CENTRE HALL, PA. THURS, MAR. 8, 1888

TERMS.—One year, $1.50, when paid in advance. Those in arrears subject to previous terms.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Coming—bad roads. George Burkholder, of Ohio, is here on a visit. Our esteemed friend, Mr. Benner at Old Fort, is on the sick list.

John Krumbine has fixed up a paint shop on his property down town. The Methodist minister of Centre Hall charge will hereafter reside at Millheim.

We are glad to hear that S. W. Bairfoot, of Bellefonte, is improving in health. Mrs. Harper, mother of our townsman Simon Harper, has been quite ill for some time.

The funeral of Mrs. Jacob Wagner, at Tusseyville, last week, was one of the largest held there.

From the manner in which our physicians are on the go, there must be considerable sickness in the country districts.

D. C. Keller flitted to his farm, near this place, on Tuesday morning. W. P. Shoop will move into Mr. Keller's property.

We learn that the Bohemian oats fellows are not far off, and moving this way. Let 'em alone. We have enough wild oats without importing more.—Lewistown Chronicle.

Mrs. John Rishel's sale of live stock and farm implements, near the Stone Mill, will take place on Saturday, March 17, instead of Friday March 16, as announced by others.

David Kunkle, manager left our station for the City on Monday morning. When he ships, his car contains everything in the line of live stock from a banty rooster to a fat steer.

If you want a cheap building lot, on easy payments, read advertisement in the REPORTER. The best bargain ever offered at Centre Hall, and not for speculation, but to induce improvement.

Let us have a real live land boom in and around Centre Hall, which would be far better than any body's presidential boom. Now then, leave her up, boys. There's nothing like a boom.

A conference of railroad men was held in Millintown last week, to take into consideration the continuance of the Shade Gap railroad from that place to Millin station, by way of the Tuscarora valley.

T. H. Harter, Esq., of the Middleburgh Post, visited here last week. Tom is a graduate of the Reporter office, printing a spirited paper, making money, and finds time to catch trout, shoot birds and kill deer.

Mr. Whiteman commenced work the other day for the erection of a dwelling house on the lot next to Dauberman's residence. When the weather opens up we expect to see quite a building boom at this place.

The following officers were elected for the Georges Valley Lutheran Sabbath School for one year: John Coldren and Ira T. Barger, Supts. H. M. Cain, Sec. Jerry Zettie and Robert Sweetwood, Lib. Sam'l Harter, Treas. J. D. Wagner, Pres.

Prof. Manger, of Douglasville, Pa. arrived last Friday at this place, for a short visit. He is looking hale and hearty and seems to be flourishing in Berks Co. He informs us that he has laid aside the trials and tribulations of a pedagogue and is devoting his time to trying to unravel the knotty problems of law.

The announcement has been made that Rev. Thomas McGovern, the new bishop of the Harrisburg Catholic diocese will be consecrated at Harrisburg on March 11. A hundred and fifty bishops and priests will participate in the ceremonies. Father McGovern was formerly of Bellefonte, and a subscriber of the REPORTER.

A farmer of Washington county, Illinois, just before taking a drove of hogs to market, gave them a lot of salt and then all the water they could drink. This was to increase their weight. Fourteen of them died on the way to town, and the smart farmer's little trick cost him just $150. We trust it was not one of our Centre county farmers, that went to Illinois; who did this.

In Chester county, a few weeks ago, Lizzie McCabe, a little girl, fell from a log crossing a stream in Schuylkill township, and was injured very seriously. Her father presented suit against the township authorities and offered to settle if they would pay the doctor's bill. This they refused and the case closed in court there yesterday in the jury finding for plaintiff a verdict of $1,025.

Mr. Jerome Spigelmeyer has been confined to the house for the past week with heart trouble. On Wednesday evening, after supper, he proceeded to the cellar to fetch a bucket of coal and had hardly reached the room when a severe attack overtook him and he was obliged to take his bed at once. At this writing he is fairly well but his physician advises great care and rest.—Journal.

From Sunbury to Lock Haven there are sixteen National banks, and at the close of the 14th instant they had on deposit a total of $4,425,790.52. This large sum represents the thrift and prosperity of the West Branch Valley. There are very few, if any, districts the size of this in the United States that can excel it in the wealth of its citizens, as shown by these bank statements.—Sunbury Daily.

Three aged men and two women passed off within the same week, viz: Michael Musser and John Bright, of Aaronsburg; John Delong, of Miles twp., and Mrs. Jacob Wagner and Mrs. Jacob Spangler, of Tusseyville. Thus are the old landmarks dropping out, and others fast crowding in, who, in turn, will also journey to that bonny whence no traveler returns. Heed the warning: Prepare to meet thy God.

A provision of the Brooks liquor license law generally overlooked is that any physician who shall willfully prescribe any intoxicating liquors as a beverage to persons of known intemperate habits shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500 and undergo an imprisonment of not less than 10 nor more than 90 days.

FLIT AND SKIP.

Flit and skip, will be the order of the month—up to all-fool's day. Millheim will be turned inside out by flitting around, we are told, and a new directory will have to be gotten out, to know who is your next door neighbor, and where all the folks changed round to.

Centre Hall will have more pulling than usual, and until all get fixed in their new homes, there will be a lively time, and some will forget where their new homes are, and enter the wrong house, and find their own folks not at home.

In the country districts, throughout the valley, there will be an unusual scene of flitting. Many farms change hands and teams with fittings will make the roads lively from this on to April 1.

The young folks enjoy these flittings, as they always afford an opportunity to have a good time and a tip of the light fantastic toe the first night at the new abode, and every feller is cute enough to have his best girl along, or get in with some other lassie. A flitting of this kind is a big thing in the line of enjoyment for the helps, but the opposite for the old folks who have stoves to place, with pipe to fit, and beds to put up, and furniture to place just where it suits, and so on.

Yes, flitting has its bright and its dark sides—depending upon the interest you have in the commotion.

Some folks flit every year, and get used to it. We have known families to change homes six times in one year, covering a distance, piecemeal, of forty miles.

Then we have the gypsies, they flit all the time, and make their living by flitting, while ordinary people find it a losing game to flit.

A common expression just now is: "Well, Jeck, wo ziegt onne des free Yore?" "Ei, ich zieg noch der Eilestadt, wo ziegt du onne, John?" "Wei ich zieg noch Smoketown, un der Pit zieg noch Smoketown."

COBURN.

On last Friday morning Mrs. Everhart died, aged 65 years. She had been confined to her bed for some time and suffered greatly. She was buried on Sunday forenoon at Aaronsburg, Rev. M. L. Deitzler officiating.

Mrs. George Ramston died this morning. She had been a great sufferer for several weeks, being unable to lie down. She was liked by everybody and was kind hearted and a good neighbor.

On Monday evening the Millheim band came down to Coburn and serenaded several of our citizens. Their first call was at Mr. Shaffer's, our new landlord, where they played several pieces. All he could set up to the boys was the cigars. The band left his house with $5.00 more in the treasury. Mr. Shaffer is there every time and the boys will find it so. Our merchants treated them with cigars. Come again boys, you are always welcome.

Two cars of walnut logs were shipped from our station this week. A Mr. Long from Howard shipped a car of wheat for which he paid 90c. per bushel—fair price for wheat.

Doris Cassler took a trip to Sunbury on business. O. K. March 7, 1888.

HOW TO HANDLE MINORS.

The following we clip from the Lewisburg Free Press, and is a new method of handling minors. We would advise our landlords to adopt the same plan and protect themselves.

John Miller, proprietor of the Union House, in this place, has adopted a new mode of protecting himself from being imposed upon by minors, who seek drinks at his bar. It is a blank form to be signed by any person who applies for liquor if a doubt exists in the mind of the bar-tender, that the applicant is not of age, certifying that he is 21 years old and entitled to all the legal privileges accorded to man. The signer also repudiates any intention of obtaining liquor by false statements, and assumes all responsibility, if any arises, from the purchase of liquor at that bar. This is witnessed by some one present. If the applicant refuses to sign the blank, he gets no liquor there. The idea is a good one for others to adopt.

AWFUL RESULT OF A JOKE.

Hillsboro, O., Feb. 28.—Six miles South-east of here lives William Meese, a wealthy farmer. Last Thursday night the young folks of the neighborhood met there at a merry-making. While the fun was at its height two sisters named Stover left the house and dressed up in a ghastly fashion. They wrapped themselves in sheets, put on false faces made of dough and then burst suddenly in upon the guests. Four young ladies fainted at the sight of the apparitions. Two were restored to consciousness without trouble, but others, Dora E. Akins and Lizzie Chaney, were restored only to pass into a condition of frightful delirium, screaming and crying constantly. The physicians have but slender hopes of the recovery of their reason.

DEATH OF JOHN DELONG.

Mr. John Delong, who had his home on the Sugar Valley mountain, died on Sunday, 26 ult., in the 96th year of his age. Mr. Delong was, no doubt, the oldest man in this section, and almost near the 100, seemed as hale and hearty as the best of men at 75.

John Delong was born in Straudsburg, Pa., on the 17th day of Aug. 1792,—lived in Bordenstown, N. J., during the earlier years of his life. Came to Centre Co., Pa., in 1845, which has been his permanent home since. His parents were refugees from the island of San Domingo being French Huguenots. He was a second cousin of Rev. J. F. Delong, of Lewisburg, and a grand uncle of Lieut. Delong of artie fame. The last several months of his life was spent in the bosom of his family.

The one remarkable thing about him was, that he did not show his great age, and his young appearance was only in keeping with his vitality and activity. He was well known all thro' Sugar, Brush and Penns valleys. He was a hardworking man; taught school in his earlier years, and forty years ago, taught penmanship in the valleys above named and was one of the finest penmen of his day. The writer was one of his pupils but, alas, never one of his imitators in fine chirography. Many readers of the REPORTER will remember Mr. Delong, the writing master, as we called him near half a century ago.

He took to farming, cleared a tract in Sugar valley and made his home on it. He was genial, sociable, and honest. In the last few years he traveled Centre and Clinton counties as a salesman for agricultural implements, and the nearly a centenarian, he displayed a remarkable activity of body and mind, and tact for business, up to his end.

His remains were buried in Miles township, Tuesday following his demise. Peace to his ashes.

THE LAW ON SIDEWALKS.

For the information of all interested, we copy the sections of the law bearing upon the matter of constructing side walks in boro's. The act of assembly, says, see Purdon, p. 117, sec. 22, that the Boro has power "to require and direct the grading, curbing, paving and gutting of the side or foot-walks, by the owner or owners of the lots of ground respectively fronting thereon (street or turnpike), &c.

Sec. 23. To cause the same to be done on failure of the owners thereof, within the time prescribed by the general regulations, and to collect the cost of the work and materials, with twenty per centum advance there on from said owners," &c.

The above is from the act of 1851, the supplement of 1853, May 22, continues these powers.

These acts of assembly are plain and unmistakable, and the town council of Centre Hall understanding them, passed the following ordinances.

BORO ORDINANCE.

1. That all owners of lots, ground or other real estate in said borough, fronting on any of the streets of said borough, shall construct at their own expense such pavements or side walks as the Council shall direct either by ordinance or resolution.

Section 2, of the ordinances, directs that where the owners of such lots or ground refuse to put down walks, after being duly notified, such walk shall be constructed by the Street Commissioner, and all expense for same be charged against the owner of grounds or lots.

The council having sworn to obey the laws of the commonwealth as well as the ordinances enacted by themselves, must make the owners of the lands or lots pay for the walks, and not the tax-payers of the boro', for which we can find no warrant in the law. Will they attempt to go back on their own ordinances and the law, as quoted above, and will the auditors allow it if attempted?

LICENSE COURT.

Court sat on Tuesday for the purpose of hearing remonstrances and testimony of witnesses against applicants for tavern licenses. Judge Furst and associate Munson and Rhodes sat upon the bench. The court room was filled with spectators, and the bar to the right of the judge was occupied by the ladies of the W. C. T. U.

Remonstrances were on file against licenses anywhere in the county, and also against special applications on account of character of applicants and violations of the law.

A great deal of interest was manifested by citizens generally, as indicated by the large attendance, and the earnestness and eagerness to catch every word of the proceedings.

The ladies present must have numbered some sixty, and their society was present at the morning and afternoon sessions of court. What struck us especially, and no doubt all others, was the beauty and loveliness of the sisters, without exception, and the utter absence of houseiness. We never saw a gathering of an equal number of the fair sex, in which beauty was so generally diffused—and there were young and old dames. The ladies gave the proceedings their riveted attention and displayed the most perfect decorum throughout the proceedings.

But the presence of beautiful women as an organized body to influence the court by their presence, is questionable in our opinion, and the law is to be observed, women or no women. The court fixed upon Friday for granting the licenses.

GOING TO WILLIAMSPORT.

The Gazette and Bulletin of Williamsport contains the following: "Rev. Chas. T. Sieck, who has been stationed in Bellefonte for some time as the pastor of a Lutheran church in that place, will move to South Williamsport on the first of April. He is retiring from the pulpit temporarily for the purpose of devoting his time to the lecture platform. Mr. Sieck has given much time to the study of elocution, and his lectures are as brilliant as they are interesting and instructive. He is a native of Lycoming county and several years ago resided in Williamsport."

CIGARETTES KILLED HIM.

James Copley, a bar-keeper employed in Cleveland died yesterday from the excessive use of cigarettes. He was a man of fine physique, but for years has smoked cigarettes constantly, inhaling the smoke. Thursday he was found on the floor of his place of business unconscious. He was removed to the hospital, where he died yesterday. His physicians say that his system was fairly soaked through and through with nicotine and that his heart and lungs were affected in consequence. Copley was 37 years of age.

SHAFFER AS A WITNESS.

HE SAYS THAT HE ROBBED THE MARKET PEOPLE.

In the trial of James and Essie Kline, at Lock Haven, on the charge of robbing several market people last August, near the scene of the Colby murder in Clinton county, Luther J. Shaffer, now under sentence of death, was called as a witness. He testified as follows:

SHAFFER'S EVIDENCE.

When Shaffer was called there was a general craning of necks to catch a glimpse of him. The Commonwealth objected to the witness being allowed to testify, for the reason that he is under sentence of death for murder.

Objections overruled by the Court. Shaffer was then sworn, and said he remembered the night the robberies were committed, was in the narrow part of the night; did not know the people at the time he robbed them, went in the direction of Tylersville; went a mile from Kline's house; met Glantz at Cherry Run; told him I wanted his money; he said he had no money; told him to drop his money alongside of the road; he struck at me but did not hit me; told him he would meet four or five more men down the narrow; told him to wave his hand and he would get through; there were no more men in the narrow; James Kline and Essie had nothing to do with the robbery; did not come here to tell who was there, but Jim Kline and Essie were not there; threw the pocketbook over the fence.

CROSS EXAMINED.

Have given the conversation I had with the men who were robbed; I struck the Narrows about 2 o'clock a. m.; do not know what time it was when I robbed Rhule; had a coat on; had side whiskers and a mustache; went towards Tylersville; took me about a half hour to walk to where I robbed Bressler; had a coat on when I stopped Bressler; robbed Bressler at 2:30 a. m.; heard Bressler testify; after I robbed Bressler went up the road, saw Glantz about ten steps towards Tylersville from Cherry Run bridge; took my coat off and laid it across the fence at Cherry Run bridge; took coat off because I was too warm; when I walked I put my coat on, when I stopped I took it off; only took my coat off once; robbed Fronts about 7 a. m.; don't know what time I robbed Glantz; think it was before daylight; had no chin whiskers the day I robbed the men; stood around after I robbed Glantz; knew Glantz last winter; Rhule is my cousin; did not see him for eight or nine year; knew Bressler; had appet the night before the robberies; bought the food I had; bought it at Bellefonte on Thursday; ate some before I got to the Narrows; went past Kline's house; did not know Klines lived there; stopped and looked in; saw no one; saw no one about the house; did not see any fire in the house; was 22 years old last June.

After Shaffer had given his testimony he was removed from the court room and taken back to jail.

THE KLINES CLEARED.

At half past nine last night the jury returned a verdict in the case of James Kline of "not guilty." Essie Kline had been discharged during the afternoon on the ground of "insufficient evidence." Shaffer's testimony evidently cleared the Klimes.

LAW FOR AMERICA.

New York, March 4.—Prof. Mezeroff, who believes in blowing up England with dynamite, talked for two hours last night to 200 men of the Ninth ward at 388 Hudson street. Among the many things he said were: This is a fairly representative government. England is the worst on God's footstool. I was asked to take part with the United Labor party in jumping upon the other two parties. I said no. Said I, The trouble does not come from the number of corner lots a man has. Will dynamite remedy the trouble? No. You must vote intelligently and wisely for your best interests. It is our laws that are out of gear. It is you who made them. You just keep voting every year for honest legislators. Be many and frugal and honest and your success will be correspondingly great."
