

FARM NOTES.

CARE FOR THE PIGS.—Pigs are very apt to scour till they attain three to four months' age.

IT PAYS TO LOOK AFTER THE BEDDING PLACES OF PIGS IN PASTURES. It is common for sows with their young to resort to a certain place to sleep, even in the pasture.

PROFIT FROM DAILY COWS.—It is a pretty good native cow that will make three hundred pounds of butter a year, averaging seven pounds a week for nearly ten months of that time.

TO KEEP CROWS FROM PULLING CORN.—A correspondent in New York Tribune says: "The best of all ways to keep crows from pulling corn is to sow corn broad cast before the planted corn comes up."

A FARMER with considerable experience, who has sowed clover two years, says if it should be left to two on the ground for two hours, after cutting, and each day's filling of the silo be allowed to heat before the fresh clover is added, the silage, not the center, kept thoroughly tramped, the clover will come out moist and green, and the cattle will relish it as thoroughly as summer pasture.

CULTIVATE your young fruit trees and small fruits the same as you would any other crop on the farm from which you expect to realize a profitable crop.

THE home market should not be over-looked. So long as the home market is not fully supplied there is no gain in shipping away.

As a rule meadows should be cut reasonably early, not later than when the seeds begin to form.

WHEN milk sells at 8 cents per quart, the price corresponds with that of butter at 25 cent per pound.

PROCURING new seed often for most farm crops, and preferably such as has grown farther north than where planted, has frequently been advised, and so eminent an authority as H. E. Alvord, asserts that the advantages of doing so have been recognized by most men of experience.

It is claimed that wool washed after it has been clipped, and left for some time in its natural grease, combs better and makes more perfect cloth than if washed while on the sheep's body.

WIRE is preferable to poles, laths or boards as a grape trellis, as the tendrils of the vines seem better able to take hold of the vines than when other materials are used.

Purity and Strength

The former is the blood and the latter throughout the system, are necessary to the enjoyment of perfect health.

"I have taken not quite a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and must say it is one of the best medicines for giving an appetite, purifying the blood, and regulating the digestive organs, that I ever heard of."

CREAM OF RICE is a dainty dish to set before the king, or greater than the king, the convalescent friend.

CHOCOLATE GLAZE.—Grate one ounce of chocolate and put it into a small saucepan with three tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and one tablespoonful of water, stand it over a teakettle of boiling water stir until smooth and glossy.

FAIRY CORN STARCH.—Put one pint of strawberry or other fruit juice in a farina boiler. Moisten four tablespoonfuls of corn starch with a little cold water and stir it into the hot fruit juice; stir until it thickens, add a half cup of sugar, stir until the sugar is dissolved, and then add hastily the well-beaten whites of three eggs.

RUSSIAN JELLY.—Take two ounces of the best French gelatine, soak them in a pint of hot water.

STEWED LOBSTER.—Cut boiled lobster into dice, using a silver knife.

SOUTHERN WAY OF COOKING RICE.—One and one-half cups water to every cup of rice, keep the vessel covered until done, either hot or cold water.

FRUIT that is to be shipped any considerable distance to market should be picked before it is quite fully ripe.
