NO. 49

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED KURTZ, -- EDITOR

A bill has been introduced in the House to make two states out of California.

Cleveland 90,000 majority over Harrison on the popular vote! Well, there is some satisfaction in knowing that the country is Democratic.

In reality the Republicans are the chaps that should go up Salt River because Harrison was beaten nearly one hundred thousand on the popular vote.

Suppose under Harrison there are 1200 private pension bills passed, and of this number 200 are fraudulent cases—will he sign or veto them? If he vetoes them wouldn't he be an "enemy of the soldier?"

The postal receipts last year were about four million dollars less than the expenses, but that deficit does not worry a country with a surplus. The money in the treasury could hardly be put to better use than to make up Postoffice Department deficiencies.

The popular vote of the United States increased in round numbers 1,000,000 from 1884 to 1888. The total vote is about 10,950,000.

The popular verdict is 93,261 majority for Cleveland and Tariff Reform over Harrison and Trust and Monopoly.

"General Harrison," says the Indianapolis correspondent of the New York Herald, "receives on an average nearly 500 letters a day, mostly from applicants for office." Golly arn't these piggies hungry—they are in the trough with snout and feet before the slop is ready.

President elect Harrison was out on a gunning trip, the other day, and actually shot several quail—somebody shot them, at least, for he brought them home. He may come gunning to our mountains next, in order to hit the right fellows for the Centre Hall and Bellefonte postoffices, which are giving him so much worry now.

There is a German newspaper published at Jerusalem, and it says that the city is growing in size and population at a remarkable rate, which is surprising, because neither its situation nor its trade is favorable to a rapid increase. The Jews take the lead in building, followed by the Russians and Germans. The Greeks and Armenians are also busy building cafes, bazars, and shops.

Some folks are throwing themselves into convulsions because Democrats in Millheim will not have Springer shave them. This is a free country and a Democrat can get shaved when and by whom he pleases. But the difficulty in the Springer shave seems to be that he pronounced "Democrats rebels," and as there are many Democratic soldiers in Millheim, they may think they may as well be shaved by another who has sense enough not to use such questionable language. "The world's a barber-shop."

In this issue of the REPORTER, the vile sheet, called the Gazette, is proven to be a liar by one it can't go back on! Wonder whether this precious Gazette man is the fellow whom Judge Orvis, publicly in the court house, as we are told, branded as a forger, and said he could prove it? What a sweet cess this Ringroddy must be! and what an elegant gang he has with him—look at their names and see what some of them have been guilty of! Whew! what a crowd! His associates are the bums and his leading places the slums.

Can Toddy tell who it was left Williamsport in quick time, and who left Renova with a sleather following close to the seat of his pants?

As the next census, in 1891, it is probable that the population of Pennsylvania will exceed 5,000,000. In 1880 there were 3,728,000 votes polled in the contest for the Presidency. The census enumeration that year made the number of inhabitants 4,282,891, or 49 persons for each voter. This year the total vote for President was 597,786, indicating a population of 4,878,151 upon the ratio of voters to inhabitants in 1880. The increase of population in the next two years will be more than enough to swell the total to a round five millions, preserving about the same rate of increase from 1880 to 1890 as that between 1870 and 1880, which was 760,940. In the ten years from 1870 to 1880 the increase of population in the State of New York was 700,112. If Pennsylvania in 1890 shall have kept her pace she will have made a long stride toward a recovery of the lead she lost to New York in 1810.

THE INDIANA FRAUDS.

The attendance of prominent Republicans from a dozen different counties before the Federal grand jury included several chairmen and secretaries of county committees, besides a number of the members of the same organization. The grand jury spent the forenoon in examining these witnesses, and then adjourned until September 17. Nearly all the witnesses to-day were examined with reference to the Dudley letter, each being asked whether he, or any member of the committee, had received such a letter from Dudley, or whether it had been discussed in any of the meetings of the committee.

Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic State central committee, was called and gave in detail the reasons for charging the Republicans with systematic bribery. He gave all the circumstances which led to the charges and it is said that his statement developed a piece of history regarding the campaign that has not been made public. It appears that a Republican was in the employ of the State committee and through him the Democrats were kept fully apprised of everything that was going on in the Republican committee rooms. He also reported the facts regarding a scheme to purchase votes, and it was through him and a detective that the Dudley letter was obtained.

Though the jury adjourned without returning any indictments it is known that several ballots have been taken on cases before them and that indictments were agreed upon in these cases. Republicans now concede that a number of the party will be indicted, and there is a prospect that Senator-elect Carpenter, of the Shelby and Decatur district, will have a narrow escape if he is not among the number.

AFRICAN DOMINATION.

After the scramble for Africa, which has been going on for some six or eight years, and which is now practically ended, it is said that only about four and one half millions of the eleven millions of square miles in Africa remain unattached, directly or indirectly, to some European power. Of these unattached portions more than half lie within the desert of Sahara. France has about 700,000 square miles; Germany, 740,000 square miles, to which should be added, if various disputed claims were admitted, another 200,000. England's possessions and 'sphere of influence,' not including Egypt, are set down at about 1,000,000 square miles. British trade with Africa is estimated to be worth about $125,000,000 annually, while that of France is about $100,000,000. The commerce of Germany with the Great Continent is yet insignificant. The total value of exports and imports of Africa is estimated at $75,000,000 annually. An enormous sum truly. What a field for commercial enterprise the Great Continent is!

Ring powder in State and national politics is made of the same material. A "boss" is a man who takes one successful move as a lever to bulldoze aspiring politicians and heebers to word for the success of other schemes. The boss is frequently no smarter than other people. Sometimes he is altogether a superior sort of man of many attainments. He is usually a plausible schemer, and once he gets a reputation as a boss he becomes powerful through the fact that people wanting favors give their bootle to him for disbursement. He gathers about him a lot of fellows who either share the profits or come in freely in the apportionment of the offices, and this aggregation constitutes the ring. The worst element of society may always be found on the side of the ring and voting for ring candidates. In return those who have a little "influence" are given places by appointment, or if they got in the clothes of the law, are favored by all the ringsters in official places, and frequently get off before they fall into the hands of an upright judge.

The New York Tribune's statement of the popular vote gives Cleveland a majority over Harrison of 98,261. The Chicago Times, with official returns from all States but two and reported figures from these States, makes Cleveland lead Harrison 185,546. The whole vote appears to be 11,247,857. Texas, instead of giving Cleveland 135,000 majority, gives him 103,202 over Harrison. The Times' figures seem a little large, but that Cleveland and Tariff Reform carried the country by not less than 100,000 majority over Harrison is an absolute verity.

AND YET HARRISON IS PRESIDENT ELECT.

Bethlehem, Pa., Dec. 5.—The large firmness of the Bethlehem iron company at Bingen is being blown out and will remain idle for an indefinite period. The limestone quarries in the vicinity have also ceased operations. A large number of men will be thrown out of employment. Had Cleveland been elected the blame for it would have been given him.

THE SENATE TARIFF BILL.

There is trouble ahead for the managers of the Republican Tariff bill, and its progress through the Senate is not to be so easy and rapid as was at first supposed. A stumbling block has already been put in its way and more obstructions are likely to follow. The bill is being hand-dropped, not altogether by Senators on the Democratic side of the chamber but its enemies are to be found in the ranks of the Republicans as well. The fact is that several Western Republican Senators are not at all pleased with the measure, and now that the political necessity that brought it forth from the Finance Committee room has passed away these Senators are inclined to manifest their opposition. Messrs. Plumb and Manderson are the chief opponents, it is said. They are attempting to choke the bill to death, or at least to a state of helplessness, and the reason is that they are afraid of it. They fear that by giving it their emphatic support or endorsement they will endanger the chances of reelection to the Senate. Both Senators are on the tenterhooks just at present, for their terms expire on March 4th next and neither can read his title perfectly clear to a second term.

Among the Republican Senators there is no strict concealment of the fact that some of their own number are anxious to repudiate the offspring of the Republican party caucus, and now, if they desired, it would be impossible to hide the many evidences of the fact that Manderson, Plumb, and others are not at all favorable to the bill.

Robert Garrett, the insane millionaire of Baltimore, who has been at Ringwood, N. J., since August 20, will probably remain at that place until the first of the year. The Miller villa, where Mr. Garrett is being cared for, has been leased by the Garrett family for another month. The house has been put in order for winter weather. Although Mr. Garrett has improved considerably since his removal from New York to Ringwood, he is still far from being a sane man. When he arrived at Ringwood he was very violent. His violence and hallucinations continued for some weeks. With skillful medical attendance his condition soon changed. He had sane periods, and again showed signs of mental uneasiness. His malady changed to outbreaks of passion. In these fits took the united efforts of three or four attendants to control him. Of late his outbreaks are only periodical, and last but a short time. It is estimated that the expense of keeping Mr. Garrett at Ringwood is over five thousand dollars a month. It is authoritatively stated that the rent of the Miller house is five hundred dollars per month. Dr. Jacobs is paid seven hundred dollars per month. Dr. Hamilton is paid a handsome sum for two visits each week. The five attendants receive five dollars per day each. There are twenty-one servants in charge of the various departments of the house, including a chef from England. The stable has seven horses and numerous carriages. The daily supply of food is sent from New York by express. Mr. Garrett has been at the Miller house since she accompanied her husband to Ringwood. She drives out daily making long trips over the mountains and to Tuxedo Park. Members of the Garrett family from Baltimore are frequent visitors at the Miller mansion.

Five Western Republican senators voted with the Democrats on a test question regarding the senate tariff bill. These were Plumb, of Kansas; Paddock and Manderson, of Nebraska; Sabin, of Minnesota; and Teller, of Colorado. Approaching senatorial elections are believed to be the cause of this judging, the senators named recognizing the demand of their constituents for a reduction of the tariff. It seems tolerably clear the senate bill cannot pass the Republican senate without modification recognizing it nearer the standard of the Mills bill. The protectionists are feeling alarmed over this.

About the only comfort Democrats can get out of Mr. Cleveland's popular plurality, unprecedented as it is, is a defeated candidate, is the lawful privilege of affirming that the country is with the President and not against him and that it favors tariff reform. These assertions cannot be gainsaid. The increase in Mr. Cleveland's popular vote as compared with 1884 is much greater than the increase of Harrison's vote over Blaine, and the plurality of Mr. Cleveland now is 98,000, against 62,000 four years ago. It is evident from this that the popular drift is toward the Democratic party, not away from it.—New York Times, Ind.

Speaking of trusts the New York World says: "When these combinations of capital contribute money to buy a president, as they have just done, they erect a plutocracy within the republic and are more dangerous to republican institutions than the crazy communism of Paris can ever become here."

HASTINGS TO BE CHIEF OF STAFF.

If John Sherman was not elected president and does not go into the cabinet, he will have the satisfaction of knowing that the man who put him in nomination at Chicago will be the grand marshal of the inaugural parade. Governor Beaver, the grand marshal of the inaugural parade, has appointed General D. H. Hastings, of Bellefonte, Adjutant General of the Pennsylvania National Guard, to be his chief of staff. General Hastings went to Washington attended by some of the staff officers of the Pennsylvania National Guard. The purpose of the visit was to learn what steps had already been taken in providing for the street pageant, and what it has been customary to do on former inaugurations in recognition of bodies claiming precedents over others. The details of the arrangement of the parade, Governor Beaver says, will be left largely in the hands of his chief of staff. General Hastings will be in communication with the committees on civil and military organizations and will make frequent visits to Washington. He had a consultation at inaugural headquarters with General Ordway who served as chief of staff to Grand Marshal Slocum four years ago. General Ordway gave General Hastings all the information at his command.

TROUBLE IN THE SENATE.

It is quite likely that the republican senate will have considerable trouble in passing the substitute for the Mills bill in the form in which it was presented from the finance committee.

There are at least half a dozen republican senators who are bitterly opposed to the measure, and others are lukewarm, but thus far the great influence of monopoly has succeeded in a measure in keeping the spirit of opposition in check.

The Kansas senators and those from Nebraska and some other states want free lumber and lower duties on structural steel and iron. But if they speak out in advocacy of these provisions they will incur the enmity of the monopolists, and if they fail to do their duty they will challenge the displeasure of their constituents. Verily, they are between the devil and the deep sea.

The state grange is in session at Harrisburg. The United States hotel is the headquarters of the grangers, although all the other hotels in the city share a part of the patronage. There are many prominent members of that organization in attendance, among whom are Colonel J. F. Weaver, Centre county; H. M. Cuthbert, Crawford; W. W. Striker, Huntingdon; D. C. Kenney, Erie; Colonel Victor Piollet, Bradford, and W. A. Armstrong.

The session of the state grange was opened in the house of representatives Monday afternoon. A committee was appointed to wait upon their governor and he will probably address the meeting. An interesting session was held on Monday evening, at which J. G. McSparran, of Lancaster county, delivered an interesting address.

Dakota should not be admitted into the Union until she has abolished the breeding of blizzards within her borders.

All quiet at Birmingham, and the verdict of the people is, the sheriff did his duty.

The instantly fatal accident to Frank Ecker, of Milesburg, on Tuesday, was a sad one. He was about 17 years of age. During the morning he had asisted his mother in carrying wash water, and doing other such work and then said that he would get on the freight train and ride to Bellefonte. He and a brother were attempting to do so. But Frank's hands slipped and when the train was near the station he fell. The journal of the wheel struck his head and the wheels of two cars passed over it, almost severing it from the body.

Frank was the son of Mr. Thomas Eckley.

AARONSBURG.

POTTERS MILLS.

Samuel McClintic and Henry Mosser were out hunting for deer and came home and reported a big one killed but it was only a big one told.

Miss Mary Thomas returned to her home in Pilegrove.

W. H. Foltz and W. H. Workinger went out hunting the other day and routed a deer and followed it around until they found it to be a big buck, then they skipped for home to safer quarters.

The writer happened to read a copy of the Keystone Gazette, and came across an article headed Oak Hill Woolen Mill and starts out on the Mills Bill defeat giving all the Woolen Mills a special impetus. Now let the Gazette rise and explain why the Woolen Mill at Potters Mills is shut down.

The great fox hunter Ralph Smeltzer has got nothing yet! Ralph had better go in with John Gingerich, and hunt coons and possums. John caught a possum some time ago and killed it before he knew what it was.

UNION COUNTY.

Charley Smith of Laurelton shot a deer which dressed 203 lbs. A hunting party from Swingle brought in three deer last week.

They have a sensation in Buffalo Twp. to wit—that Levi Miller, previous to his death, made a revelation to his son, in substance that underneath a certain stone pile he would find a certain box and in that box—something! The son has disturbed the stone pile, but, up to date, has not revealed what he found, hence the entire neighborhood are curious to know what was discovered, says the Telegraph.

From the San Francisco Chronicle of the 27th ult: Mrs. Sarah J. Pontine, Mary Northling and G. C. Dresbach, have entered a claim as heirs against the Samuel Sankay estate. They claim under the right of Mrs. Sankay, who died in 1886. The estate, by a recent decision of Judge Coffey, goes to an adopted daughter of Samuel Sankay. It is worth about $100,000. Sam'l Sankay was a native of Millheim.

Mrs. T. C. Heimes, of Osceola returned after a week's stay with Mr. & Mrs. Daal Hess.

Miss Laura Hess, spent Sunday with friends at Centre Hall and Centre Hill.

THE LIAR SHOWN UP.

Bellefonte, Pa., Dec. 3, 1888.

I understand that you hold me responsible for the information given the Keystone Gazette, which contained an article relating to Mr. Willow, mail contractor, having been reported to the Post Office Department at Washington.

The only information I furnished the Gazette, was the fact that I had heard you had reported Mr. Willow. I gave no other facts, and was not responsible for the publication of the article or its contents. I have seen a certified copy of your letter to the Department relative to Mr. Willow, and from its contents, do not hesitate to say, that it would not warrant the facts and comments, as stated in the article in the Gazette of May 25th, 1888.

W. P. SMOOR.

The above proves the REPORTER's assertion that Fredler's Gazette deliberately lied, a thing it is quite noted for.

Bellefonte, Pa., Dec. 3, 1888.

With reference to the article that appeared in the Centre Reporter, in the issue of May 25th, 1888, I do hereby disclaim any intention of doing any injury to the character of yourself or any member of your family, and where in said article the words "thieves," "swindlers," &c. appear, I do declare that such epithets were in no manner intended to apply to you. I do further state that, to my knowledge, there is no foundation for any such charges against yourself or family; and I meant to make no reflection upon your military character in said article.

FRED KURTZ.

(By the above we adhere to the strict truthfulness of the article alluded to, only disclaim the false construction maliciously put upon it, by a few.—Ed.)
