

"ALL NATIONS WITNESSES."

The Wonderful Mistakes of Scientists and Educators.

"Prove all things" seems to be the guiding maxim of the people of this age.

This would be all right, were it not for the "know-all" in every community, who are sure that every inventor of a new idea is a "crank," and that every new invention is "utterly impracticable."

The astonishing fact is that in this class educated men and scientists are found. In the days of George Stephenson, the inventor of the locomotive engine, the scientists proved conclusively that a railway train could never be driven by steam-power successfully without perils; but the rushing express trains all over the world show how mistaken they were.

There went up a guffaw of laughter at Professor Morse's proposition to make the lightning of heaven his errand boy, and it was proved conclusively that the thing could never be done; but now all the news of the world by Associated Press, put in your hands every morning and night, has made all nations witnesses.

Rev. Dr. Talmage in one of his sermons says: "If ten men should come to you when you are sick with appalling sickness, and say they had the same sickness and took a certain medicine, and it cured them, you would probably take it. Now, suppose ten other men should come up and say, 'We don't believe that there is anything in that medicine.' 'Well,' I say, 'have you tried it?' 'No, I never tried it; but I don't believe there is anything in it.' Of course you discredit their testimony. The sceptic may come and say 'There is no power in your religion.' 'Have you ever tried it?' 'No, no.' 'Then avail!' 'Let me take the testimony of the millions of souls that have been converted to God, and comforted in trial, and soled in the last hour. We will take their testimony as they cry 'We are witnesses!'"

The proprietors of Warner's safe cure have received over 10,000 voluntary testimonials to the efficacy of that medicine. These have come from almost every civilized country, and they may fairly claim "it has made all nations witnesses."

The evidence comes from all classes. The highest medical authorities, like Dr. Robson late surgeon in the English navy and Dr. Wilson, editor of "Health," of London, Eng.; and clergymen of the highest reputation like Rev. Dr. Rankin, ex-chaplain of the U. S. Senate, and Dr. Kendrick of the Rochester University, one of the international revisers of the new testament, are among the published witnesses.

Hundreds of these testimonials have been and are being published. They can be easily verified. A standing offer of $5,000 for proof that any one of them is not true, so far as the proprietors know, is a fair guarantee of their genuineness.

If a man is suffering from any one of the ailments, of which there are so many, growing out of kidney derangement, it is not more than foolish for him to refuse to try Warner's safe cure when thousands testify they have been cured by it.

Think of it! The men who refuse to believe that anything can be valuable because it is in conflict with old ideas and methods are the men who "get left" in this world and go before their time to try another.

FARM NOTES.

It is important now to see that good drainage is provided, especially with newly set trees or plants. It will not answer to allow the water to stand around the roots to freeze and thaw. If a good tile drain should be laid between each row of fruit trees, this, of course, would be the best. But where this cannot be done good surface drainage can be made to answer, provided care be taken to do the work properly. See that whatever material may be used will be spread evenly between the rows.

In window gardening it should be remembered that we have all degrees of temperature at command, from freezing to torrid. Shelves or brackets at different heights should be provided to meet the requirements of heat needed by different plants. Coleus on the window-sill will drop its leaves and go to pieces; on the top shelf it will make luxuriant growth. Other instances might be given, but care, watchfulness and a little experimenting will soon show the window gardener where each specimen will do best.

An ingenious plan to save a dying pear tree was adopted in the garden of L. M. Chase, of Boston. The nice had girdled the tree so that it seemed bound to die. Mr. Chase planted four small trees around it and close to it, cut off the tops, pointed the ends and, making incisions in the bark of the pear, bent the small trees and grafted them upon the dying trunk. They all lived and that tree draws its nourishment from the small ones. Last season a bushful of handsome pears were taken from it.

Pigeons are not troublesome, and afford much interest to those who have the time to attend to them properly. The fancy kinds, such as pouters, tumblers, fantails, barb, owls and carriers, may be kept in the same loft, but they must be mated first. This must be done by confining a pair together away from the others. After the pigeons shall have been all mated no danger will arise of distinct breeds mixing.

SOMEBODY advises that in saving seed corn the selected ear be neither husked nor separated from the stalk on which it grew, but the stalk and unhusked ear be hung up in a dry place until the planting season shall have come round. The claim has been advanced that seed so kept has greater vitality, and produces more vigorous plants than even that which is husked and afterwards dried by fire heat.

"KNOWLEDGE IS POWER," said the lecturer, and then he went on to expatiate upon the truth of his proposition.

He had been speaking half an hour, when he was suddenly pulled up by a dirty-faced man in the corner, with the remark, "I say, mister, p'raps knowledge is power, but I'm somehow reminded of what I read in my boy's school-book last night, that what's gained in power is lost in time." The lecturer came to a sudden conclusion.

"YOU'LL have to let me have some money next week," she said to her husband after dinner. "What for?" "Oh, I've got to get a lot of things." "Why, you don't need anything. It's only two days since—" "Yes, but the dry goods stores are falling, and they'll be selling everything at a sacrifice, and things will be dirt cheap." "But you don't need them." "That doesn't make any difference."

A GERMAN poet refers to a fisherman as being typical of a young girl. He says: "The eyes are the hook, the smile the bait, the lover the gudgeon, and marriage the butter in which it is fried." * * * Marrying a woman for her money, says a philosopher, is very much like setting a rat trap and baiting it with your own finger.

PROFESSOR CARELESS.—First orchestra rehearsal of Pinafore—to boozey musician: "Look here, you're not fit to handle an instrument. What do you mean by coming here in that condition?"

MUSICIAN—(smiling sleepily): Hic! Didn't you call a full orchestra rehearsal?"

LITTLE Fred (who has listened solemnly to an account of the recent earthquake)—"Mamma, do we belong to the Presbyterian Church?" Mamma—"No, dear." Little Fred—"To any church?" Mamma—"No, child; why?" Little Fred—"don't you think it's about time we were getting in somewhere?"

AN accepted suitor, one day walking with the object of his affections, said: "How transported I am to have you hanging on my arm!" "Upon my word," said she, "you make us out a very respectable couple, when one is transported and the other hanging."

FIRST gentleman—"Let's return. Miss Othage has begun to sing." Second gentleman—"Thanks; rather be excused." First gentleman—"What! Refuse homage to the belle of the ball?" Second gentleman—"Not at all; it's the bawli of the belle I have no homage for."

A VERY GOOD REASON, TOO.—Inquisitive customer (to drug clerk): "Do you ever give morphine for quinine?" Drug clerk—"You bet I don't. Morphine is worth more."

PHOTOGRAPHER (mechanically)—"Now look pleasant, please. (With agitation)—Oh, don't smile quite so much; I have only a small plate in."

GOOD ANY TIME.—Physician—"You are to take this mixture after meals." Poor patient.—"But it is very seldom, doctor, that I get a meal." Physician.—"In that case take it before meals."

A THING OF BEAUTY

For the Year 1888—Be Sure to Get One.

A thing of beauty may be a joy forever, but C. I. Hood & Co., the enterprising proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla, are quite content to make a thing of beauty an annual affair. Their third Household Calendar is the thing of beauty which will represent them, and serve the public, during the year 1888.

How many of these calendars do you publish, was asked Mr. Hood. "The exact number of Household Calendars we issued for 1888 was 3,100,000. And you will find that that old hundred thousand would be considered a 'very large order' by other concerns who issue calendars."

Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co. have taken another new departure in 1888, and have issued Hood's Office Calendar, magnificent in size and attractiveness. It is like the Household Calendar only very much larger. On the back the marvellous growth of C. I. Hood & Co.'s business is illustrated by finely lithographed pictures of the various buildings the firm has occupied, including their present mammoth laboratory. The figures on the pad are big, and altogether it is just the thing for one's office or place of business. Owing to its very great cost the charge for the Office Calendar is twenty-five cents, sent by mail.

Copies of the Household Calendar may be obtained at the drug stores, or by sending six cents in stamps to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Rheumatism originates in lactic acid in the blood, which setting in the joints causes the pains and aches of the disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures rheumatism by neutralizing the acidity of the blood, and giving it richness and vitality. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Never justify ingratitude.

The use we make of our fortune determines its sufficiency. A little is enough if used wisely, too much if expended foolishly.

The Sweetest Girl in School. "She's the sweetest girl in school!" enthusiastically exclaimed one young man to another, as they passed down the street together. "Edith is so kind, and gentle, and unselfish, every one likes her. And she has lovely golden hair and pretty eyes. Isn't it a pity her complexion is so bad; it spoils her looks. And then she has such dreadful headaches!" The girls skipped along, but it happened Edith's mother had heard what they said. It set her thinking. What could be done for those headaches and the rough, muddy complexion, that was such a trial to her lovely daughter. She recalled what she had read of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and on the spur of the moment she slipped into a drug store and bought a supply. Edith took it faithfully, with the result that it cleared her discolored blood, relieved the headaches, made her skin soft, fair and rosy, and now she is not only the "sweetest girl in school," but the most beautiful.

Men love to hear of their power, but have an extreme disinclination to be told of their duty.

Of obscure the road that leads to health, Unmarked by board or sign; Wisdom avails not, powerless is wealth To show the path of riches to the end. But do not despair, with life there's hope, The cloud conceals the sun; With Pierce's Favorite Prescription at hand You life's full course may run.

More truth than poetry in these lines, as thousands of ladies all over the land now blooming with health, testify to the great curative powers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, adapted by much research and careful study to the happy relief of all those weaknesses and ailments peculiar to females. TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE. Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion, or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present alike to the physician, and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and powders, assuming them to be really, they are all only symptoms caused by some wrong disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, directed to the cause, would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

3 PHYSICIANS FAILED. Mrs. E. F. MORGAN, of No. 71 Lexington St., East Boston, Mass., says: "Five years ago I was a devoted sufferer from uterine troubles. I have exhausted the skill of three physicians. I was completely discouraged, and so weak I could hardly cross the room. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and using the local treatment recommended in his 'Common Sense Medical Advice.' I commenced to improve at once. In three months I was perfectly cured, and have had no trouble since. I wrote a letter to my family paper, briefly mentioning how my troubles were cured, and enclosing a stamped envelope to any one writing me for them, and enclosing a stamped envelope for reply. I have received over four hundred letters. In reply, I have described my case and the treatment used, and have earnestly advised them to 'do likewise.' From a great many I have received second letters of thanks, stating that they had commenced the use of 'Favorite Prescription,' and had applied the local treatment so fully and plainly laid down therein, and were much better already."

A VOICE FROM CALIFORNIA. Mrs. E. F. MORGAN, of No. 71 Lexington St., East Boston, Mass., says: "Five years ago I was a devoted sufferer from uterine troubles. Retrieved Womb.—Mrs. E. F. KOHLER, of Crab Orchard, N.Y., writes: "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done me a great deal of good. I suffered from retroversion of the uterus, for which I took two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and I am now feeling like a different woman."

Doctors Failed.—Mrs. F. CORWIN, of West Creek, N. Y., writes: "I doctored with three or four of the best doctors in this part, and I grew worse until I wrote to you and began using your 'Favorite Prescription.' I used three bottles of it, and I am now feeling like a different woman. I also used one bottle of the 'Purgative Medical Discovery,' also one and a half bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I feel like a new woman, and am in better health than I ever expected to be in this world again. I owe it all to your wonderful medicine."

A MINISTER in a Dakota town was speaking of a certain young man living in the place.

"No," said the divine, "I don't like him. He is a low, worthless fellow, and I don't want anything to do with him under any circumstances." "My dear," interposed his wife "it isn't right to talk that way about any one. The boy is young yet and may reform." "No, he never will." "But you mustn't be so severe on him. If you would try you might possibly help him to be something better." "I shall never try. If he should come into my church I would consider it my duty to order him out." "Don't talk that way! What has he done to cause you to have such unchristian feelings against him?" "What has he done? Well, he's done enough. He's got a trick of making a noise like two dogs fighting, and for the last two Sabbaths he's got under one of the church windows and stamped the whole congregation. I tell you it would make you have unchristian feelings to see your congregation falling over one another in getting out the door, and hear the leading Deacon shouting that he'll bet $2 on either dog!"

CITY Editor (to reporter)—How thick is the ice on the mill pond, Robinson? Reporter—"About an inch." CITY Editor—"Well, I saw a little boy going in that direction with a pair of skates slung over his shoulder; you had better saunter down that way." Reporter—"Shall I stop him from going on the ice?" CITY Editor (with intense scorn)—"Stop—him—from—going—on—the-ice! (Turning to speaking tube)—Cashier, pay off Robinson and discharge him."

"Now isn't it true that you went to the girl's father and tried to settle the case against the defendant?" asked Lawyer S.—of a dark-skinned witness during the recent session of Court. "Yes, sah, I did sah," was the darky's prompt reply. "Oh, you did," spoke up the counselor, "you acted the peacemaker; are you a peacemaker by occupation?" "No, sah," earnestly replied the witness, "I se a brickmaker." And the judge joined in the smile.

CAPTURED BY A SNAP SHOT.—He (trying to get out of it pleasantly)—I'm awfully sorry that I must go to-night, Miss Bessie. What an agreed! two weeks we've had of it. I will go and ask your father—(he was going to say "to harness the horse.") She—"Oh, William, I knew it would come and I asked pa yesterday so as to save you the trouble. He's more than willing."

THE ONLY GUARANTEED CURE FOR WOMEN. TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE. Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion, or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present alike to the physician, and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate
