USE OF OILIN WASHING.

Have you tried coal oil? This is the uestion which ladies all over the ward are asking each other in relation to the new method of washing cothing which was published in the Chronicle on De-cember 17. Those who have tried it are enthusiastic in its favor, because it does at least four things, namely: It saves time, it saves labor, it saves the goods and it cleanses the clothing more thoroughly than by any other method. Tes-timonials to its wonderful efficacy reach us by the dozen nearly every day. Soon after the recipe appeared one of the best known physicians in the town called to thank the editor personally for printing it, saying it was one of the best inventions he had ever heard of. We here reproduce the recipe with our fullest indorsement after repeated tests: Fill a good-sized wash-boiler with was ter, adding a pound of ordinary washing soap, shreded fine, and when the soap is dissolved, two and a half tablespoonfuls of headlight oil. When the water has come to a boil put in the finest white goods, turning them over occasionally, and taking them out in ten minutes; then place in clear (hot) rinsing water and from that into the blueing water. No rubbing is required ordinarily, and the clothes are soft and of a dazzling whiteness. Should any speck of dirt re-main, a slight rubbing with the hands will remove it without the addition of

When the finer goods are taken out of the boiler coarse goods can be put through the same process, then flanels (white) and then towels, after which the water is still serviceable to wash colored goods. Should the water boil low add more, and also half a pound (shreded) ly were capital ones for cat soap and another spoonful of oil. That es. Did you ever try it? is all there is about it; and if these simple directions are followed the terrors of wash-day will belong only to the past, and hundreds of toil-worn women will take on a new lease of life,-Manayunk Chronicle.

During the temporary absence of her attendant Mrs. Myers, while laboring under an aberration of mind, arose from her bed and wandered out of the house.

CHASED BY WOLVES.

Lock Haven, Pa., Jan. 20.-Simon Loder and Chris Raymond, two lumbermen of the Larry's Creek region, Lycoming county, while driving from English Centre, on Pine Creek, to White Pine, near the headwaters of Larry's Creek, declare that they were pursued by a pack of six wolves for several miles on 16 inst. One of the men had a revolver and wounded two of the animals, one while it was attempting to jump into the sleigh. The region is very wild, and although bear and catamounts are still numerous thereabouts, it has been many years since even the sign of a wolf has been seen before in the region.

We might add that it is not over 8 or 10 years ago, a pack of wolves were roving through the mountains of the north side of Penns valley for several weeks.

From the Gazette, Jan. 20:

The Hessian. on the south side, is making a vain effort to make it appear that another buggaboo is looming up in his path to riches, which he hopes to have condemned and destroyed, and with this end in view sent the news to a certain journal that W. B. Mingle was furnishing the money for a job printing office in Centre Hall and that eventually a newspaper would be started, which, however, was not intended to injure the mackeral wrapper—the Reporter. The truth of the matter is, the job office referred to was started five or six years ago and no part of the capital needed for it or any other printing establishment in that place was furnished by Mr. Mingle. It is the same material which once before almost caused the Hessian to tear the polished portion of his jeans out, that is causing rest-less nights for the champion of the defunct court house ring. Knowing that no one takes account of what appears in the slanderous sheet, the devil suggests to the editor of the mackeral wrapper (and he acts at once) that he makes hirelings of his contemporaries and bid them publish his diabolical squips sent by telephone. When the tool of the defunct ring organ in this instance discovered that it had been belied a manly retraction of the assertion was made. From the Gazette, Jan. 20:

Many farmers are engaged in going over their ranches hunting dead sheep and shearing the carcasses. In San Saba county, a large ranchman, with a half dozen cowboys, went out huning stock, and, returning half frozen, they left their foaming horses standing outside while they entered the house. Half an hour afterward every horse was found dead, covered with ice.

A dispatch from Lompasas, Tex., says: Another blizzard struck this section Sat-urday night. Reports of the disastrous effects of the unprecedented cold spell of last week continue to arrive from distant sections surrounding this city. Loss of sheep was very heavy, owing to the fact that very few ranches are provided with adequate shelter for sheep. It is estimated that fully 20,000 sheep perished in the counties of Lampas-as, Brown, Hamilton, Coryell and San Saba, all large wool producing counties.
