POTATOES SINGLE EYES .- The potato is not a seed, but a part of the root of the plant, and the future crop depends much more on the soil and cultivation necessary to produce a vigorous plant than on the size of the piece planted. Still there is no getting around the fact that a large piece planted will start much more vigorous sprouts than little slices. In patient experiments in growing potatoes for the past twenty years my greatest blunder has been in cutting sets down to single eyes. I was taught to do so, and only abandoned it after repeated proofs of its fallacy. Much of the troable comes from dry ground, which extracts the moisture from the cut side of the plant, where there is no skin to retain natural juices. Result: The set curls up, looks like a dried peach and does not grow. But the most mischief is done by heavy rains and wet ground. Cutting a potato induces decay, A large part of the skin (nature's protector) is gone, hence a large portion of the sets rot, and the few which do grow are so injured in vitality as to produce tiny spindling plants, a sure and easy prey to the voracious bug. The smallest whole potatoes are worth more than the largest cut down to single eyes to plant. Please pay no attention to the theory that the whole potato will send up multitudes of little sprouts from each eye. It will do no such thing, but will only send up such sprouts as it can vigorously support; the rest of the eyes remain dormant. I like large, whole sets best when they are very cheap. I want to ask readers to test by planting cut single eyes, side by side, in alternate rows with uncut small potatoes. I plow deep, spread with horse manure, hog manure or ashes; work with sulky cultivator four inches deep, and cover with some tool, one drill at a time.

THE hog is the only animal kept on the farm without some provision for a regular supply of pure water. And when this is considered it seems strange that there is not more disease among hogs than there is. A drink of clear water has the effect to cleanse the system of many impurities and pass them off in the secretions and if a hog is deprived of water entirely, or limited to what he can extract from the slops, which are already saturated with filth, and obliged to wallow in filth and sleep in dust, how can his system be healthy or his flesh fit food? The comfort of the animal should not be overlooked and no animal is comfortable that is suffering with thirst, and sour milk and greasy dish-water and salt slops are not drink.

AN EXCHANGE makes a good suggestion in saying that "a much heavier sod and larger growth of either pasture or hay is obtained by sowing different kinds of grass seed on the same field, as each kind will find the kind of soil and plant food best adapted to its vigorous growth, and thus prevent vacant spaces, which are only filled as nature occupies them with noxious weeds." This rule is, however, most applicable in the older geological formations, as where the supporting rocks are nearly horizontal the soils are homogeneous over larger

THE young fruit trees will send up many shoots that will need trimming off and this should be done as soon as they make their appearance. The whole orchard should be gone over every week or two and all surplus branches be cut off as fast as they appear. This is much better than allowing them to grow to some size before cutting them off, and will not injure the trees so much.

MARSHALL I'. WILDER says that he has grown melons on the same patch for ten years; the ground has a southern aspect. He prepares a compost of manure, soil and guano, which he spreads on the land in addition to manuring the hills. Surface manuring he considered very important. He has no trouble with insects, as he gets up in the morning before they do.

IF NOT pruned, a Concord vine will set more fruit than it can mature. The object in pruning is to lessen the amount of fruit, thus securing larger clusters, larger berries, better quality, and enabling the vine to mature its 400 at Wellesley College, and 400 at University crop earlier. In trimming, if only of Penn. We eannot conceive how a system one bud could be left on every young shoot, it would be sufficient, but as sometimes the wood dies back for a few inches from the point cut, it is desirable to leave two buds.

THE faulty plums which will fall before ripening should be carefully destroyed, as the egg deposited in the fruit which caused it to drop from the stem will develop into parasites, which may utterly destroy the whole plum crop. For this very reason hogs should always have the run of the plum

To GET the best flavor to butter feed a fair proportion of corn meal and vary the diet with oats, middlings and bran, using the whole mixed with plenty of good clover hay. A proportion of linseed meal, with ensilage or roots, will also be found beneficial. The best method of feeding, however, will not avail unless there is proper management in the dairy.

One of the best deodorizers in stables is ground plaster. It may be sprinkled about the stands and over the manure heap daily. It will absorb the odors an I retain them, thus increasing the value of the dressing.

GIVE a little more attention to the meadows. They are drawn upon year after year with no return, and never yield what they should. In short, they become partially starved, and to be brought into the proper condition need a judicious tilling and manuring.

The Southdown sheep are somewhat small, but have a great proportion of meat to offal. They are brown and ray-faced, no horns thick, close wool between the ears, with fine form, and

That Tired Feeling

The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, com-plaint known as "that tired feeling," is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and scrength to all the functions of the body. "I could not sleep; had no appetite. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling; and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, Ohio.

I kept about, but I felt thoroughly miserable. I had terrible back-aches, and bearing-down sensations across me and was quite weak and discouraged. I sent and got some of the medicine after receiving your letter, and it has cured me. I hardly know myself. I feel so well.

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well,—can't sieep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Ain't really sick, and I really ain't well. Feel all kind o' played out, someway." That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" they would soon have no occasion to say it. The following words, in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a remedy for those delicate diseases and weak-nesses peculiar to women, must be of interest to every sufferer from such maladies. They are fair samples of the spontaneous expressions with which thousands give utterance to their sense of gratitude for the inestimable boon of health which has been restored to them by the use of this world-famed medicine

JOHN E. SEGAR, of Millenbeck, Va., writes:
"My wife had been suffering for two or three years with female weakness, and had paid out one hundred dollars to physicians without relief. She took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it did her more good than all the medicine given to her by the physicians during the three years they had been practicing upon her."

THE GREATEST EARTHLY BOON.

Mrs. Gronge Herger, of Westfield, N.Y., writes: "I was a great sufferer from leucorrhea, bearing-down pains, and pain continually across my back. Three bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' restored me to your feet health. I treated with Dr. ——, for nine months, without receiving any benefit. The 'Favorite Prescription' is the greatest earthly boon to us poor suffering women."

Mrs. Sophia F. Boswell, White Cottage, O., writes: "I took eleven bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of your 'Pellets.' I am doing my work, and have been for some time. I have had to employ help for about sixteen years before I commenced taking your medicine. I have had to wear a supporter most of the time; this I have laid aside, and feel as well as I ever did."

Mrs. May Gleason, of Nunica, Ottawa Co.

has worked wonders in my case.
Again she writes: "Having taken several bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I have regained my health wonderfully, to the astonishattending to the duties of my household.

TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from heave disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

Are a physicians and instituting comfort instead of prolonged mrs. E. F. Morgan, of No. 71 Lexington St., East Boston, Mass., says: "Five years ago I was a dreadful sufferer from uterine troubles. Having exhausted the skill of three physicians. I was completely discouraged, and so weak I could with difficulty cross the room alone. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and using the local treatment recommended in his 'Common Sense Medical Adviser.' I commenced to improve at once. In three months I was perfectly cured, and have had no trouble since. I wrote a letter to my family paper, briefly mentioning how my health had been restored, and offering to send the full particulars to any one writing me for them, and enclosing a stamped-envelope for reply. I have received over four hundred letters. In reply, I have described my case and the treatment used, and have earnestly advised them to 'do likewise.' From a great many I have received second letters of thanks, stating that they had commenced the use of 'Favorite Prescription,' had sent the $1.50 required for the 'Medical Adviser,' and had applied the local treatment so fully and plainly laid cown therein, and were much better already."

JEALOUS DOCTORS.

A Marvelous Cure.—Mrs. G. F. Sprague, of Crystal, Mich., writes: "I was troubled with female weakness, leucorrhea and falling of the womb for seven years, so I had to keep my bed for a good part of the time. I doctored with an army of different physicians, and spent large sums of money, but received no lasting benefit. At last my busband persuaded me to try your medicines, which I was losth to do, because I was prejudiced against ithem, and the doctors said they would get me some of your medicines, I would try them against the advice of my physician. He got me six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription,' also six bottles of the 'Discovery,' for ten dollars. I took three bottles of 'Discovery' and four of 'Favorite Prescription,' and I have been a sound woman for four years. I then gave the balance of the medicine to my sister, who was troubled in the same way, and she cured herself in a short time. I have not had to take any medicine now for almost four years."
