General Hastings Kicked by a Horse.

After the parade was dismissed a horse ridden by one of the aids of Grand Marshal Beaver backed up against Adjutant Generral Hastings' horse and kicked General Hastings in the left leg and then kicked General Hastings' horse. General Hastings was immediately taken to his room at the Riggs House and put to bed. At midnight he was suffering a good deal of pain. General Hastings' brother, who is a physician, is attending -The Centre Hall town council or him, and says he does not think any

- On Tuesday as the train bearing

President-elect Harrison and party to Washington stopped at Bridgport, just opposite Harrisburgh, an amateur photographer asked permission of the General to take his picture, to which request he nodded his assent. Opening the door, the General called Russell and his wife, and Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Lord to come out with him and Mrs. Harrison and have their photographs taken. Of course they all complied. while the nurses held Benjamin and while the nurses held Beujamin and Mary McKee up at the window, Russell's baby, Marthena, being in the other car at the time. The young amature hastily adjusted his tripod, and, waving his hand for them to prepare, he uncovered the lense for a moment and then politely lense for a moment and then politely doffed his cap. The train moved up a little and so did the boy, and coming closer he secured a second picture. The General inquired his name and he said it was Hugh Beaver, and one of the crowd of boys called out that he was the son of Governor Beaver, whereupon Mr, Rus-sell Harrison opened the gate and assist-ed the little fellow up the steps and the General shook his hand and told him to give his regards to his father, the Govern- Stott.
