A Claim to Human Gratitude.

Charlotte Corday, the sad-faced, tender-hearted peasant girl of Normandy made great history by one desperate actI

Sickened by the saturnalia of the French revolution, and moved to des-peration as Robespierre and Marat were leading the flower of France to the guillotine, she determined that she would put an end to Marat's bloody reign.

Marat had demanded two hundred thousand victims for the guillotine!

He proposed to kill off the enemies of the Revolution to make it perpetuall

Horrible thought!

No wonder it fired the blood of this patriotic peasant maid!

Gaining access to his closely guarded quarters by a subterfuge, she found him in his bath, even then inexorable and giving written directions for further slaughter!

He asked her the names of the inimical deputies who had taken refuge in Caen. She told him, and be wrote them down. "That is well! Before a week is over they shall all be brought to the guillotine,"

At these words, Charlotte drew from her bosom the knife, and plunged it with supernatural force up to the hilt in the heart of Marat.

"Come to me, my dear friend, come to me," cried Marat, and expired under the blow!

In the Corcoran gallery at Washingington is a famous painting of Charlotte, represented as behind the prison bars the day before her execution.

It is a thrilling, sad picture, full of sorrow for her suffering country, and of unconquerable hate for her country's enemies.

What a lesson in this stragic story! Two hundred, nay, five hundred thou-sand people would Marat have sacrificed to his unholy passion of power!

Methods are quite as murderous and inexorable as men, and they number their victims by the millions.

The page of history is full of murders by authority and by mistaken ideas! In the practice of medicine alone how many hundreds of millions have been allowed to die and as many more killed by unjustifiable bigotry and by bungling!

But the age is bettering. Men and methods are improving. A few years ground will not become packed on the ago it was worth one's professional surface. life to advise or permit the use of a proprietary medicine, To-day there are not two physicians in any town in this country who do not regularly prescribe some form of proprietary remedy.

'H. H. Warner, famed all over the world as the discoverer of Warner's all animal thrive better than previoussafe cure, began hunting up the old remedies of the Log Cabin days; after ly. long and patient research he succeeded in securing some of the most valuable, among family records, and called them simple preparations of roots, leaves, complished by piling on as to allow when we had an epidemic of scarlet fever, herbs which were the Daisams successful standbys of our grandmoth- or by packing in barrels. ers. These simple old-fashioned sarsaparilla, hops and buchu, cough and consumption and other remedies have struck a popular chord and are in extraordinary demand all over the land. They are not the untried and imaginary remedies of some dabster chemist intent on making money, but the long sought principles of the healing art which for generations kept our ancestors in perfect health, put forth for the good of humanity by one who is known all over the world as a philanthropist-a lover of his fellow man,whose name is a guarantee of the highest standard of excellence, The preperations are of decided and known influence over disease, and as in the hands of our grandmothers they raised up the sick, cured the lame, and bound up the wounds of death, so in their new form but olden power as Log Cabin remedies, they are sure to prove the "healing of the nations." Corday did the world an incalculable service in ridding France of the bigoted and murderous Marat, just as this man is doing humanity a service by re-introducing to the world the simpler and better methods of our ancestors,

> > Are Your Pullets Laying?

This question is often asked at this season by persons keeping hens; and the answer is too often: "No! and suppose they won't lay until eggs get cheap next spring, just my luck." It ought not to be your luck. Pullets hatched in April last should have commenced laying a month ago; while May and and June hatches should be laying this month. It is not too late even now, to force the early pullets to laying in a few weeks. The late ones, even as late as July and August, can be brought forward, so as to pay well, while eggs bring good prices. Strictly fresh, pullet eggs will probably retail as high as 50 to 60 cents per dozen, in Boston and New York markets, bofore March 1st, 1880. Mrs. L. J. Wilson, of Northboro, tainments to some visitors, but his first | Mass., says: "In past years I have noticed answer settled the question for that when my pullets laid at all, they would lay a litter and then, either want to set, or mope asked his mother, "A First Ward around for ten days, often for weeks doing no laying. Last fall and winter there was no interruption of their laying. The results were the best I ever saw in an experience of eighteen years. My thirty pullets were all just six months old when they commenced just six months old when they commenced laying. I never saw such return of eggs. In just eight weeks after they commenced to lay the thirty pullets laid 1437 eggs: which I ascribed to the use of Sheridan's Condition Powder, to make hens lay."
