ARROW-ROOT PUDDING, frozen, makes a tempting dish for dessert. To one quart of milk allow one tablespoonful of arrow-root and the well-beaten yolks of six eggs; sweeten to your taste; flavor with wine or with vanilla; put it into a mold and freeze. If you wish to take the trouble it is a pretty addition to the good looks of the pudding to make a fresting of the whites of the eggs, and after turning the pudding out of the mold on a platter, put the frosting all over it. If of an economical turn of mind the yolks of the eggs may be used for a cake. The milk should be boiled before putting the the most anxious for this legislation. arrow-root into it, and that should be rubbed smooth in a little cold milk. Fewer eggs may be used if it is thought desirable, and more arrow-root will be needed.

THE chief reason why the oil cloth on the kitchen floor wears out so soon, and makes it a heavy expense to keep it in good condition, is this: When it is washed it is not conscientiously dried; patches here and there are left moist, and the cloth soon becomes rotten, the coating peels off and all comfort from having a neat kitchen floor is dispensed with. A flannel mop will do wonders in the way of drying the out. floor. It should be of old, soft flannel, but there must also be a desire on the part of the one using the mop to do the South Carolina the average yield of work as it should be done, and she must be willing to take a cloth in her North Carolina it is twelve bushels; hand with which to dry the corners.

Serve with any sauce that you prefer. A spicy flavor is thought to be most suitable for this pudding, although lemon or brandy may be used.

A NOVELTY in fig cake is this: Make a cake after the following recipe and add to it one pound and a quarter of figs; cut the figs in thin slices or strips; dredge them with flour before putting them into the dough; one cup of butter, one and three-quarters of a cup of sugar, one of sweet milk, three pints of flour and two teaspoonfuls and a half of baking powder, the whites of ten eggs. As injuring the fig flavor, no spices or extract should be added. Bake in a moderate oven and be sure to line the tin with buttered paper. Frost the top only of the caks. A few drops of vanilla may be put into the frosting.

IF the cook has a little pie crust, or even a little of her best puff paste left after making pies, let her use it in this way: Line some patty pans with it, bake it, then put a spoonful of jelly or jam into each one, and pour enough boiled custard over each to fill it. If a patty-pan pie is an instrument of happiness to the children let it not be despised.

INEXPENSIVE wall banners, mantel covers and portieres add to the beauty and home charm of country cottages, while pieces of pottery, in good shape and size sufficient to hold the ferns, flowers, leaves, grasses, club rushes and cattalls, gathered in country rambles, may be placed in corners, on the mantel, the wall brackets and tables. Pictures for country houses should be few, and heads and figures of men, women, children and animals are preferable rather than landscapes.

A NOVEL and pretty table scarf may be made of dark crimson felt, trimmed with three-cornered pieces of silk or satin on each end. Have the pieces half a yard deep at the longest side. In the corner embroider or paint a spray of flowers. Where the satin or silk edge joins the center part of the scarf put a row of fancy stitches. Une end light blue and the other of crimson, shaded to brown, is handsome.

A HANDSOME panel for the wall is made of old gold satteen, with a band of velvet across the bottom, and silk balls of different colors as a finish. On the satteen work in outline stitch a large figure, with crimson or cardinal etching silk. A black velvet panel with a band of old gold plush, and with figures worked in bright silk, is pretty
