HARRISON'S DIPLOMACY.

He Fills All Visitors with the Hope of Uncertainty.

A FRIEND OF ORGANIZED LABOR.

So He Announces Himself as an Advance Agent of a Candidate for Public Printer.

Appointments—Variety of Visitors.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—New York writes the public printing office, and half a score of Hoosier aspirants for the place stand agnath at the audacity of the east. If they knew all that Gen. Harrison said yesterday to C. K. Michael, of Brooklyn, a Typographical union man, they would tremble as well as stand agnath.

He told Gen. Harrison that Mr. Payne was a solid man with the typographical union, and intimated that the candidacy was endorsed by the New York branches of the national union. He came away happy, not only over what he thought were the good chances of Mr. Payne, but over some remarks that Gen. Harrison made to him upon the subject of organized labor that were rather unexpected and very interesting.

Mr. Michael was very discreet in speaking of these remarks, and refused to quote them, but he said the substance was that Gen. Harrison told him that in making his appointments in government offices he proposed to recognize organized labor whenever it was practicable to do so, and that in such appointments as that of public printer personal considerations would have no weight whatever in determining the choice of the man.

Another thing that Mr. Michael says Gen. Harrison said was that, in his opinion, the qualifications necessary to enable a man to properly fill the office of public printer were equal to those required for a place in the cabinet. Mr. Michael did not seem to think this remark at all discouraging so far as Mr. Payne's chances are concerned. There is no doubt that, if lived up to, it will be the death knell to the ambitions of Col. William Holloway and Capt. Meredith, and even to those of Editor Brown, the son-in-law of Riley McKean.

After his visit at Gen. Harrison's house, Mr. Michael was entertained at a banquet by a party of Indianapolis printers, and was sent home on an early evening train.

L. Bradford Prince, formerly a justice of the supreme court in New Mexico, and a lecturer and writer on topics connected with that part of the country, called upon Gen. Harrison and unfolded to him his views upon the admission of New Mexico. He thinks that the territory ought to be let in.

A far western visitor, who probably counted for more than the ex-justice, was George Christ, the member of the Republican national committee from Arizona. He was on his way to New York, and he talked Federal patronage and the Mormon question with Gen. Harrison for some time. The Mormons are coming over from Utah into Arizona at a rate that is alarming the other inhabitants, and Mr. Christ thinks something ought to be done. Incidentally he thinks that George Christ is the best man in the world to control the Federal offices in Arizona.

He did not put it to Gen. Harrison, but that way, however. What he said was to the effect that "broken down politicians have been pastured over by recent administrations upon our territory, and all think it is time that our own people should be placed in charge of affairs."

Delagato-elect Carter, of Montana and Delagato-elect Matthews, of Dakota, both on their way to Washington, told Gen. Harrison they had little faith in the prospects of the admission bills before the present congress, and want a special session to be called to admit the territories in time for them to have representatives at the regular session next December.

Hugo Ziemann, of Chicago, came to see Gen. Harrison upon business which may have an important bearing on the success of the next administration. Mr. Ziemann is steward of the Richfield hotel in Chicago, and he says he cares not who makes up the cabinet so long as he can make the dinners. With his dinners, he is sure that Gen. Harrison's digestion will never get off the track and his liver never go back on him; and, with these conditions, he believes that Gen. Harrison couldn't be anything but a cheery and popular president, if he tried. It is not known what success he attained.

A Grand Theatrical Enterprise.
MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—The building of the St. Paul Grand Opera house has developed a new theatrical scheme. Joseph J. McCaddan, the resident partner of Kohl, Middleton & Co., heads a St. Paul company which will build a new theatre in St. Paul and buy one in Minneapolis on which they now have an option. The company is called the Twin City Opera House company. The capital stock is $500,000. The St. Paul theatre is to be modeled after the Casino, in New York, and will cost $200,000. Work will begin as soon as the weather permits and will be finished by Sept. 15.

Capture of a Noted Crook.
INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—Two well dressed men, whose names were registered at the New Denison as Charles Howland and Charles S. Thompson, were arrested last night, and the police believe they have made an important capture. They were observed loitering about the Indianapolis National bank, and the bank officials becoming alarmed, notified the police. A detective has recognized one of them as "Dutch Lou," of Cincinnati, formerly of Pittsburg, a famous bank crook, who belonged to the Patsy Hanley gang.

Tried a "Corney" and Got Left.
MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—The Journal's Winnipeg, Minn., special says: "Boodfish, the St. Charles, Minn., grain merchant, who failed last week, has arrived here. He says that he tried to work a corner in barley, and that some of the boys got the 'drop out' him," and regards the whole affair as a good joke. He says he felt a little nervous about the matter and came up here to rest until matters have quieted down a little.

The Grand Jury Warned by White Caps.
ROCKPORT, Ind., Jan. 21.—Considerable excitement has been occasioned here over a White Cap warning received by the grand jury. The notice, which was prepared in the usual style, was tacked over the door of the grand jury room, and warned the members of that body to "Walk straight or die."

A Drop in Few Rentals.
BROOKLYN, Jan. 21.—The highest bid for a part of the auction of seats in Dr. Talmage's Tabernacle last night was $500, against $100 last year.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Events of the Day Billed Down for the Benefit of Busy Readers.

C. Rosenbaum, a New York jeweler, at 15 John street, claims that $1,000 worth of diamonds were stolen from his bag at the Rockville house, Rockville, Conn., during the night. He arrived on the 8:30 p. m. train and went to the hotel, where he left the bag unlocked, but strapped, in the hotel office for safekeeping. In the morning, on opening the bag at a local jeweler's, he discovered that a small paper box containing the diamonds was missing. No clue has been found of the thief.

Thomas Carson, a Boston fresco painter, has been awarded $30,000 for injuries received in the Bussey Bridge disaster about a year ago.

The West Virginia senatorial deadlock is still unbroken.

Reports that Pueblo, Colo., is overrun with smallpox are denied from there.

The annual business meeting of the American Poultry association is being held at Buffalo, N. Y., President Philander Williams, of Taunton, Mass., in the chair.

The Massachusetts state senatorial contest, Fall River district, has been decided in favor of Robert Howard, secretary of the spinners' union.

About two hundred persons partook of the fourteenth annual dinner of the Associated Pioneers of California in New York, and many speeches recalling the days of '49' were made.

Dr. J. Miller Junkin, of Easton, Pa., who attained prominence at the time of Garfield's death by the fact that he alone of all the physicians who gave views on the case was proved by the autopsy to have correctly stated the location of the fatal bullet, died suddenly of apoplexy.

The thermometer registered 60 degs. above zero at Bradford, Pa., Friday, and one of the oldest ice men put in his time plowing on his farm.

The sixteenth annual meeting of the New Jersey state board of agriculture will be held at the state house, in Trenton, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 30 and 31 and Feb. 1.

George W. Reed, aged 70 years, a large stockholder in the Brooklyn Eagle, and one of the editorial staff of the paper, died at his home in New Brunswick. His funeral will be held in Brooklyn Sunday.

The Grand opera house was totally burned at St. Paul, Minn., and the court block adjoining badly injured. Total loss, $100,000.

Hippolyte writes a friend and countryman in New York that he has bought an English man of war, which will soon arrive, and will then proceed to blow Legitim's navy out of the water, capture Port au Prince and all of Legitim's landing hotels, being rapidly secured, principally by Bostonians and New Yorkers.

Governor Foraker, of Ohio, has commuted the sentence of Mary Garrett to imprisonment for life. She was to have been hung next Thursday.

W. F. Krumsudahl, clerk for Ingalls & Co., Springfield, Mass., and proprietor of The Beobachter, a German newspaper at Holyoke, is under arrest for embezzling $1,700 from the firm.

The rear car of a Boston and Lowell train jumped the track as the train was pulling out of Nahua, N. H., bumped into a locomotive and overturned it. The passengers were badly frightened and considerably shaken up, but none were hurt.

Joy reigns in Montreal. Over three feet of snow has fallen, and the carnival people are in high spirits, as the weather and everything else is now favorable. Accommodation for the carnival is being rapidly secured, principally by Bostonians and New Yorkers.

Syracuse has got rid of the smallpox, the quarantine has been raised from the penitentiary, and the convicts whose terms have expired are being released in batches of fifteen daily.

Lord Lucan has offered his tenants in County Mayo release from all other arrears in rent on condition that they pay one year's back rent.

At the instance of Bishop Williams, the trustees of Trinity college will ask the Connecticut legislature to repeal the requirement that the bishop of the diocese shall be chancellor of the college and president of the board of trustees. The bishop thinks it better for the president of the college to be also president of the board.

The Indianapolis Baseball club has gone into insolvency and surrendered its franchise. Creditors will receive fifty cents on the dollar. What will become of the franchise is not known.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE FOR 1889.

The publishers of SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE make it the most popular and enterprising of periodicals, while at all times preserving its high literary character. 25,000 new readers have been drawn to it during the past six months by the increased excellence of its contents (notably the Railway articles), and it closes its second year with a new impetus and an assured success. The illustrations will show new effects, and nothing to make SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE attractive and interesting will be neglected.

THE RAILROAD ARTICLES will be continued by several very striking papers: one especially interesting by the Ex-Postmaster General Thomas L. James on "The Railway Postal Service" illustrated.

MR. ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON'S serial novel "The Master of Ballantrae" will run through the greater part of the year. Begun in November.

A CORRESPONDENCE and collection of manuscript memoirs relating to J. F. Miller and a famous group of modern French painters will furnish the substance of several articles, illustrated.

The brief end papers written last year by Robert Louis Stevenson, will be replaced by equally interesting contributions by different authors. Mr. Thomas Bailey Aldrich will write the first of them for the January number.

Many valuable literary articles will appear: a paper on Walter Scott's Methods of Work, illustrated from original MSS., a second "Shelf of Old Books," by Mrs. James T. Fields, and many other articles equally noteworthy, illustrated.

Articles on ART SUBJECTS will be a feature. Articles are arranged as prepared by Clarence Cook, E. H. Bunsfield, Austin Johnson, and many others, illustrated.

FISHING ARTICLES describing sport in the best fishing ground will appear. Salmon, Wainwright, Bass, and Tarpon are the subjects now arranged. The authors are well-known sportsmen, illustrated.

ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES of great variety touching upon all manner of subjects, travel, biography, description, etc., will appear, but not of the conventional commonplace sort. Illustrated.

Among the most interesting in the list of scientific papers for the year will be a remarkable article by Professor John Trowbridge upon the most recent developments and uses of PHOTOGRAPHY, illustrated.

A class of articles which has proved of special interest will be continued by a group of papers upon ELECTRICITY in its most recent applications, by eminent authorities; a remarkable paper on DEEP MINING, and other interesting papers. Unique illustrations.

A SPECIAL OFFER to cover last year's numbers, which include all the RAILWAY ARTICLES as follows:
A year's subscription (1889) and the numbers for 1888, bound in cloth, $5.00
A year's subscription (1888) and the numbers for 1888, bound in cloth, $5.00
$1.00 a year; 2 cents a number.
