very handsome as he named Chauncey M. Depew. Senator Hiseock made one of the finest speeches of the day, and was applauded to the echo. Hartley, of Minnesota, seconded Mr. Depew and pledged a 50,000 majority from his state if Depew was placed in nomination.

Robert E. Frazer rose when Michigan was called and, amid shouts of "What's the matter with Alger?" Oh he's all right," told the convention the record and achievements of Russell A. Alger, who was, he said, Michigan's favorite son. Charles J. Noyes, of Massachusetts; Patrick Egan, of Nebraska, the ex-president of the Irish national league; Mr. Estes, of North Carolina; and I. F. Eggers, of Arizona, also spoke briefly in support of Mr. Alger.

There was a scene of enthusiasm when Ohio was called. Governor Forsaker presented Gen. Hastings, of Harrisburg, Pa., who spoke for Ohio, and nominated John Sherman. Gen. Hastings delivered his address in the form, and was frequently interrupted by applause, which increased when Governor Forsaker stepped forward to second the nomination. Professor John M. Langston, of Virginia, and Mr. Anson, of North Carolina, also spoke for Mr. Sherman.

Charles Emory Smith, editor of The Philadelphia Press, next rose. He nominated Edward H. Fidler, the present mayor of Philadelphia. There were no seconding speeches.

Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, then nominated Governor Rusk in a speech which was well received.

The convention then adjourned until Friday. Two sessions were held. During the evening session Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, made a short speech withdrawing from the

Mr. McElwee, of Tennessee, in a brief speech, presented the name of William R. Moore, of that state, as a nominee for the vice presidency. He was seconded by Mr. Chandler, of Mississippi. The convention then proceeded to ballot, with the following result:

First and Only Ballot for the Vice Presidential Nomination—Morton, 519; Phelps, 119; Bradley, 103; scattering, 12.

Mr. Moore withdrew his own name before the balloting began.

The nomination of Mr. Morton was made unanimous.

Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, presented the following resolution, which he wanted added to the platform:

The first concern of all good governments is the virtue and sobriety of the people and the purity of their homes. The Republican party cordially sympathizes with all wise and well directed efforts for the promotion of temperance and morality.

It created a great deal of animated discussion, but was finally adopted, whereupon the convention adjourned sine die.

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he went out Athlo-phoro, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure my Rheumatism which bedded in the hips, neck and shoulders. Soinance was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlo-phoro gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep better and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well."
