STRIKING BEAVER BELOW THE BELT.

The Republican conference of Governor Beaver's home district, the Twenty-eighth, struck the Governor below the belt on Friday last, by a set up between Clearfield, Forest and Elk against Centre and Clarion, whereby J. H. Hagerty, of Elk, and W. G. Kelly, of Forest, were elected delegates to the Chicago Convention and General Hastings knocked out with his Beaver boom.

The set up was really made by Elk and Forest and Clearfield persuaded into it. And when it was made, the conference was precipitated upon General Hastings, with a single day's notice. Whether it was done merely to send two comparatively unknown men to Chicago, or whether it was done to defat General Hastings and kill off the Beaver boom matters little now, as it is a direct blow at Beaver and it struck below the belt. Had the issue been presented to the party, doubtless none could have gone as delegates from the district in opposition to Beaver, but while the Governor and his Adjutant General have been relying upon the sentiment of the party to carry them through, the boys of the Forest and Elk wilderness have bagged the honors for themselves.

It is likely that General Hastings will go to the convention notwithstanding this under-belt blow at home. His friends name him for delegate-at-large, and if all day and all night service is entitled to claim the honor, Hastings will get it says the Philad. Times.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Athlophoros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequalled.

64 Fulton St., Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '87.
The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our druggist says "Plasters are all about the same" but I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but I do not pain me as it now.

GERMANY'S DYING EMPEROR.

He is Some Better, Breathes Easier and is Free from Pain.

BERLIN, April 23.—This bulletin was issued at 9 o'clock this morning:
"The Emperor passed a more quiet night. His fever has moderated and his general condition is better."
The North German Gazette says: "During the night the Emperor's fever slightly abated. His appetite improved and he expressed himself as feeling better. The discharge of pus was lessened and he suffered no pain. He swallowed freely and his respiration was unimpeded."
"Although the Emperor's rest last night was frequently broken by fits of coughing and expectoration, he enjoyed intervals of quiet sleep, which, taken in conjunction with a slight abatement of his fever, had a strengthening effect, and put him in better spirits. Despite his small appetite, he took this morning a fair quantity of nourishment, chiefly milk."

The Emperor was disturbed by coughing until 2 a. m., but then slept well until 6 o'clock. His temperature was never above 102. During the day it was 101.
The Emperor has ennobled Bankers Schwaebach and Heinauer.
The doctors attending the Emperor declare that the published descriptions of the Emperor's sufferings, with the exception of the difficulty in breathing, are exaggerated. He suffers from no local pain whatever. Yesterday was one of the best days he has had since the present illness began. Absolute rest is still imperative. It is impossible to predict whether the improvement will continue.

Charlottenburg was full of visitors yesterday. An endless stream of carriages moved to and fro between Berlin and Charlottenburg all day.
On Saturday Prince Bismarck reported to the Emperor the arrangements made for the reception of Queen Victoria, and also discussed the question as to who shall represent the Emperor during the Queen's stay.

THE PARISH RIOTS.

Premier Floquet Says He Will Repress Disorder with a Firm Hand.

PARIS, April 23.—Premier Floquet received to-day a deputation of students, who came to complain of the action of the police during the political disturbance here on Friday last. The Premier informed them that he would repress all disorders with a firm hand, and at the same time would see that the police did not exceed their duties. He subsequently visited the principal police stations and assured the officers of the Government's support in the exercise of their duties.
He reminded them that they owed fidelity to the republic, and ought to be vigilant and firm in order to insure the security of the public and respect for the law.

La Cacerde says the nomination of Gen. Boulanger for the Chamber of Deputies in the Department of Isere is contrary to the wish of the General and his committee.

Rioting in Ireland.

DUBLIN, April 23.—A crowd of 500 persons rescued a prisoner at Abbeydale yesterday and stoned the police. Fifteen officers were injured, four of them severely. The police were subsequently reinforced and arrested five of their assailants.

THE BIG BEER LOCKOUT.

The Knights of Labor Will Remain Neutral—But Little Change in the Situation.

NEW YORK, April 23.—It was definitely settled yesterday that if District Assembly 49 does not take any definite action in favor of the journeymen brewers in their fight with their bosses, at all events the big Knights of Labor district will not lend any aid to the bosses in the struggle.
District Master Workman Quinn said in regard to the matter yesterday: "Whatever differences we may have with the brewers this is no time to fight them out. The bosses are more our enemies than the men, and we must look out for the general good of the labor movement. It is a similar case precisely so far as we are concerned to that of the strike of the locomotive engineers."

A largely attended meeting of the journeymen brewers was held yesterday morning in Clarendon Hall. Delegates from all the pool breweries were present and made reports. The reports were uniformly of an encouraging character. The stories told by the bosses that the breweries were all in good working order were denounced as untrue, and much merriment was caused by reports from several establishments to the effect that it was impossible to keep the new men from getting

Rich Silver Discoveries.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Capt. William P. Spaulding, of Sault Ste. Marie, is in this city. He has just returned from the mining country north of Lake Superior. To a reporter he said that the finds of precious metals made in the interior recently have been so numerous and rich that there will probably be a rush of people into the country as soon as the season opens. The silver is found almost pure here, says, and much of the ore averages $1,000 a ton.

A Whole Family Swept Away.

NEENAH, Wis., April 23.—An entire family named Lathrop, comprising father, mother and three children, were drowned in the flood on Upper Wolf River last night. They lived in a small shanty near the bank of the stream, and though they had been warned to leave their dangerous abode they neglected to do so, and the floods swept the building and occupants down the stream.

An Injunction Against a Boycott.

PITTSBURG, April 23.—Judge Slagle, of the Common Pleas Court, has granted an injunction restraining members of the Trades Assembly from boycotting Brace Brothers, a laundry firm of this city, whose establishment has been under the ban for a year. A suit for $5,000 damages has also been instituted against a number of the most prominent labor leaders of Allegheny County.

Lawyer Graham Gets Six Months.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 23.—Judge Rice has sentenced Herbert S. Graham, the Nanticoke lawyer, convicted of assault and battery, to six months' imprisonment and $50 fine. Five other charges will be brought against him when his term expires.

THE DEBARS MUST GO.

Lawyer Marsh Will Rid His House of the Whole Family Immediately.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Despite Lawyer Luther R. Marsh's attitude on the witness stand on Friday, and despite his sturdy efforts to uphold his belief in the supernatural character of the pictures and communications juggled into his possession by Mrs. Dias Debar, same impression was made upon him by what he saw and heard. He called upon Justice Egbert and admitted that after reading the testimony in the case he was confirmed in the opinion he had expressed to an intimate friend last Thursday, and that was that Mrs. Debar was a bad woman.

But he said he was still unprepared to relinquish his belief in spiritualism, or even in the manifestations that had come to him through her, however unworthy she might be to be selected by St. Peter and St. Anthony, of Padua, as a medium of communication with the world. What he particularly wanted to ask the Justice about was the children of Mrs. Debar, the pretty German girl who was half nurse to the children and half maid to their mother. The Justice advised Mr. Marsh to notify Mrs. Debar that the children would be sent to some institution to be taken care of if she didn't make immediate provision for them.

Mr. Marsh said that he would do so and also get rid of everything else that remained in the house belonging to the Debars. He said that he was now convinced that all that had been done by his friends in the matter was for his good, and he was grateful to them for it.

On his return to his house he sent the maid down to the Tombs to see her employer and tell her that the children must be removed, and that if it were not done by this afternoon he would send them to some institution. Mrs. Debar received the message in her usual manner and said to the maid: "All right, you go and hire some furniture room and take care of the children until I get out of here."

But this the maid positively refused to do, and nothing that Mrs. Debar said could move her. Then she was told to go back to the Madison avenue house and say to Mr. Marsh that Mrs. Debar wanted to see him. Mr. Marsh refused to go near his ex-priestess, and sent her a verbal message to that effect.

There is no secret about the reason why the maid did not obey the instructions of her caged employer. It is simply because this poor girl is already one of the sufferers by the woman's incorrigible propensity; for the pious medium owes her poor little maid $40 for wages and $140 of borrowed money.

The weeping girl's complaint of this to Mr. Marsh had no small share in assisting him in his revised opinion of the Dias Debar.

The police court examination, when continued on Tuesday, will have other interesting features besides the production of the spook pictures. Mr. Hummel says that Prof. Hertz has offered to forfeit $100 to some charity if he fails to hypnotize Mr. Marsh, and make him sign a big check to Hertz's order, or do anything else he is bid to do.

Another Marsh-Debar Case.

CATSKILL, N. Y., April 23.—Miss Catharine Earl, a wealthy maiden lady residing at Grayhead, Green County, was victimized a few years ago to the extent of several thousand dollars and only escaped total beggary through being forcibly abducted by her friends. She appears to have again fallen into evil hands. Miss Earl is a believer in the occult sciences and has taken up her quarters at Albany with a clairvoyant known as Mme. Usey. The clairvoyant refuses admittance to all relatives or friends of her guest. Mrs. Weekes, a sister of Miss Earl, having reason to believe that she proposed transferring a considerable portion of her estate to Mme. Usey, has applied for a warrant for the arrest of the clairvoyant. She asserts that her sister, who is 60 years of age and of weak intellect, is being duped by the medium.

Some of His Brain Extracted.

LOUISVILLE, April 23.—A. G. Owings, shot by Richard Hunt at Owingsville Saturday, April 7, died yesterday. The ball from a 4-caliber pistol struck Owings in the forehead, between the eyes, and penetrated five inches. Owings felt no great inconvenience and did not send for a doctor to cut the ball out until the following Monday. He thought it was just below the skin. The doctor, in probing, extracted a spoonful of the brain, but found no ball. Owings still felt no great pain, and went about his work and ate and slept as usual. Yesterday morning he complained of drowsiness, and gradually sank away in a deep slumber, in which he died, without a sign of pain. Hunt surrendered to the sheriff, and claims self-defense.

Chicago Bakers Win.

CHICAGO, April 23.—The journeymen bakers of this city, to the number of about 1,200, struck work yesterday morning. No question of wages is involved, the men simply asking the bosses to recognize their union and agree to a working day of ten hours, with twelve hours on Saturday. Soon after the strike had been inaugurated a number of the bosses agreed to the terms, and about 400 of the strikers returned to work. The others say they will remain out until they gain their point.

After More of Hotchkiss' Millions.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 23.—C. A. Hotchkiss and Ann M. Hotchkiss have sued the heirs of the late gun inventor, Benjamin Hotchkiss, who died in 1885, leaving about $12,000,000. They claim that they did not receive their legal share in the division of the property. Attachments in the suit have been issued against all the property of the deceased in this State—about $1,800,000.

Mrs. McCollum Loses Her Suit.

LOCKPORT, April 21.—The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York yesterday won the suit brought by Mrs. Mary E. McCollum, of Niagara Falls, to recover $50,000 on her late husband's policies with that company, the Court granting a nonsuit. A stay of ninety days was given for appeal.

Lester Hanged for Lane's Murder.

LEBANON, Tenn., April 21.—N. B. Lester was hanged here at 11:35 a. m. yesterday for the murder of J. T. Lane on July 26. Thirty people witnessed the execution.
