SPRING & SUMMER OPENING,

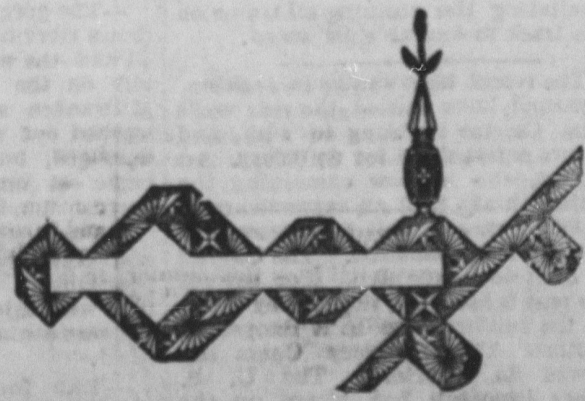

PALACE OF BEAUTY

From DAILY NEWS. Feb. 6:

Never before do we remember to have seen anywhere, a store arranged with more-superb taste and beauty than that of D. Garman & Son, on Allegheny street. A scene of the most brilliant and captivating description bursts upon the vision, for which the eye is partially prepared on beholding the display in the front windows where a few elegant goods are mingled with rare fruits and ornaments. Inside there is a commingling of rare laces, velvets, satins, etc., displayed in the most beautiful manner, composing a picture which Alladin's fairy palace never approached and cannot be excelled at any of the emporiums of fashion in the metropolis. In a case at the front of the store is an exquisite array of fans. Above is a display of black lace over rich colored goods. Next in line is the white lace similarly displayed and the costliest black Chantilly lace in elegant profusion. At intervals are draped curtains of the richest description and in the rear is a canopy of lace curtains within which is an electric light in a colored globe. The beauty of this is undecipherable. The Turkish portoirre is a novelty which will delight many visitors to the store. The other goods kept by Mr. Garman are all there in greater beauty and profusion than ever before. No shopping expedition can be complete without including this store.
