PENNSYLVANIA'S CITIZEN SOLDIERY TO PARTICIPATE IN THE JUBILEE.

Adjutant General Hastings has issued the following circular:

The Constitutional Centennial Commission having invited the National Guard of Pennsylvania to parade in Philadelphia on Friday, the 16th of September, the occasion of the centennial of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, and the same having been accepted, the following arrangements are hereby announced:

The Quartermaster's Department will furnish the necessary transportation. Brigade and regimental quartermasters will make specific detailed arrangements for the transportation of the several commands with William J. Latta, chairman transportation committee, Broad Street Station, Pennsylvania Railroad Company Philadelphia, to whom all communications on the subject will be addressed. No person will receive transportation unless a member of the National Guard of Pennsylvania and wearing the State uniform.

Quarters will be provided for the troops while in Philadelphia and arrangements therefore will be made on application to Colonel Theodore E. Wiedersheim, secretary military committee, division headquarters, City Hall, Philadelphia.

Fifty cents per day will be allowed by the Centennial Commission to each man for every day necessarily employed in going to and returning from Philadelphia, including the day of the parade, to be paid on the field return taken during the parade.

Each brigade headquarters will be allowed forty dollars for horse hire, and five dollars will be allowed each member of three brigade bands. Regimental commands will be, and field and staff officers may be mounted. Twelve dollars will be allowed each regiment for horse hire.

FRIDAY AT WILLIAMS GROVE.

Williams Grove, Sept. 2.—To one standing to-day at the managers' office on Grand avenue and looking up and down the lines of sheds and tents, scarce a diminution in the crowd was perceptible. The machinery still roared the Cheap Johns harangued and the tide of humanity eddied and surged much the same as yesterday. The total estimate reached nearly 25,000, by far the biggest Friday they have ever known.

At the morning meeting in the auditorium Colonel W. M. King, Chief of the Seed Bureau in the Department of Agriculture, addressed a large audience on how the department and Grange may cooperate.

D. H. Thing, a sturdy, practical Maine farmer, followed Colonel King. He said it is important that the Grange keep out of politics. It can do more for the farm by not mingling parties with the Grange. The influence of the Grange in favor of oleomargarine laws was much greater because it did not meddle in party politics. The Grange is pure; keep it so and all will be well.

The platform of the building was handsomely decorated to-day with flowers and bunting, above the central arch hung the arms of Pennsylvania supporting the motto, "Eato Perpetua," from which hung a large garland enclosing an eagle. On each side were samples of the famous Bohemian oats and wheat, which have occasioned of late such a financial ripple among the farmers of the valley.

The general management is in the hands of Colonel R. H. Thomas, assisted by his son, R. H. Thomas, Jr., who is treasurer for the camp. H. S. Mohler, secretary and superintendent, has charge of the machinery. S. N. Eminger, superintendent of the Grove police, has a force of thirty-two special police appointed by order of the Court to patrol the grounds and maintain order. Nearly all the State Granges have headquarters, and the National Grange has a big building in which to do its business, with private offices for the officers. This evening the local Granges were in possession of the platform. Some excellent part singing was done by a company of young people, members of the Montgomery County Grange, Md. Miss Brewer, of Grange 208, Bradford, Pa., gave several recitations which brought down the house.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousand of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call in cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

The information comes that ex-Governor Pattison is to succeed Secretary Lamar as the head of the interior department, the president having selected Mr. Lamar to succeed Justice Woods on the supreme bench. The plausibility of the story lies chiefly in the eminent fitness of the ex-governor for the place named.

TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE PRESENT TO SEE THREE CONDEMNED MEN DIE.

La Lucha, of Havana, Cuba, says: "At 7 this morning, 3d, Pedro Amaro, twenty-six years old; Jeronimo Diaz, twenty-one years old, and Jacobo Rodriguez, twenty-one years old, convicted kidnapers, who had belonged to the Martagas band of the Cuban bandits, were taken out of the royal jail in Matanzas and shot in the presence of over ten thousand people. Amaro and Diaz were perfectly calm and met their fate with bravery. Rodriguez was much affected and had to be taken to the place of execution in a carriage. He cried bitterly and was continually calling on his mother. Pedro Amaro was the father of four small children, who, with their mother, came to the jail the evening before the execution. It was a sad scene to see this man embracing for the last time his wife and four children. The men were made to kneel down and were shot by a company of fifty soldiers. They died instantly.

The wedding ceremony of a white man and an Indian squaw occurred last week. The Carlin-Dupree wedding took place on the Cheyenne River. The groom Douglas Carlin, is a grandson of Territorial Gov. Carlin, of Illinois, and is a nephew of Col. Carlin, of the regular army. The bride is the daughter of Frederick Dupree, a French half-breed. Her mother is the Queen of the Minneconjon band of Sioux. The ceremony was performed by Justice Kinnie, of this city, in the presence of 1,000 Sioux Indians and thirty whites.

After the ceremony was performed an old squaw came from a hut and chanted a dismal song as an indication that the Indians were satisfied. The medicine man of the Sioux then, with his head covered with a buffalo robe, burned herbs and invoked the blessing of the Great Spirit, after which two Indians rode white ponies across the plains and presented them to the bride and groom as evidence of the approval of the Great Spirit. The feast then began. It consisted of ten oxen roasted whole and 100 dogs boiled into soup. The presents made from the father were 500 cattle, 50 ponies and 50 domestic buffaloes. Dancing was kept up three days without intermission. As fast as one Indian was exhausted another took his place and the ball went on.

The bride is an ordinary looking squaw of no education. She was clad in a robe of black silk, with beaver fur trimmings, red ribbons and elk teeth ornaments. She is not a striking-appearing woman, but is regarded as a great catch, as she is reported to be worth $10,000 in her own right and is the heiress of the Dupree estate and $60,000 in cash and other securities. The Indians regard it as a great honor for a white man to marry a squaw. In this case they are greatly pleased, the rejoicing going on throughout the entire bounds of the reservation.

The price of Western cattle has fallen about one-half in the last three or four years, while the consumer must pay as much as ever for beef. The cattle industry has been greatly depressed, and consumers have been shamefully robbed by the action of a ring of middle-men in Chicago and Kansas City who exact tribute from both parties. The dressed beef men complain that the railroads discriminated against them in the matter of rates, and there seems to be sufficient ground for such complaint. The beef monopoly in Chicago and Kansas City was established by means of special low rate for freight and by enormous rebates. Is it maintained now in the same way? This a question which should receive the attention of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and some organization of consumers ought to procure evidence and cause an official investigation to be made.

A COUNTY TREASURER OF OHIO ROBBED OF FORTY-EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Greenville, O., Sept. 5.—The county treasurer's safe doors were found open this morning, and $48,000 are missing. The new treasurer, Henry Sichel, was to take charge of the office to-day. Captain Godeuch has been employed as night watchman at the treasury, and says the safe was all right and securely locked on Saturday night. Yesterday morning while asleep at home he received a note from Treasurer Simon, carried by the son of Treasurer Clerk Salzman, ordering him to give the key to the door leading to the treasury room from the hall to the boy and he did so. Coming to the treasury about 7 o'clock in the evening he found the hall door open and entering the room discovered the vault door open, and closing it he remained in the room all night without giving an alarm. Simon's son, Harry, was the first in the treasury this morning and was the first to give the alarm. Treasurer Simon was here yesterday, and it is claimed set the time clock. No one but him knew the combination of the inner safe doors leading to the money vault. The combination was not injured. Simon gives no account except to make out that the robbery had been committed unknown to him. He weeps and appears to be in great distress. His shoe store, containing a large stock, has been closed by the sheriff. The commissioners have ordered an investigation. Treasurer Simon and son, Harry, were arrested, the former charged with embezzling $35,000, and the son with grand larceny to the amount of $40,000. An examination was waived, and the treasurer gave $5,000 bail, and the son $3,000 for their appearance at the next term of court.

THE IMPROVED

Henry Monarch Fence Machine

COMMON SENSE REASONS WHY THE IMPROVED HENRY MONARCH FENCE MACHINE IS THE BEST AND HAS NO EQUAL.

- 1 Because the wire is stretched the full length of the field before the weaving is commenced. 2 Because any sized wire can be used, and either 2, 3, 4, or 5 double strands can be used, weaving all with equal facility. 3 Because any size, length, or style of picket, or slate, or board, can be used, weaving fancy iron pickets equally well and solid. 4 Because it will make a fence over rough and uneven ground, or up and down hill alike, making as good a fence as on even, level ground, and the machine being adjustable, the pickets are all woven plumb. 5 Because the Monarch machine stretches the wire tighter, thus making the strongest and best wire and picket fence. 6 Because any one, man or boy, can operate it, and there are no parts to get out of order and repair. 7 Because it is made of the best materials, and, with proper care, will last a life-time. 8 Because the price is within the reach of every farmer. 9 Because it is the only machine that forces the slate or picket firmly against the wire, thus securing the slate in such a solid and permanent manner that it cannot be pulled out, and breakage is impossible. 10 Because the fence made by this machine will turn all kinds of stock, and is much stronger than any barb wire fence, and completely obviates all danger of injury to stock. 11 Because by weaving past the post, and fastening the iron strands to the posts with staples, and not nailing the slate to posts, thus keeping the wood parts from coming in contact with each other, it will not hold the moisture or rot. This is a very important matter, as all boards in board fences soon rot off at post, and occasion continued expense for repair. 12 Because all kinds of old material can be used for making new fence. 13 Because it makes the handsomest, best, strongest, and most durable fence, and is the only first-class, practical fence machine in the world.
