A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters haveever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled. A leading chemist of New York

The Athlophores Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our drusselst raid "plasters are all about the same "but I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now.

Ben Butler Calls on Ben Harrison. WASHINGTON, March 19 .- The president Washington, March 19.—The president excused himself generally to callers in the morning on the ground that he was busy with official matters, and received only those with whom he had made engagements. Gen. B. F. Butler called and the president granted him an interview. Mr. William W. Phelps also called, but on being informed that the president was busy left the house with the remark that he would call again. Among those who saw the president were Secretaries Blaine, Windom and Noble, Sénator Allison and ex-Senator Palmer. The president gave a public reception in the east room during the afternoon.

Washington, March 19.—Ex-President Cleveland and ex-Secretaries Bayard, Vilas and Dickinson arrived here at 3:10 p. m. and left for Tampa, Fla., whence they will sail for Cuba. Measures Passed. HARRISBURG, Pa., March 13 .- Among the bills introduced in the house was one by Mr. Fow, of Philadelphia, authorizing and directing the courts of quarter sessions to transfer for licenses for the the sale of liquor to the legal representa-tives of a deceased license. The bill pro-viding for more safe and efficient means of exit from theatres was passed finally by a vote of yeas, 72; nays, 4.

In the senate the house bill providing that companies shall not enter into any business other than that for which they are chartered, was recommitted on the ground that it was imperfectly framed. The Australian ballot reform bill came up on third reading and was referred to a special committee, as follows: Messrs.

HARRISBURG, March 14.—Representa-tive Andrews, of Crawford, offered a concurrent resolution in the house providing for the final adjournment of the legisla-ture on April 25. It was laid over under the rules. If this resolution is adopted hundreds of bills will fail of passage. The remaining sections of the revenue

Macfarlane, Cooper, Reyburn, Betts and bill were passed on second reading, and a special order for the final consideration of the measure was made for Thursday of next week The border raid bill was placed on the calendar. Senator Gobin introduced in the senate, on behalf of the joint committee appointed to investigate the management of the soldiers' orphans' schools, a bill to provide for the government of the schools by a commission to consist of the governor, superintendent of public instruction, department commander of the department of Pennsylvania G. A. R., and three members of the general assembly, consisting of one senator and two members of the house, who shall be appointed by the presiding officers of the senate and house respectively, together with a committee of five honrobly dis-charged soldiers, members of the G. A. R.

In the senate the bill authorizing the collection by assessment from owners of abutting properties the costs of city improvements already made and in the course of completion was lost.

The Lines factory inspection bill passed finally, and was sent to the house for concurrence. The following bills also passed finally: To provide for a uniform system of the collection of poor taxes; making the quail shooting season from Nov. 1 to Dec. 15.

House bill amending the act giving preference of appointment to veterans and providing punishment for violation of its provisions, among other bills, was passed finally.

Wednesday afternoon next was fixed as the time for taking action on the death of Senator Taylor. HARRISBURG, March 15.—The house resolution providing for the final adjournment of the state legislature was received in the senate and discussed nearly two hours. Senator Reyburn moved to refer the resolution to the appropriation committee. A tie vote being cast, the lieutenant governor who was in the lieutenant governor, who was in the chair, was called upon to cast a vote. He voted aye and the motion was car-upon each proposition to each member, and that afternoon sessions be held on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Mr. Andrews called up his resolution providing for final adjournment on April 25, which was adopted almost unan-

The vote by which Mr. Lytle's bill providing for appeals from assessment of taxes to the common pleas courts, was defeated was reconsidered and the bill was taken up and passed finally.

The house proceeded to the calendar and passed a number of billsion second

HARRISBURG, March 16. - Notwithstanding the fact that the resolution for final adjournment of the legislature was defeated in the senate, it can be said on good authority that final adjournment will take place on April 25, as originally intended. The arrangements of special calendar in the house is such that the business can be done by that date, which fact will be impressed on those senators who voted against the resolu-from committee were the following:

Making appropriation to Edinboro Normal school; making an appropriation for the Children's Aid society of Greensburg; relating to the renewal of charters of saving institutions; making appropria tions to the Western Temperance he to create a commission to investigate to create a commission to investigate coal mining, negative recommendation; making appropriation to the Western penitentiary for purchase of land, negative recommendation; regulating the payment of traveling expenses of county commissioners and directors of the poor; appropriating $50,000 for a new building for the veterinary department of the University of Pennsylvania; also the two ballot reform bills, one introduced by ballot reform bills, one introduced by Mr. Fow and the other by Mr. Baker, on behalf of the Civil Service Reform association. The bill to repeal the oleomargarine law was also reported with a negative recommendation.

tive recommendation. The house then read a large number of bills the first time and adjourned until Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

HARRISBURG, March 18.—Senator Reyburn is confident that the appropriation committee, of which he is chairman, and to which has been referred the house resolution for an adjournment of the legis-lature sine die on April 25, will insist upon fixing a later date in order that the committee shall have sufficient time to give due consideration to the appropria-tion bills, numbering 100, only one of which has been passed finally in the house. From now until April 25 there are twenty-eight legislative working days. As the last seven of these would be devoted to the work of conference committees, there would be, if final adjournment should take place on the day specified, only about twenty days for the appropriation bill discussions.

HARRISBURG, March 19 .- In the Senate last evening no business of importance was transacted. In the house the session was devoted to discussions over motions for special orders. The most important, a motion for the appointment of a steering committee of fifteen, was indefinitely postponed. Philadelphia's new senator, Mr. Crouse, was sworn in.

Mr. Wanamaker Makes an Appointment. Washington, March 19.—J. Lowrie Bell has been appointed by Postmaster General Wanamaker general superintendent of the railway mail service, postoffice department.
