TO MANNING'S MEMORY.

Rich Easter Gift of His Widow to St. Paul's Church, Albany.

The widow of Secretary Manning has presented St. Paul's Church, at Albany, with a memorial Easter gift to her late husband.

It is in the form of a Latin cross, executed in polished brass. The center is quartered, bearing I. H. S. in monogram.

The cross bears a triple cluster of maple leaves emblematical of the Trinity.

The cross itself is forty inches high. On the base is engraved in Gothic text the following inscription:

To the Greater Glory of God and in Loving Memory of DANIEL MANNING Born Aug. 16, 1811. Died Dec. 24, 1887.

This gift of the cross is supplemented by another beautiful offering in the shape of two altar vases.

The bodies of the vases are perfectly round, representing the globe and rest on round feet in the center is the sacred monogram matching that on the cross.

Mrs. Manning has many tender memories of St. Paul's Church. Not only was the late Secretary one of its earnest members for many years, but she was married to Mr. Manning by the present rector, Dr. Reese, at its altar.

When the Secretary lay upon his deathbed among the last sounds he heard on earth were the sacred chants of the choir of St. Paul's wafted through the window of the room in which he died, and it was its rector who preached the funeral sermon.

A Good Recommendation. A stranger from the interior entered a Detroit wholesale clothing house the other day and stated that he was looking around for a retail stock.

"Did you see Irving and Ellen Terry in 'Olivia'?" "Did I! I should think so!"

"Wasn't it grand?" "Oh, splendid!"

"Wasn't Irving sweet as the Vicar?" "Perfectly so!"

"What a lovely smile he had all through it!" "He looked like a saint."

"And like a demon in 'Faust.'" "I don't see how he does it."

"Nor I!" "And wasn't Ellen Terry sweet?"

"A perfect angel!" "She skips around like a girl of sixteen."

"And she's forty." "Every day of it."

"And has a grown daughter." "I know it."

"I'd like to know how she ever hops, steps and jumps across the stage the way she does in the third act and flops down on that bench without breaking her back."

"So would I." "They say it took her months to learn how to do it gracefully."

"I believe it. I never could do it. Doesn't she do it lovely?"

"Perfectly charming!" "Wasn't she grand when she and the Squire have their little row?"

"Oh, I cried through that." "Cried! I loved it."

"And wasn't Irving beautiful when he tried to preach to Olivia and couldn't?"

"Wasn't he! I declare, there wasn't a dry thread in my handkerchief when he broke down and said: 'To my heart! To my heart!'"

"And she wasn't slow in getting there either, was she?" "I guess not. You wouldn't have been, either, I guess."

"Wasn't it lovely when they came home together?" "Oh, perfectly so! I was so afraid Olivia's mother wouldn't forgive her."

"I knew she would." "And when the children and all came in and kissed her I tell you I cried like fury."

"So did I." "Who wouldn't?"

"But I wouldn't have forgiven the Squire." "Handsome as he was!"

"No I wouldn't!" "Oh, you would, too."

"I wouldn't!" "You would." "He was horrid!"

"But the play was lovely." "Oh, beautiful!"

"And I, too." "Good-bye." "Good-bye."—Zenas Dane in Detroit Free Press.

THE PITTSBURGH POST -1889-

A GREAT NEWSPAPER FOR THE COMING YEAR.

ITS DAILY ISSUE BRIGHT, NEWSY, AND ENTERPRISING.

ITS WEEKLY THE LARGEST DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY IN THE UNION.

THE PITTSBURGH DAILY POST for the year 1889 will continue with redoubled energy the triumphal endeavor to send out the best Democratic ally in the Union.

Its progress the last year indicates its future enterprise. In all departments that constitute a great metropolitan daily it will compete with the foremost.

Its telegraphic facilities by special correspondents at all the great news centres will be of the most far-reaching and thorough character.

Its market reports, local and telegraphic, covering every branch of trade, have won a wide reputation for reliability and fullness.

They will be continued and advanced in the same line. Its editorial, news and local departments will be maintained with added vigor and enterprise.

The year 1889 will be a memorable one in our political and business history, and promises to see the conclusion of the great battle waged on the questions of Tariff Reform and Reduced Taxation.

No one who desires to be well informed and abreast of the times can do without this daily paper, bringing him in close touch with the whole world of business, industry, finance, legislation and politics.

Washington and Harrisburg will be alike great centres of news. The Old World is on the verge of a volcanic and revolutionary. The PITTSBURGH DAILY POST will print all the news.

TERMS: By mail one year, $5, postage prepaid. By agent or carrier, at 15c per week. Send for sample copy.

THE PITTSBURGH WEEKLY POST 12 PAGES EACH WEEK—84 COLUMNS OF READING MATTER.

Is the largest Democratic Weekly in the Union; and the aim of the publishers is to make it a welcome, instructive, and entertaining visitor at the family fireside.

In addition to a choice variety of literary and miscellaneous matter, THE WEEKLY POST will publish during the year a number of SERIAL TALES by the BEST AMERICAN AND FOREIGN NOVELISTS.

In book form each of these meritorious works would cost more than a year's subscription.

Bret Hart's latest serial story, "Crispy," will commence publication in THE POST early next month. It will run for about 10 weeks, and will be immediately followed by another either by Rider Haggard or some novelist of equal reputation.

The fiction department of THE POST will be one of its most interesting and attractive features.

The cattle, produce and grain markets especially prepared for the weekly edition, will be full and reliable. THE WEEKLY POST will be as it always has been, a thorough-going, unflinching and aggressive Democratic journal.

It will bear its part in the great battle of Tariff Reform and Tax Reduction, until a glorious triumph crowns the cause of the people.

TERMS: Single subscription, postage prepaid, one year, $1.25. In clubs of five or over, postage prepaid, one year, $1.00.

An extra copy of its cash equivalent for every club of ten subscribers.

Morning and Afternoon Sessions every Weekday except Saturday. Night Sessions, Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

At the beginning of the twenty-fourth (24) year, the Principal desires to express his deep sense of thankfulness for generous support in the past, and to solicit the continuance of that preference and good will he has so long enjoyed.

He respectfully begs leave to announce that he has arranged a course of study for the present year by which young men and women can more readily acquire the increased qualification and broader knowledge now demanded by business men and merchants.

He has again created new qualifications, and still further increased the number of instructors, which means he confidently expects to impart a larger amount of knowledge of commerce in the course without any appreciable increase in the length of time needed to complete the course of study.

Eleven hundred and eighty-eight (1188) Students in attendance last year. Ladies and gentlemen may enroll at any time, and will be charged only from the date of beginning their studies. Office now open.

Office open after September 1st on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. Call or write for circular or commencement proceedings.
