THE ONLY HONEST PROTECTION.

The question of the tariff should be one, and is honestly one, of wages only. The tariff should be just so high, and no higher, as to protect Americans against European labor. That is the only "protection" needed in this country. Having thus "protected" the American labor engaged in manufacturing industries, it should "protect" the other more extensive American labor not employed in manufacturing industries by giving it an opportunity to buy everything it needs at the lowest possible price, and not compel it, as at present, to buy of monopolists, trusts or combinations. A tariff that will honestly protect American labor in all directions, and be sufficient for the honest and economical administration of the Government, is the only tariff needed in this country.

General Garfield summoned up the average Western opinion on the tariff question in a speech made by him in the house of representatives when he said: "I hold that a properly adjusted competition between home and foreign products is the best gauge by which to regulate international trade. Duties should be so high that our manufacturers can fairly compete with the foreign product, but not so high as to drive out the foreign articles, enjoy a monopoly of the trade, and regulate the price as they please. This is my doctrine of protection. If congress passes this line of policy we shall, year by year, approach more nearly to the basis of free trade, because we shall be more nearly able to compete with other nations on equal terms. I am for a protection which leads to ultimate free trade. I am for that free trade which can only be achieved by a reasonable protection."

DON'T SCOLD

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he went to Athlo-phoros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of the physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips and shoulders. Athlo-phoros was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlo-phoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued to use, and am now well."

THE BEER WAR COMMENCES.

Brewers to Shut Down and Employes to Retaliate.

New York, April 16.—The beer war commences to-day. The pool brewers will close their breweries at noon because the boycott placed on certain members has not been removed by the Central Labor Union of Newark and Brooklyn. To add flames to the fire the Central Labor Union of this city yesterday decided to boycott, although the action is not called by that name all pool beer. While a number of brewers have been especially selected for the boycott, it applies to all.

It is going to be a tough fight between organized capital and organized labor.

On one side is the brewers' association with its combined millions, and on the other are the combined trade and labor organizations with their hundreds of thousands of members.

The pool brewers may make beer with non-union men, but organized workingmen will not drink it. Both trades unionists and Knights of Labor are combined in the fight.

About five thousand workingmen will be thrown out of employment to-day. They say they are fighting an attempt to break up their organization, while the master brewers claim that they are battling against dictation.

A large number of saloon keepers have laid in a week's supply of beer so as to be able to stand the siege. Many of them will buy no more beer from the pool when their present stock is exhausted.

The non-pool brewers are delighted, and expect an enormous increase of business. Union workingmen will not only refuse to drink pool beer, but will refuse to patronize any place where it is sold, and the outlook for saloon keepers is not cheerful.

It will be impossible for the few non-pool breweries to supply the demand, and if the fight keeps up there will be a beer famine.

BEER AND BREAD.

Twelve Hundred Bakers to Go Out at Chicago—Tired of the Unions.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 16.—The strike fever is on here now and early to-morrow morning twelve hundred bakers will be out, and Chicago must eat home made bread or none.

As in the case of the brewers, the bakers under the influence of the Central Labor Union are eager to go out, the reason they assign being that the boss bakers have decided not to sign another contract recognizing the union's existence.

When a committee of the Union waited upon the bosses they received no satisfaction, which is the reason of the present strike. The boss bakers claim that they have about seven hundred men within twenty hours' call, and with these they can supply their customers and get along until outside men come in. They say they are tired of having the Central Labor Union manage their business, and if not allowed to run their shops as they see fit they will close up altogether and let the people of Chicago bake their own bread.

Should there be a bread famine for two or three days the consequences would be serious; but no one anticipates any such result.

The people have had so many scares lately that they have become hardened to them. The Central Labor Union has taken up the fight as earnestly as that of the brewers, and "Beer and Bread" will be the rallying cry for the campaign.

Ryan Won't Marry Miss Parsons.

PITTSBURG, April 15.—It is about settled that Ensign Ryan will not marry Miss Minnie Parsons, the young lady who, it was alleged, he had abducted. The Lieutenant has decided to pursue this course, and his friends insist that he will stick to his determination, even though the matter has to be taken to the courts for settlement. Miss Minnie herself is very much agitated, and wants to return to New York in order to resume her theatrical engagement. It is said she is inclined to drop the suit against the young naval officer, but to this her parents object. They want to push the case to the bitter end.

Knights to Fight the Union.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 15.—The fifth division of National District 217, Knights of Labor, was organized in this city yesterday. Powderly will now issue a charter and the Knights of Labor will at once begin the organization of the iron and steel workers of the United States in opposition to the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers. The National Association meeting will be held in this city June 4.

Awarded $8,000 Damages.

WATERBURY, N. Y., April 15.—Miss Sarah Chellis, aged 40 years, a teacher in a public school in this city, sued John B. Chapman, a farmer, aged 72 years, who has property amounting to over $100,000, for breach of promise of marriage, and in the Supreme Court here yesterday a jury rendered a verdict in her favor for $8,000. The amount claimed was $10,000.

War on Albany Liquor Dealers.

ALBANY, April 14.—The Law and Order League of this city has obtained evidence and will proceed at once to prosecute all persons who kept saloons open within a quarter-mile of a polling place on election day. As nearly every one of the thousand saloons in the city is within the prescribed distance, a lively time is expected.

Died from Smoking Cigarettes.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 15.—Josephus D. Mehus, Jr., a seventeen-year-old boy, died yesterday after a short illness from cigarette smoking. He smoked nearly four large packs of cigarettes a day and inhaled the smoke. His lungs were badly diseased and he wasted away very rapidly.

Conviction of a Physician.

EASTON, Pa., April 16.—Dr. H. M. Cox, of Port Murray, was found guilty of malpractice at 1 o'clock yesterday. There will be a motion for a new trial. The accomplices in the alleged malpractice resulting in Jennie Osborne's death will be tried next term.

Made Inmate by a False Charge.

READING, April 16.—Anna Eisenhower, aged twenty-one, a respectable woman of Long Swamp Township, was accused of the larceny of money.

MRS. DISS DEBAR DISGORGES.

Mr. Marsh's Property Deeded Back to Him—No Bail Yet

New York, April 16.—The residence of Luther R. Marsh, 166 Madison avenue which for a few weeks past has been known as a Temple of Truth—a terrestrial refuge for the High Priestess of the spirits and her satellites—is a temple no longer. The High Priestess, Mrs. Diss Debar from her lonely cell in the Tombs, has sent forth the cry of "enough" and has restored to Mr. Marsh his home.

John D. Townsend, Mme. Dis Debar's counsel, gave a history yesterday of the transaction by which Mr. Marsh's house is returned to him. He said that no further application would be made to bail Mme. Dis Debar or those imprisoned with her on the charge of conspiracy before the hearing, which is set for next Wednesday. Continuing, he said: "Before I called to see Mme. Dis Debar Friday morning I had determined to test her by declining to be retained in her behalf unless she offered to return to Mr. Marsh the house and furniture he had deeded to her. When brought into the counsel room she had a letter in her hand which was addressed to Mr. Marsh, and which she requested me to read, and if I approved to hand to that gentleman."

New York, April 13, 1888.

DEAR MR. MARSH: It shall not be said that I have not done all in my power to place things in their proper light and to mitigate your share of our common affliction. The whole persecution of me is based on the ownership of 166 madison avenue. To dispose of that question at once, I hereby sincerely and freely offer you, as I did months ago, that house and whatappsoever belongs to you in it. If you will call and see me with the proper papers I will execute them at once. As the press claims you to be insane because you voluntarily deeded this property to me, to take effect after your death, let me urge you to at once accept the return as I offer it, if only as a means of establishing your sanity. If by such act of mine you can regain the confidence of your friends as to your mental integrity I shall only be too glad. I am, my dear and noble friend, with very distinguished respect and consideration,

E. L. DIS DEBAR.

"After leaving the prison," continued Mr. Townsend, "I at once informed Mr. Marsh that I had such a letter, and requested him if he would receive the property, to prepare a proper deed and meet me at my office. He came and we went to the prison, and both Mrs. Diss Debar and the General executed the deed."

"Mr. Marsh and I (at Mr. Marsh's request) then called upon Justice Kilbreth. Mr. Marsh showed the letter and deed to that official, and offered himself again as bail for all the imprisoned party, stating that he could justify in more than $50,000. Justice Kilbreth declined to accept him as bail, saying that, while he did not estimate that he was insane, he felt that on the subject of Mrs. Diss Debar his judgment was not as correct as in regard to other particulars."

Confederate Pensions Very Costly.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 16.—At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed giving a pension of $5 per month to all disabled Confederate veterans or their widows. The act appropriated $50,000 and authorized the Treasurer to borrow as much as was needed after the appropriation was exhausted. The Pension Board is now in session, and they are appalled at the number of applications pouring in. It would require at least $2,000,000 to pay the pensions applied for. Many good soldiers now regard the whole scheme as a mistake, but they are afraid to take steps to secure the repeal of the law. Taxpayers object to the increased burden on them and the numbers of applicants who were refused pensions will have something to say.

Burlington Completes Its Resumption.

CHICAGO, April 16.—The Chicago Burlington and Quincy completed the resumption of passenger traffic by sending out the first train to Denver known as the "Elli." This places the passenger service exactly where it was at the time the strike occurred weeks ago. The freight business is already nearing its former volume. The strike and its effects will soon be a mere matter of history. A bitter fight occurred yesterday between St. Paul and Burlington switchmen in the yards of the St. Paul Road on Western avenue. Nobody was hurt. Three of the union switchmen were arrested.

New Plan of the Flint-Glass Makers.

PITTSBURG, April 15.—The latest move of the flint-glass manufacturers leaked out yesterday. They will make another effort to start their factories, this time with men who are members of the Flint-Glass Workers' Association. They will give a bond to every flint-glass worker who returns to work, guaranteeing to him preference at all times and freedom from black-listing or discharge and a position for life.

Aid for Justice Waite's Widow.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The fund which is being raised for Mrs. Waite, widow of the late Chief-Justice, grows apace. Subscriptions are coming in from prominent people all over the country, including members of the Cabinet, Justices of the Supreme Court, bankers and leading lawyers. Something over $10,000 has thus far been secured.

Still Harassing Our Fishermen.

MONTREAL, April 14.—The government has issued instructions to the fishery officials notifying them that last year's regulations with respect to American fishery vessels will be continued until after the Dominion Parliament passes the treaty, and until the United States Senate takes action, a modus vivendi will be put in effect.

Mr. Mills in Improved Health.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Representative Mills arrived in this city last night from Fort Monroe, where he has been for the last week. His health is much improved, though he is not entirely well. He says he will be in the House of Representatives on Tuesday.

Fatal Fight at Cumberland Gap.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 15.—Reports from Cumberland Gap say that another fight occurred among the strikers there yesterday, resulting in the death of one man.

Serious Condition of the Emperor.

BERLIN, April 16.—The Emperor was confined to his bed all day yesterday with a violent cough.
