CENTRE REPORTER, THE MARRIAGE OF MR. J. WILL CONLEY AND MISS ANNA MEESE.

> The auditorium of the Christian Church in Reynolds' building is not large; but in some way and by a mysterious squeezing about two hundred people managed to press into it on Thursday evening. The company included much of the youth, age, brilliancy and beauty of this and surrounding towns, Milesburg and Centre Hall being very largely represented. Miss Neilie Kline was seated at the organ, and when she began the rendition of the wedding march there was the usual expectancy on behalf of all

The ushers preceded the bride and groom. Messrs. Chas. P. Hewes, Esq., Clayton Poorman, of Milesburg, led the way; then came Messrs. Walter W. Bayard, of Bellefonte, and Chas. R. Kurtz, of Centre Hall; the bride and groom following taking position in front of the minister who had risen to receive them.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Meese, of Bellefonte. She is petite, accomplished and bright and very gentle, kind and gracious in manner. Her wedding costume was of golden brown Henrietta cloth. It was tastefully trimmed with Surah silk and velvet, with cords and balls as ornaments. Her bonnet matched perfectly and was trimmed with Bashe feathers which are particularly beautiful. The groom is a young gentleman who has always been a popular favorite. He is bright, quick and energetic and has fine business qualifica-

The ceremony was brief and pleasing. The Rev. Mr. Ryan explained to the company present the significance of the marriage ceremony. He pronounced the usual questions which are answered with "I do," the response in each instance being quite audible. They joined hands, were declared to be husband and wife, and, after prayer, were dismissed, retracing their way along the aisle to the music of the wedding march.

The number of guests at the reception far exceeded one hundred. A merry, congenial company it was and spontaneous, feeling and eloquent were the words of congratulation to the bride and groom, who, by the way, seemed very happy and mingled with the company during the evening, their laughter being particularly merry and contagious.

The refreshments were served by a ompetent corpse of caterers, the ushers gallantly and gracefully assisting to help the guests who were seated at the tables ia the dining rooms. Course followed course in great profusion and excellence. Meats, sandwiches, salads, cakes, ices, coffee, tropical fruits and everything beonging to the choicest cuisine. It was almost half-past 8 when the collation had been sufficiently discussed.

Despite the fact that the invitations said "no presents" the happy couple were recipients of quite a number of rich gifts, including two clocks rich in material and design, a few engravings, several specimens of those elegant marvels in coina and glass ware now so much sought after and exquisite and useful articles of sil-

A CARD OF THANKS.

I desire thus publicly to acknowledge with feelings of gratitude the very liberal donation made to me and my family on Friday evening last, by the members of my town congregation. The spirit that prompted this remembrance is very gratifying to me, indeed, and it is this that will linger in memory long after giver and gift have alike passed away:

VALUABLE DEPOSITS OF MANGAN-ESE ORE DISCOVERED NEAR HUNTINGDON.

Huntingdon, March 19. Considerable agitation prevails among the farmers and others in the lower end of this and throughout Mifflin county over the discovery of several valuable veins of manganese iron ore. The ore was found on what is known as the Carothers tract, in the lower part of this county, and already three veins have been uncovered. Henry A. Coyle, of Logan, and F. B. McCabe, of Lewistown, have secured a lease of the property and have already commenced to develope its resources. The discovery of the ore was made by Jacob Zellins, a German minerologist of this city, who, der in the first degree, refused; George besides retaining an interest in the com pany, also receives a handsome royalty on every ton of the ore mined.

The largest vein is about thirty feet beneath the surface and is twelve feet in diameter. Two other veins have been discovered, one of which is eleven feet thick and the other five. The latter deposit is said to be of pure manganese and to resemble closely the famous manganese ore found in the Lake Superior region and which enters largely in the manufacture of Bessemer steel. Much of the output is being used by the Cambria Iron Company, of Johnstown, and some of the leading Pittsburg iron manufactories. New and improved machinery will be added at once.
