done? He has spoken the truth out of school, and his fellow physicians, who want the public to think they have a monopoly in curing diseases, are terribly angry with him for admitting professional inability to reach certain disorders."

"That letter created a wonderful sensation among the titled classes and the public. This jarred the doctors terribly. The College of Surgeons and Queen's College, from which institution he was graduated, asked for an explanation of his unprofessional conduct, and notified him unless he made a retraction they would discipline him."

bigotry of English medical men. The masses, however, having no sympathy with their nonsense, keep on using the remedy he so highly recommends and gets well, while the rich and able depend upon the prejudiced doctors and die!

A CHEAP DISINFECTANT.—The cheapest and most effective disinfectant and deodorizer for purifying and destroying sewer gas, foul air, and the sulphide of hydrogen and ammonium, generated in sewers and sinks, cess-pools, and on board passenger ship—the main cause of so many fatal fevers and epidemics—is a solution of chloride of lead.

To prepare this solution on a small scale for use, take one-eighth of an ounce of nitrate of lead and dissolve it in one quart of boiling water, and dissolve one ounce of pure common salt in about five gallons of water; mix the two solutions and when the sediment subsides pour off the clear solution and keep in a demijohn for use.

A cloth dipped in this solution and hung up in a sick room, or a little of it dashed into a foul sink will instantly destroy all offensive odors, by uniting with and neutralizing them.

The exact equivalent proportion is 100 grains nitrate of lead to 317 grains common salt. But it is well to have a small excess of salt.

TO KEEP RARE RIFE TOMATOES.—The tomato is so valuable a vegetable that it is well worth knowing how to keep them. If they are picked when just ripe and with a portion of the stems retained, and at once covered with a brine composed of a teaspoonful of salt dissolved in a gallon of water, they can be kept nearly all the year without noticeable loss of their freshness or taste.

POOR MAN'S PUDDING.—Slice some bread very thin, put a layer in your pudding dish, strew some tart berries over it (dried currants are the best, if dried they must be stewed,) then a layer of bread, and so on until you have as much as you want; the last layer must be bread. Then make a custard the same as you would for pie, enough to cover the bread. Bake until done. Serve with sauce made with water, thickened with flour to about the consistency of starch; stir in a lump of butter and sweeten to the taste.

TO SELECT FLOUR.—In selecting flour first look at the color. If it is white with a straw-colored tint, buy it. If it is white with a bluish cast, or white specks in it, refuse it. Second, examine its adhesiveness—wet and knead a little of it between the fingers, if it works soft and sticky, it is poor. Third, throw a little lump of dried flour against a smooth surface; if it falls like powder it is bad. Fourth, squeeze some of the flour tightly in your hands; if it retains the shape given by the pressure, that too is a good sign. It is safe to buy flour that will stand all these tests. These modes are given by all old flour dealers, and they pertain to a matter that concerns everybody—the staff of life.

TANGERINE ORANGES.—Any number of oranges and their weight in white sugar; slightly grate the oranges and score them round and round with a knife, but not to cut deep. Put them in cold water for two days, then tie them in a cloth and boil in the same water till rather soft—say an hour. Put the sugar on the fire with half a pint of water to each pound; let it boil for a minute or two, then strain it through muslin. Put the oranges into this sirup till it jellies—that is rather thick. The sirup need not cover the oranges, but they must be turned to get well done.

LENTIL SOUP.—Wash a quantity of lentils in cold water. Put them into a saucepan with plenty of fresh cold water, two onions stuck with cloves, and a blade of mace and a bay leaf tied together. Let them boil until done, adding at intervals small quantities of cold water. Strain off the water and add the lentils through a sieve. Dilute them with vegetable stock, or with the liquor in which they were boiled, to the consistency of a puree. Make it quite hot, add a pat of fresh butter and the yolks of two eggs, beaten up with a little water and strained. Serve with sippets of bread fried in butter.

"WELL, here's a killing bonnet!" exclaimed Blodden, turning around to look at a lady who had just passed.

"Why so?" asked his wife eagerly.

"Look at the dead birds on it!" cried Blodden.

Importation.
When you visit or leave New York City, save baggage express and in carriage hire, and stop at the Grand Union Hotel, 509 Grand Street, New York.

Home-made ether presses have gone out of service. Small, compact presses are now taking their place.

Something that will interest the Afflicted.
(From the Weekly Record, Dundee, N. Y.)
There are many people in this country who are suffering untold agony from the ravages of disease, who have been medicated until the very sound of the word "medicine" sends a thrill of horror through their sensitive organism, and yet they are still looking—looking for something that will prove a benefit to their shattered constitution and restore to them their health.

These Herbal Remedies, desires to say a few words, not with the intent to advertise a man who to-day is doing more for this class of sufferers than can be described, but because he knows, not only from personal experience, but from the experience of others, that what we are about to say in regard to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, is a fact, and it is a pleasure to let the sufferer know that there is a medicine that has done, and is still doing so much lasting benefit to the afflicted. Dr. Kilmer has been personally in the advertising columns of the Record for over two years, and during that period we have received many communications from those who, without solicitation, represented, and have always felt that we could safely recommend them. Dr. Kilmer is one of the best-remembered Physicians of the present day in the country. He has been personally examined and treated personally more patients at his large and fully equipped office in Binghamton yearly, than any other physician in the country.

These Herbal Remedies which he sends out are prepared and prescribed by him in his own private practice. Their component parts are carefully selected from Nature's great laboratory, and are compounded in a scientific manner so as to be especially adapted to the different forms of disease for which they are used. They are the result of years of hard, patient study of the science of medicine.

There seems to be at the present time a tendency toward a great many Kidney, Liver and Bladder troubles with the people of this country, and we wish to speak more particularly about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. We wish to say that we have never known of any medicinal "gush" for Dr. Kilmer, but knowing personally as we do, of many important cures wrought from the use of this medicine, we believe it to be one of the best remedies to encourage them to avail themselves of the use of this valuable Remedy.

We know Mr. Chas. E. Roe, of Unionville, Steuben Co., N. Y., who had Bright's disease, and was told by the best Physicians of Hornellsville, N. Y., that there was no hope for him, who was prevailed upon by a friend to try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root Kidney Cure. He did so, without the least idea of being benefited, but the result was most gratifying to himself and family, for he was cured. He says that he had the dreadful disease. Another case, that of Russell Sandford, of Wayne, Steuben Co., who had a terrible blood difficulty which would not yield to the medical skill of good doctors, who, at our own solicitation, tried Swamp-Root, and he told us after using several bottles his trouble was removed, although he had been told by the best Physicians that he would never be any better, and that his earthly career was limited. Our druggists here in Dundee told us they had sold hundreds of bottles of this medicine and in no instance have they ever heard aught but praise from the persons using it. We might mention a number of similar cases, but to our own personal knowledge, have been helped out of serious trouble by using Swamp-Root. We hope it will help some one, and we lay no claim to it, but we wish to say that we have seen it used by many one who is suffering with a Kidney, Liver or Bladder trouble. "It is worth its weight in gold."

Fogg—"Sorry, the fellow who runs the restaurant at the Crescent railroad station ought to be presented with a medal by the Humane Society. He saved half a dozen lives yesterday." Brown—"Did he? How did it happen?" Fogg—"By being out of pie."

"MRS. SOCIETY.—"I suppose you never hear of your daughter, who eloped with that young bricklayer?" Mrs. Oldham.—"Yes, he has got rich, and they are living in New York in fine style." "That is a comfort, certainly." "Has the foreign nobleman who married your other daughter returned to his castles yet?" "Oh no; he is just in love with America, and says he wouldn't think of going back to Europe." "Indeed! Where have they been during the last three or four years?" "Visiting the bricklayer."

"SAY, Scratchaway, you know I was telling you last night about the trouble I had with your father about the money he owed me, and your mother's terrible temper and some details of your Aunt Margaret's unfortunate marriage?" "Yes, I know." "Well, that was only a little confidential gossip, you know. I didn't intend it for an interlude." "Scratchaway—"Sorry, old boy, that's what I thought it was. It's all printed this morning."

"A LADY who had recently lost her husband and a friend were eating dinner together at the residence of the latter." "I sympathize with you from the bottom of my heart in your great sorrow," said the friend; "it must be terrible to lose such a man?" "Ah, he, yes," sighed the widow; "it is only the hope of meeting him in a better land that gives me courage and a desire to live."

LOTTE LITWAITE—"Come, Mr. Ponsby, let me read your palm. Ah! I see that the line of life is very long." Ponsby—"Is it—aw—crossed?" Lottie—"A little—the trials of married life I suppose." Ponsby (decidedly)—"That can't be you know, because I have sworn never to get married. What else?" Lottie (shortly)—"Nothing else."

"HE was an unsalted young man at the oyster festival given by the Dorcas Aid Society of Christ Church, and he was seated in front of a half dozen fried. A pretty girl was waiting on him." "Ah," he said to her as he selected the condiments from the castor, "have you any wished-you-was-here-sauce?" "Certainly," she replied, and sitting down she ordered enough stuff to put a dollar and a half extra into the coffers of the society."

"He says now he never did like a saucy girl."

A LARGE AND INFLUENTIAL FAMILY.—A certain distinguished United States Senator on one occasion was in Calcutta on a tour around the world, and among the places visited was the English cemetery. There were many noted Englishmen buried there, and such names as George Gordon, Bart., Henry Trevelyan, Bart., were numerous as to attract the Senator's attention. Finally he said: "My, my; this Bart family must be a large and influential one. I remember to have seen the name in London, but I had no idea they were such prominent people. Really, when I go back to England I must look them up and get better acquainted."

THE YOUNG IDEA.—Kind friend (to boy suffering tortures from toothache)—"With such fine white teeth as you have, George, you ought not to have the toothache." Georgia—"Oh, dear! Outwardly they are whiter sulphur, but inwardly they are a ravening wolves."

"MY DEAR," he said, "what is the difference between ingenious and ingenious?" "The difference between u and i, my love," she replied, and he scratched his head for a diagram.

A MOTHER SAVED FROM AN UNTIMELY DEATH.
Tears of Sorrow Turned to Smiles of Rejoicing.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 31, 1885.
PARDEE MEDICINE CO.—GENTLEMEN: I am now seventy-three years old, and until I was seventy was always strong and healthy; but the amount of suffering I have endured since that time is sufficient for a life-time. I had a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism, which completely prostrated me; my limbs and feet and in fact my whole body were so drawn out of shape that it was impossible to move without assistance. I was unable to straighten my limbs or to walk for several months, and my friends were called in to see me die. I was treated by three good physicians, but nothing they could do afforded me even temporary relief. Tongue cannot describe my suffering, but I had read so much of your Remedy, I was urged to let me try it. I had no confidence in it, but I had read so much of it, and of those who had been cured by its use, that it gave me confidence in it, although I could find little or no faith in so-called patent medicines.

I commenced using the Remedy as directed, and after taking it a short time could see that it was helping me. I began to perspire freely, and as the perspiration increased the pain decreased, but my clothing and bedding were so saturated with sweat that I was nearly as "yellow as saffron." I had taken the Remedy but a short time, when I could scarcely walk, and I felt that I was nearly as well as I had ever been. Thank God it has cured me, and I am as healthy and strong as before, and can walk and have as free use of my limbs as ever. I have recommended your Remedy to very many who were afflicted, and I do not know of a case that it has not cured. I am content that it will cure young people, if they will care at my age. You are all liberty to use my name, if it will be the means of inducing any poor sufferer to use your excellent Remedy. I am very gratefully yours, Mrs. JANE A. FLACK, 300 Jefferson Avenue, Rochester, N. Y.

The sale of Dr. Pardee's Remedy for the past three months in Western New York has exceeded that of any remedy known.

By cures wholly unprecedented in the history of medicine it has proven its right to the title of "The Greatest Blood Purifier" ever offered to the afflicted. We challenge any medicine to show an appreciation at home, or wherever used, like that which has been poured upon Dr. Pardee's Remedy. The permanent cure of all other remedies have failed for reputation that no other remedy has been able to attain. Send for pamphlet.
