"A wet sheet and a flowing sea, a breeze that follows fast."

From his look-out the faithful old captain of yonder merchantman casts an uneasy glance at the distant horizon. Seel yonder a small speck of cloud "no larger than a man's hand." He watches it with his piercing eye for a few moments, then reaches for his long eyeglass. To his experienced view, this harmless little cloud betokens danger. Across his bronzed face there comes a look of determination, and, with quick orders to the seamen, the craft is put about and all sail made for the nearest harbor, where in apparent safety the anchor is dropped, and the hardy mariners watch the approaching storm with defiance.

The storm bursts! The decks have been clearad, the sails close furled, and all ordinary preparations made for an emergency. The storm increases but all seems

The mystery of death is even greater than the mystery of life. We think the links of our chain are strong, but we too seldom critically examine them for ourselves, and never really know that they will bear the strain that we put upon them. "I have a triend," said Dr. Dio Lewis, "who can lift 900 pounds, and yet is an habitual sufferer from kidney and liver trouble and low spirits." The doctor who was one of the wisest and safest public teachers of the laws of health, wrote:

"The very marked testimonials from college professors, respectable physicians and other gentlemen of intelligence and character, to the value of Warner's safe cure, have greatly surprised me. ## HOUSEHOLD.

TO MAKE A FISH NAPKIN. -Boiled fish, like corn, is best brought to the table in a cloth to keep it warm. For fish, a piece of linen about forty inches long, bp twenty-three wide, is required. It may be of tea toweling, fine crash or butchers' linen. Out of each corner cut a piece ten inches long by seven wide, which will leave the proper sized flaps to turn over at the four sides. On either flap embroider a bunch of coral, a fish-net, a spray of sea-weed, or some such design in washing silk. Spread the napkin on the dish, garnish it with parsley, lemon or egg, turn over the corners, and you will have a prettier dish than painted china. French table napkins are always long and narrow, like a towel, so that they cover the sides of the dress as well as the lap. This is a sensible improvement on the square napkin, which has as much too much one way and too little another as Dick's hat-band.

PAPER RACK .- A novel and very bright and ornamental rack to hang on the wall to hold papers or other light articles is made of fans. For the front take one fan, remove the wire from the bottom and spread the fan out straight; for the sides use fans only partly open; for the back you may use two fans partly opened with the handles tied together so that the back will be rounding over the top, or you may use pasteboard for the back and put one fan on that at the top, in any way that is ornamental. These fans are to be firmly fastened together, and may be tied at the corners with ritbon or with little cords and tassels. For the paper rack use large fans, and for bed rooms, where they would do service as hair receivers or receptacles for notes and cards, the smaller ones are in the best taste.

An ornamental panel can be made at a very trifling cost; it is, however, necessary to have on hand a stock of well pressed flowers and dried grasses. Daisies and buttercups, pansies and daffodils do particularly well for this work. A long, narrow panel of thin wood is covered with olive green Canton flannel or sateen, as their color will show the flowers to best advantage. The flowers and grasses are then arranged as gracefully as possible in a long cluster, and fastened to a panel here and there with gum. A narrow ribbon, loosely tied around the stems, has a good effect.

"Consumption Cure" would be a truthful name to give to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," the most efficacious medicine yet discovered for arresting the early development of pul-monary disease. The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing affiments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Br. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar aliments. A HOPELESS UNDERTAKING .- A lady who owns a dog and, incidentally by C. I. As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlbood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.
