SOME DOCTORS

honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Ath-lopho-ros says nothing but—cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure care

In my own family athlophoros was used as a last resort, the user having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation scores of people have used this remedy with the same results claimed for it. C. H. WILSON. Dubuque, Iowa, Jan. 3, 1888.
Athlophoros has completely cured me of nervous headache, and I feel thankful for all the good it has done me.

MANHOOD How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of Spermatorrhoea or incapacity induced by excess or early indiscretion.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' practice that the alarming consequences of early error may be radically cured pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S CABINET. Brief Sketches of the Men Who Will Be

His Chief Advisers. WASHINGTON, March 4.-President Harrison's cabinet is as follows: Secretary of State-James G. Blaine, of

Secretary of the Treasury-William Windom, of Minnesota. Secretary of War-Redfield Proctor, of Vermont. Secretary of the Navy-Benjamin F. Tracy, of New York. Secretary of the Interior-James W. Noble, of Missouri Postmaster General-John Wanamaker, of Pennsylvania. Attorney General-W. H. H. Miller, of

Secretary of Agriculture-Jeremiah Rusk, of Wisconsin.

James Gillespie Blaine was born in West Brownsville, Washington county, Pa., Jan. S1, 1830. At the age of 13 years he entered Washington college in his native county, where he was graduated in 1847. In 1854 he removed to Augusta, Me., where he has since made his home. In 1856 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention.

In 1858 he was elected to the legislature, remaining a years, serving the nember for four last two as speaker. JAMES G. BLAINE. In 1862 he was elected to congress, where he served for eighteen years. He was a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1876 and 1880. He was secretary of the state under President Garfield. Immediately after the convention of 1876, on his resignation the secretaryship of state, Mr. Blaine was appointed senator to fill the unexpired term, and in the following winter he was chosen by the legislature for the full ensuing term. William Windom was born in Belmont county, O., nearly sixty-two years ago and gained some prominence there before moving to Minnesota in 1853. He served in the house as a representative durthe Thirty-sixth congress, and successively in the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth and Fortieth, and was appointed to fill an unexpired term in the senate and subsequently elected to a full term. When -13-30 Garfield became president he was william windom. made secretary of the treasury. He had but a short term of this office, but in that time is regarded as having demonstrated his capacity as a financier. Since then he has been pracmiles from Rutland. He is in practical control of the whole output of the Vermont marble quarries, and is one of the largest dealers in that commodity in the United States. REDFIELD PROCTOR. Among the reasons given for the recognition by the new president of the Green Mountain state in cabinet counsels are, first, the eminence of ex-Governor Proctor in his party, and, second, the fact that he, as the chairman of the Vermont delegation to the Chicago convention last year, was head of the only delegation in the whole body which voted solidly for Harrison first, last and all the Benjamin F. Tracy was born about fifty years ago in Tioga county, New York. His early life was passed first on a farm and afafterwards in the study of law. In 1851 he was admitted to the bar, and three years later was elected district attorney of Tioga county. Notwithstanding the fact that Tioga county was Democratic and Tracy a Republican his election was almost unanimous. He was made chairman of the railroad committee and also chairman of the sub-committee of the whole. On June 22, 1862, Governor Morgan requested him to raise a regiment from the counties of Broome, Tompkins and Tioga. He raised two —the One Hundred and Ninth and the One Hundred fand Seventh—got his commission and was given command of the former. When the war closed he had attained the rank of brigadier general. In 1866 he was ap-pointed United States district attorney for the Eastern district of New York, and held the position until 1873, when he resigned. In 1875 he made the opening address to the jury in the famous Beecher-Tilton suit. He was nominated in 1881 by the Republicans for mayor of Brooklyn, but withdrew in favor of Seth Low, who was elected. John Willock Noble was born in Lancaster, O., Oct. 26, 1831. He passed his early days in Columbus and Cincinnati, where he

Upon his graduation he studied law. Mr. Noble settled first in St. Louis in 1855. Not meeting with the success in the practice of the regiment was actively engaged from the beginning to the close of the war, and distinguished itself in many battles. At the close of the war he was promoted to a brigadier generalship for meritorious services. He was mustered out in 1865. After the war Gen. Noble settled in St. Louis, where he was made United States district attorney by President Johnson. He resigned his position in 1870, and has since been engaged in the private practice of law. His firm is that of Noble & Orrick. He has lived in St. Louis since 1867.

William Henry Harrison Miller is a typical Indiana lawyer of high standing. He has been a valuable member of Gen. Harrison's law firm in Indianapolis for about ten years, having left a large practice at Fort Wayne, Ind., to join it. He is a man on whom the new president has been accustomed to rely. Mr. Miller is not aggressive, but he WILLIAM H. H. MILLER. has plenty of backbone. Mr. Miller has never been prominent in public office, and will enter upon an entirely new experience at Washing-

John Wanamaker was born in Philadelphia in 1838. He was educated in the common schools, and early engaged in business. In 1861 he established a clothing house, to which he afterward added other | not regret it. branches of business, and he now est retail stores in the United States. In 1887 Mr. Wanamaker adopted the system of co-operation in his store, and during the first Syear of its operation over $100,000 address. Wwas paid to em-

bank for employes, a building association, classes for instruction and a library. In 1858 he began a Sunday school in Southwest Philadelphia, out of which has grown Beththe founders of the Christian commission and president of the Young Men's Christian association of Philadelphia.

Jeremiah Rusk was born in Morgan county, O., June 17, 1830, and removed to Wisconsin and settled in Vernon in 1853. He held several county offices, was a member of the assembly in 1862, was commis sioned major of the Twenty-fifth Wisconsin Volunteer infantry in July, 1862, and was afterward promoted to the colonelcy. He served with Gen. Sherman from the siege of Vicksburg until mustered out at the close of the JEREMIAH RUSK. war. He was brevetted brigadier general for bravery at the battle of Saikahatcile. In 1866 he was elected ticing law in New York and has not been much in Minnesota, He dropped out of Minnesota politics altogether. He is a close friend of Gen. Harrison.

Redfield Proctor, the secretary of war, is a native and ex-governor of Vermont. He has committee, and was a delegate to the national Republican convention in Chicago in 1880. He was elected governor in 1881, and was re-elected in 1884, and was again re-elected in 1886. His term as governor extended seven years, which is the longest period of any executive of the state town founded by him, and which riod of any executive of the state. Conspicuous by Their Absence. The absence of Mrs. Cleveland and other members of the president's household from the seats reserved for them in the private gallery during the inaugural ceremonies was the subject of much comment. Senator Ingalls was asked to give his permission for the use of the gallery by other distinguished guests, but he suggested that if Mr. Cleveland's family did not choose to come possibly it would be better to permit them to be conspicuous by their absence. The seat, which was in the front row, remained vacant, therefore, throughout the proceedings. Lige Was in a Stew. Secretary Halford went half off the hooks when, on arriving at Willard's, he learned that the carriage in which his wife and daughter had started from the Arlington had not arrived. He flew about wildly, inquiring here and there, and finally learned that the driver had misunderstood the orders. The Halfords reached the hotel late, just in time to get into the procession going to the Capitol. Hero Was a Feature. Oliver Sumner Teall's great mastiff Hero, his huge shape decorated with ribbons, carrying a motto of protection on each shaggy side and a rooster upon his broad back, was one of the features of the march. He strode | 2-11-1889. along with a step long as a man's, and was as dignified as Webster, and everybody applauded as he passed. The First Family Dinner. After standing in the driving rain, which beat in even under the canopy, President Harrison joined his family in the White House, where dinner was served at 6 o'clock. After dinner the president received callers.

His First Official Act. At the conclusion of the delivery of his address President Harrison turned and kissed Mrs. Harrison,

END OF A MODERN JUDAS. Pigott, the Perjurer, Commits Suicide at a Madrid Hotel. MADRID, March 2 .- An Englishman, supposed to be Richard Pigott, was arrested at the Hotel des Ambassadeurs, under the name of Ronald Ponsonby. The man afterward committed suicide with a revolver.

LONDON, March 4 .- There is no doubt that the suicide at the Madrid hotel was Richard Pigott. Among his effects was a note book containing the addresses of many prominent people in Ireland, and a letter addressed to Henry Labouchere, in which he admits his perfidy. The body will be formally identified to-morrow by a British detective now en route, after which it will be interred.

LONDON, March 5.—It is said that a letter has come to light in Madrid, addressed to Ponsonby, otherwise Pigott, regarding Mr. Shan-non's promise to pay the informer money. The letter is said to contain important evidence concerning the responsibility for Pigott's escape. It is remarked ominously that Pigott committed suicide on Friday in room No. 13.
