THE PRESS CLUB MONUMENT.

Dedication Services in Cypress Hills Cemetery Yesterday.
NEW YORK, June 13.—The dedicatory services of the burial plot of the New York press club, in which the stately granite shaft had been erected as a monument, began at 2 p. m. yesterday afternoon, and at least half an hour before that time all the paths converging upon it were black with dusty pedestrians eager to secure a vantage spot, from which to view the ceremonies.

All of the arrangements were of the most perfect character, and there were no delays in carrying out the programme. A stand had been erected at the western edge of the plot, and it was barely large enough to hold the speakers, the committee and the prominent guests of the club.
The exercises were opened with the singing, by the Brooklyn Amphion chorus of seventy-five voices, of "Integer Vitae." Prayer was then offered by the Rev. John M. Worrall, D. D., of the Thirteenth Street Presbyterian church. The report of the cemetery committee presenting the monument was read by Chairman William N. Pennington, and was repeated, briefly, but fittingly, by John A. Greene, president of the club.
The Amphyon chorus sang "Weary Hands, Oh, Weary Hands," as an interlude, and then Joseph Howard, Jr., delivered an address, in which he referred to the trials, the temptations, the disappointments and the rewards which were the portion of all workers in the journalistic field.

The Hon. Chauncey M. Depew then stepped to the front of the platform and delivered the oration of the day. He said that many men who had served as journalists had evinced a spirit as brave as soldiers on the battle-field. Editors, orators and heroes, he said, have sprung from the reportorial corps, and he compared reporters to the swift steamers of the ocean steamship companies. He urged every union and association to secure a burial plot for its members, and said that the greatest blessing a man could have when dying was the knowledge that his grave would be tenderly cared for. The world, in his opinion, was all the brighter and better for the love and good fellowship shown by the ceremonies of the day.
The Amphyon chorus sang, after which a dedicatory ode by Hugh Farrar McClenahan was read, and then Rev. T. De Witt Talmage was introduced. He spoke in a pleasant and stirring strain and said, among other things:
"Hail to old friends and old times, and to old Dr. Wood. He is amongst them as a bright life. Ninety-nine out of a hundred newspapers men are ever struggling."
The exercises closed by a benediction pronounced by the Rev. Wm. S. Rainsford, D. D., and the singing of the doxology by the audience.

THE SPECTACLE OF THE AGE.

Scenes of Ancient Grandeur to be Repeated Upon A Mammouth Stage.
NEW YORK, June 13.—All the scenery, described as the most elaborate and beautiful ever seen in this country, to be used in the grand spectacular, historical, biblical drama called "The Fall of Babylon," at St. George, Staten Island, has arrived and will be mounted at once. There were 30 car loads in all. The stage is 400 by 250 feet and it will be lighted by 45,000 worth of novel electric devices. The dressing rooms will be under the stage. The costumes, 2,300 in number, were all made in London and Paris from special designs. They are of the finest materials and cost about four times as much as those used in any spectacular play ever produced. The procession of Priests in celebration of the repulse of the Persians by the Babylonians, will be splendid, far excel in magnificence and novelty any pageant that has ever devised. There will be 1,000 living characters, elephants, camels and other huge beasts; moving tableaux, and other huge and quite resplendent features. The masses will be controlled and regulated by electricity from a distant point. In the "Fete of Babylon" gladiatorial and ancient pastimes will be seen to perfection. The city will eventually be destroyed by the Persians, who will use in the execution of their dire purpose, huge catapults, fire balls, battering rams, and other weapons of ancient practice. The value of the costumes, scenery, paraphernalia, designs, &c., is estimated at over half a million dollars.

MR. POWDERLY DECLINES.

He is Seized With Sudden Illness While Speaking in Boston.
BOSTON, June 13.—General master workman Powderly spoke here at a public meeting and said emphatically that he was not a candidate for re-election as grand master workman, and that under no circumstance would he accept the office again. He had been misrepresented and falsely accused, and he desired privacy and rest. He would however, continue to work in the interests of the order, even if he was obliged to pay for the privilege of so doing.
While speaking Mr. Powderly suddenly placed his right hand upon his left breast and his countenance assumed an expression of intense pain. A deep quiet pervaded the assembly. After a moment Mr. Powderly said he was unable to continue and sat down. A glass of water was given him and a few minutes later he again arose, expressed his regret at being obliged to abruptly conclude his remarks, thanked his audience for its kind attention and sympathy, and withdrew.
Subsequently many of the leading knights of Boston paid their respects to Mr. Powderly in the auto-room.
It is said that the general master workman is liable to compel him to cease speaking at any time when addressing a public meeting.

A Row Over McGlynn.

Chicago, June 13.—The invitation to Dr. McGlynn to visit Chicago by District Assembly No. 57, knights of labor, has caused a quarrel among the members of that organization. The Catholic members have protested against the invitation, and compelled the assembly to rescind the resolution to tender Dr. McGlynn an official reception. Only part of the members will attend the meeting at Central Music hall on June 21. "Dr. McGlynn has overstepped his clerical duties, and as true Catholics we are opposed to him," said James Sweeney.
Died After Two Years.
JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., June 13.—Cora B. Jeffers, the pretty daughter of a farmer near this town, who was shot two years ago by Israel Wolinski, because she refused to marry him, has died. Her death was caused by the wound Wolinski gave her. Wolinski shot himself in the eye at the time he shot Miss Jeffers and destroyed his sight.

THE BASE BALL RECORD.

Saturday's Championship Games—Standing of the Clubs.
NEW YORK, June 13.—The New York league team again gave evidence Saturday of its ability to beat the Washington team almost as bad as it wishes and while the victory affords satisfaction to the supporters of the club it exasperates them to think of the games that have virtually been given to the senators by the giants. They just simply did as they pleased Saturday and won with ridiculous ease by a score of 26 to 2. Boston got 11 runs to Philadelphia's 9. Detroit had to work hard in beating Indianapolis by one run, and Pittsburgh made Chicago struggle to get a victory of 6 to 4. Following tabulates the relative standing of the clubs up to date, which it will be seen is little changed by last week's record:

Team	Won	Lost	Played	Per cent.
Detroit	25	9	34	.735
Boston	24	11	35	.686
New York	21	16	37	.568
Chicago	16	17	33	.485
Pittsburgh	17	19	36	.472
Pittsburgh	14	18	32	.438
Washington	12	19	31	.387
Indianapolis	8	25	33	.242

In the American association the finest game of the day was played at State, where the Cincinnati men won by 3 to 1. At Brooklyn the home team won by 14 to 7, while the Athletic beat the champion St. Louis team 8 to 4, and Baltimore beat Cleveland 12 to 4.
Standing of the clubs:

Team	Won	Lost	Played	Per cent.
St. Louis	34	8	42	.810
Baltimore	29	13	42	.690
Louisville	21	21	42	.500
Athletic	21	20	41	.512
Cincinnati	22	22	44	.500
Brooklyn	20	19	39	.513
Cleveland	9	29	38	.237
Metropolitan	9	29	38	.237

CARDINAL GIBBONS SPEAKS.

BALTIMORE, June 13.—Cardinal Gibbons occupied his throne in the cathedral yesterday, and made a short address after the gospel. Instead of following the text for the day, he gave a few impressions of his European trip, which, he said, was by far the most interesting he had ever taken.
"First of all," he said, "I had a sense of the holy father, who has conferred on this great archdiocese and upon my unworthy person the high office of cardinal. Though he is deprived of his temporal possessions, he can safely say that to-day he exercises more power over the civilized world than any king or potentate, and although he has no military powers to back him, his words are more conducive to peace than the actions of all the standing armies of Europe. In his case it can be truly said that his voice is mightier than the sword.
He enjoys the love and veneration of 250,000,000 of Catholics, scattered throughout the length and breadth of the world and he has the respect and esteem of our separated brethren, who have not failed to recognize his many personal virtues, his benevolent character, and his broad state-manlike views. He has a special regard for this republic of ours and the citizens of the United States.
I have not time to enumerate the many pleasant incidents connected with my trip through England, Ireland, Scotland and Holland, but I observed in my travels through those countries that the social and material condition of America will not suffer by comparison."

The Closing of a Long Trial.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., June 12.—Prosecutor Hendrickson occupied the entire day in delivering his closing argument. At its conclusion the court adjourned until Monday, when the judge will charge the jury.
