KITCHEN AND MARKET GARDEN.—The problem which confronts English farmers will soon present itself to the American farmer, if it has not already done so. The problem is: What to cultivate? Lands, especially within easy reach of large cities, rapidly increase in value, and grain and meat must be raised on cheaper land.

Acres in strawberries, or an acre of violets, will bring in more money than several acres in wheat. Not that we would advise farmers to all become gardeners at once, but it will pay every one of them to look into the matter of farm gardening. A manufacturing town, where many laborers are employed, is often a better market than a large city. In the spring, especially, anything in the way of "greens" will meet with ready sale. Spinach, sown the fall before, and wintered over for marketing in early spring, is a very profitable crop. Have hot-beds or window boxes ready, if not already sown, for sowing seeds of cabbage and other things to be transplanted. Sow the seeds six weeks earlier than the time when the weather will allow the plants to be set in the open ground. Window-boxes will supply plants enough for the family garden, and be of far less trouble. The older children will enjoy caring for the seedlings. When they become large enough, transplant to similar boxes of soil, shading them for a few days before full exposure to the sun.

POLE AND WIRE FENCE.—We recently saw several long strings of a combination fence, that must be the best, all things considered, in many localities. Posts are set twelve feet apart in a straight line. Within five or six inches of each post a stout stake, thirty inches long, is fastened by passing two strands of heavy fencing wire around it and the post above and below. Poles fourteen feet long are laid with their ends in the spaces between the posts and the stakes. This makes the fence pig-proof below, and where timber is plenty the poles are cheaper than boards. The stake is not driven into the ground; the wires hold it firmly against the poles, and if the wire is galvanized it will last for many years. Above the poles are stretched three strands of wire, making the fence high enough. The wire may be smooth or barked as the builder prefers, and of course the posts may be put any convenient distance apart. The fence is easily made, and when the poles are of good timber and cut at the proper time, the posts durable, and the wire galvanized, a fence that is stronger, needs fewer repairs, or will last longer, is hard to find.

AFTER REMOVING the mulch in the spring from the strawberries here between the rows after the soil shall have become tamped, warm, and the soil will let more warmth and air down to the roots. A small proportion of wood ashes scattered along the rows after hoeing would be very beneficial.

SOME FOOLISH PEOPLE Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, they would immediately see the excellent result after taking the first dose. Large bottles, 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. At all Druggists.

Lime water is good for chilblains. Use strong and hot. A saturated solution of alum in water, used hot, is also a curative.

QUALITY SUPERIOR TO QUANTITY. "My dear," said a New York man to his wife, after perusing the evening paper, "are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs three and a half pounds?"

"You've just read that, haven't you?" "Yes."

"Well, doesn't that article say that a woman's is somewhat lighter?" "It certainly does."

"And it also informs you that a woman's brain is of much finer quality?" "Yes."

"Well, then, just concentrate your three-and-a-half-pound intellect on that scuttle, and figure out how much it will weigh after you bring it up full of coal from the cellar."

The man with the great head departed for the lower regions in search of information.

MISS WABASH.—Didn't Mr. Waldo say to you as I entered the parlor last night, Clara, "Is that the beautiful Miss Wabash?"

Clara.—Yes, dear, with the accent on the "that."

Why Laura Lost Her Beau. Laura once had an affluent beau, Who called twice a fortnight, or so, Now she sits, Sunday eve, All lonely to grieve.

Oh, where is her recent beau? And why did he leave Laura so? Why, he saw that Laura was a languishing, delicate girl, subject to sick headaches, sensitive nerves and uncertain tempers; and knowing what a life-long trial it is a fearful, sickly wife, he transferred his attentions to her cheerful, healthy cousin, Ellen. The secret is that Laura's health and strength are sapped by chronic weakness, peculiar to her sex, which Ellen averts and avoids by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is the only remedy, for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturer, that it will give satisfaction in every case or money will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

IMITATING ISMARACK.—Judge Duffy—You were arrested, sir, while making a speech from a dray while under the influence of liquor.

Prisoner—Did you say the dray was under the influence of liquor, Judge?

"You know what I mean. Are you guilty or not?"

"Guilty of making a speech?"

"Guilty of being drunk?"

"No, sir; I was not drunk your Honor. I was only experimenting."

"In what way?"

"I read, your Honor, that Bismarck took sixteen drinks of whisky while making his recent great speech, and I wanted to see if it could be done."

"How did you succeed?"

"I succeeded in getting into the lock-up."

"Well, you will probably succeed in getting a situation on the Island if you keep on trying to imitate Bismarck that way. You may go this time, but you had better quit speech-making on the Bismarck plan."

"Thank you, Judge, I will."

ANYTHING TO ACCOMMODATE.—Husband—I can't stand this my dear. There is nothing on the table fit to eat, and I actually have had a meal that did me any good for three or four days, I can't work and fast, too, that's sure.

Wife—I know it, but what am I to do? The children are sick and I haven't time to prepare the meals myself.

"The girl can cook well enough when she wants to."

"Yes, but she doesn't care now. Why, she hasn't been here much over a week. What's the matter?"

"Her room faces south and she complains that she can't sit by her window and see what's going on outdoors without getting freckled."

"Well, my dear, we must live some how. Ask her if she'll stay if I turn the house around."

UNDERSTOOD THE CASE.—Mother—Why, my dear, you don't seem a bit happy.

Recently Married Daughter—I am about as happy as most wives, I suppose.

"Doesn't your husband treat you well?"

"Oh, yes; in a humdrum sort of way. He's a very ordinary, everyday sort of a man."

"Oh, well, my dear, girls can't expect to be pirates' brides in this practical age, you know."

"No, I know what's the matter. You need excitement. Get a servant girl."

ST. PETER (to applicant)—You say you were an editorial writer on a New York newspaper?

Applicant—Yes, sir.

St. Peter—Step into the elevator, please.

Applicant (stepping into the elevator)—How soon does it go up?

St. Peter—It do. sn't go up; it goes down.

OUR FIELD OF SUCCESS.

The treatment of Diseases of the Air Passages and Lungs, such as Chronic Catarrh in the Head, Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption, both through correspondence and at our institutions, constitutes an important specialty.

We publish three separate books on Nasal, Throat and Lung Diseases, which give much valuable information, viz: (1) A Treatise on Consumption, Laryngitis and Bronchitis; price, post-paid, ten cents. (2) A Treatise on Asthma, or Phthisis; giving new and successful treatment; price, post-paid, ten cents. (3) A Treatise on Chronic Catarrh in the Head; price, post-paid, two cents.

Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Obstructed Constipation, Chronic Diarrhea, Tape-worms, and kindred affections, are among those chronic diseases in the successful treatment of which our specialists have attained great success. Our Complete Treatise on Diseases of the Digestive Organs will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents in postage stamps.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES, and kindred maladies, have been very largely treated, and cured effected in thousands of cases which had been pronounced beyond hope. These diseases are readily diagnosed, or determined, by chemical analysis of the urine, without a personal examination of patients, who can, therefore, generally be successfully treated at their homes.

The study and practice of chemical analysis and microscopic examination of the urine in our consideration of cases, with reference to correct diagnosis, in which our institutions have become famous, has naturally led to a very extensive practice in diseases of the urinary organs.

GAUTON. These diseases should be treated only by a specialist thoroughly familiar with them, and who is competent to ascertain the exact condition and stage of advancement which the disease has made (which can only be ascertained by a careful chemical and microscopic examination of the urine), for medicines which are curative in one stage or condition do positive injury in others.

Being in constant receipt of numerous inquiries for a complete work on the nature and curability of these maladies, written in a style to be easily understood, we have published a large, illustrated Treatise on these diseases, which will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents in postage stamps.

BLADDER DISEASES. INFLAMMATION OF THE BLADDER, STONE IN THE BLADDER, GRAVEL, ENLARGED PROSTATE GLAND, and kindred affections, may be included among those in the cure of which our specialists have achieved extraordinary success. These diseases, which will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents in postage stamps.

STRUCTURE. STRICTURES AND URINARY FISTULAS.—Hundreds of cases of the worst form of strictures, many of them greatly aggravated by the careless use of instruments in the hands of inexperienced physicians and surgeons, causing false passages, urinary fistulae, and other complications, annually consult us for relief and cure. That to one of this class is too difficult for the skill of our specialists is proved by cures reported in our illustrated treatise on these maladies, to which we refer with pride. To intrust this class of cases to physicians of your time and ten cents in stamps for a large, illustrated Treatise containing many testimonials.

We, many years ago, established a Special Department for the treatment of these diseases, under the management of some of the most skilled physicians and surgeons on our Staff, in order that all who apply to us might receive all the advantages of a full Council of the most experienced specialists.

WE OFFER NO APOLOGY. We offer no apology for devoting so much attention to this neglected class of disease, believing that no condition of humanity is too wretched to merit the sympathy and best services of the noblest profession, to which we belong. Why any medical man, intent on doing good and alleviating suffering, should shun such cases, we cannot imagine. Why any one should consider it otherwise than most honorable to cure the worst cases
