The indignation of Judge White, of Kansas City, over a jury's verdict in the case of an attempted outrage on a mere child, was righteous indignation. After an absence of only three minutes, the twelve wise men returned a verdict of civic and industrial parade, consisting of guilty, and fixed the punishment at six 300 floats, 12,000 men, 3000 horses and months' imprisonment in the county jail' 150 bands of music. A French Minister's Indiscreet Speech.

LONDON, Sept. 15 .- At the unveiling of a nonument to Saussure at Chamounix, recently, a delegate from Geneva, in proposing a toast to France, jocularly said he hoped that France had no thoughts of annexation. M. Spuller, who is a member of the French Cabinet, replied that France has no longings for what does not beloug to her, but that she will certainly make all efforts to regain her lost property. This, in connection with Gen. Breart's vengeful utterances, has caused a sensation at Berlin.
