PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE

Record of the Week—Several Important Measures Passed.

HARRISBURG, March 26.—In the state senate Mr. Hines moved to discharge the judiciary committee from the further consideration of the bill to regulate the liability of employers of the automobile from accidents, and to place the bill on the calendar. After a lively discussion the motion was tabled. The constitutional amendment resolution, classifying cities, was passed finally; also, the bill giving the state board of agriculture power to stamp out contagious cattle diseases. The special committee on the Australia ball bill reported. The bill to allow husband and wife to testify against each other was defeated. In the house the county bridge bill passed finally; also the bill allowing foreign water transportation companies to hold real estate, the grade crossing bill, the bill compelling the governor to issue commissions to judges who have a majority on the face of the returns. Thirty-seven appropriation bills were passed to third reading. The house refused to take up the bill making an appropriation for the western penitentiary, pending the inquiry into its management.

HARRISBURG, March 27.—In the senate the adjournment question was not brought up, as expected. Negative reports were made on a number of bills, including the bill prohibiting common carriers from engaging in mining operations. Among the bills passed were the following: Allowing insurance companies to change the par value of stock, and to permit the operation of factory mutual insurance companies. The house adopted a resolution providing for a special committee to investigate the public printing. The following bills were passed finally: Authorizing boroughs to erect wards, amending an act for the destruction of wolves and wildcats.

HARRISBURG, March 28.—In the senate among bills reported negatively was the one requiring mine owners to use the latest scientific apparatus to detect the presence of gas. The bill relating to the incorporation of Young Men's Christian associations was passed after some discussion. The bill in regard to the issue of stock and bonds by consolidated railroads failed to receive the necessary vote to pass and the vote was reconsidered. In the house the general revenue bill passed finally, also a number of appropriation bills.

HARRISBURG, March 29.—The senate was not in session. In the house a large number of appropriation bills were reported. Mr. Fow's libel bill, which had been reported negatively, was recommitted, and his license transfer bill was placed on the calendar. A resolution providing for the investment of surplus cash in the treasury in United States bonds was introduced by Mr. Wherry, and he followed it up by a resolution calling upon the sinking fund commissioner to make a report. He also introduced a bill reducing the annual sinking fund appropriation to $350,000.

HARRISBURG, March 28.—In the senate Mr. Penrose introduced a bill appropriating $5,000 for the proposed war library of the Loyal legion in Philadelphia. A number of bills were passed to second reading, among them the bill giving power to school boards to condemn properties desired for school purposes, when satisfactory arrangements cannot be made with the owners with the school board. The bill amending the general corporation act of April 29, 1874, and its supplements, extending its provisions to companies furnishing light, heat and power by electricity, providing for the incorporation of such companies and for the collection of claims of gas, water, electric light, heat and power companies passed second reading; also the bill providing for licensing of transient retail merchants in cities and boroughs.

A Site for the Williamson School.—PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—The board of trustees of the Williamson School of Mechanical Trades has finally fixed upon and purchased a site for that institution near Media. The site selected is composed of three tracts, the largest being the Stauffer farm, of about eighty acres, fronting on the railroad, about midway between Elwyn and Glen Riddle, on the West Chester branch of the Elwyn and Wilmington and Baltimore railroad. The other two tracts are the farms of Jesse and John Hibbert, the first including about sixty acres and the other about forty acres. They adjoin the Stauffer property on the rear and run back to the highest ground in Delaware county, affording a splendid view of the Delaware river and surrounding country. Mr. Williamson visited the place before his death and was pleased with it. The price paid varies from $200 to $300 an acre.

A Girl Jumps from a Train.—FREEPORT, Pa., March 25.—Mary Cattle and Miss Klingsmith, both of Natrona, accompanied by an unknown man, boarded the Blairsville accommodation. They remained on the rear platform of the last car, thinking to escape detection. The conductor saw them, opened the door and asked them to come inside the car. Miss Cattle became frightened, thinking the conductor was going to put them off and jumped from the car. The trainmen found her with her neck broken. The young man disappeared.

Reduced Wages for Iron Workers.—LANCASTER, Pa., March 25.—Notices have been posted in the rolling mills of the Columbia Rolling Mill company, the Susquehanna Iron company and the Columbia Iron company, that after April 6 $3.50 per ton will be paid for puddling iron, and other ton men in proportion. The management say that either a reduction or complete shut down is necessary. The Penn Iron company of this city has also posted the same notice of reduction.

A RUNAWAY MATCH.

Chief Justice Fuller's Daughter
Elopes with a Chicago Man.

MARRIED BY A MILWAUKEE JUSTICE

Her Mother Opposed the Marriage, and the Fair Pauline Flees from a Chicago Candy Store to Pass a Honeymoon in a Milwaukee Hotel.

MILWAUKEE, March 31.—Pauline, the fifth daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, of the United States supreme court, eloped with J. M. Aubrey, of Chicago, and was married at the Kirby house in this city by a justice of the peace.

The couple arrived here at 6:30 in the evening. About 9 o'clock the young man informed the clerk of the hotel that he desired the services of a justice, and Justice Gregory was sent for and arrived within fifteen minutes.

The ceremony was a brief one, and the justice, who is a very prosaic old gentleman, put on no extra frills. He did not know that the bride was the daughter of the chief justice of the United States, and neither did any of those who were present outside of the contracting parties. When the ceremony was concluded, the old justice called for witnesses, and two young men were captured in the billiard room and ran to affix their signatures to the necessary document. The knot was legally and firmly slipped.

Mrs. Aubrey, nee Pauline Fuller, is 17 years of age, highly educated and a remarkably handsome woman. J. M. Aubrey, Jr., is 23 years of age. He is the son of the general western agent of the Merchants' Dispatch Fast Freight line. J. M. Aubrey, Sr., has been a resident of Chicago since 1876, when he left Milwaukee. He is well known there, and Congressman Isaac Van Schaick is one of his most intimate friends. Young Aubrey is employed in his father's office in Chicago. He is a handsome young fellow.

As near as can be learned the acquaintance of the bride and groom began about three years ago. Justice Fuller, who was then plain Lawyer Fuller, lived with his eight daughters on Lake avenue, only a short distance from the home of young Aubrey. The young people first met at a party given in the neighborhood. An attachment sprang up between them and when it became apparent it was opposed by the Fullers, Miss Pauline declared, however, that she would marry whom she pleased and her father recognized her right to do as she pleased. Mrs. Fuller continued to oppose the match.

Miss Fuller was in Chicago visiting friends, when the arrangements for the elopement were quietly made. The parties met at a candy store and from there went to the depot and took the 3:29 train for Milwaukee.

While awaiting parental forgiveness Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey propose to remain in Milwaukee, where they have quarters at the Plankinton.

Mrs. Fuller's Statement.—MRS. FULLER made a brief statement last evening. She said that she was at a loss to understand her daughter's conduct. There was no necessity for an elopement. If she had said she wanted to marry there would have been no opposition. She said her husband would be welcome at her father's home.

"Bless You, My Children."—MILWAUKEE, March 29.—J. Matt Aubrey, Jr., of Chicago, and his bride, the daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, are still in the city, and will remain for a few days longer, when they will go to Chicago and then probably to Washington. They received the blessing of Chief Justice Fuller by telegraph, and besides assuring them of forgiveness the message contained an invitation to the young couple to visit the bride's family.

Bismarck on Samoa.—BERLIN, March 28.—The government has issued a white book on Samoan affairs. On March 9, Prince Bismarck wrote to Herr Stölpke, the successor of Consul Knappe at Apia, describing Knappe's conduct as contrary to the policy of the emperor, with which he (Knappe) was well acquainted. Prince Bismarck reiterates his view that to seek to change the situation in Samoa without the consent of England and America would not be in accord with the treaty arrangements existing. Knappe's proposal to annex Samoa the chancellor regards as incomprehensible because he ought to have known that annexation was in opposition to the emperor's policy. Prince Bismarck said that Consul Knappe had no authority to declare war, or even martial law, and in either case there could be no question of enforcing the law against foreigners. Knappe's official conduct generally had lacked the calmness and coolness which was indispensable for the correct treatment of international questions.

Hoolster Miners May Strike.—INDIANAPOLIS, March 26.—On the first day of May the existing scale for coal mining in the Brazil district will expire. It is now 75 cents for bituminous and 90 cents for block. Day laborers are paid at the rate of two and one half tons for a day's work. The operators bolted the convention at Columbus because their demand for a 12 per cent. reduction was not granted. They claim the rate is not coal mined at a reduction of 10 per cent. They are thoroughly organized and they are thoroughly organized.

Charged with Slighting the Flag.—TOWER CITY, Pa., March 28.—Dr. R. B. Wilson, a member of the school board of this place, having failed to be present when a public presentation of flags was made to the schools of the district by Camps 62 and 443, Patriotic Order Sons of America, he has been requested to resign the board. He is charged with slighting himself willfully, and it is intended that this alleged disrespect of the flag shall not go unnoticed.

Legislators Visit Gettysburg.—GETTYSBURG, Pa., March 28.—State Senators Delamater, Macfarlane, Brown, Yates and Martin; Representatives Clay, Fitchinger, Whiting; Senate Librarian Delany and Chairman Biddle, of the board of public charities, most of them accompanied by their wives, made a tour of the battlefield here.

John Scott Dead.—PITTSBURGH, March 25.—John Scott, president and receiver of the Allegheny Valley railroad, died of pneumonia at his residence on Forbes street, this city.

Heronovskii Respired.—HARRISBURG, March 21.—Governor Beaver has granted a respite to Peter Heronovskii, the Schuylkill county desperado, from March 30 to May 1.

BETHANY SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Six Thousand People Struggling for Admission at John Wanamaker's Church.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—When Postmaster General Joan Wanamaker arrived at Bethany Presbyterian church, Twenty-second and Bainbridge streets, where he is superintendent of the Sunday school, shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon he found fully 6,000 persons gathered around the various entrances waiting for the doors to open.

In some way a rumor had been in circulation for several days before that President Harrison intended to visit the Sunday school with Mr. Wanamaker. The rumor was entirely unfounded, and notwithstanding a printed denial the sidewalks in front of the church were crowded with men, women and boys, all anxious to see the president.

Mr. Wanamaker was much annoyed at the great crowds, and after he entered the Sunday school he told one of the teachers that he would much rather have only two or three hundred earnest listeners than a great crowd of curiosity seekers.

When the doors were finally opened the large Sunday school room was crowded in a few minutes, and while several thousand persons were still on the outside. The secretary reported that there were 3,343 persons in the room. This is the largest number on record on the secretary's book for years. Fully 2,000 others who were unable to gain admission went into the church, where Superintendent Wanamaker always teaches his adult Bible class, and waited for the postmaster general to appear.

Doctors Sued for $10,000 Damages.—CARLISLE, Pa., March 25.—Samuel Hepburn, Jr., and Stuart & Stuart, attorneys for John S. Thumma, administrator of Miss Alice Thumma, have brought suit for $10,000 damages against J. G. Fickler and Dr. J. H. Deardoff, of Carlisle; Dr. Jacob H. Spangler, of Mechanicsburg; Dr. W. R. Peters, of Churchtown; and Dr. William B. Van Lennep, Dr. John Murcutt, and Dr. J. A. McDonald, of Philadelphia, for causing the death of Miss Alice Thumma. About one month ago these physicians performed the operation of "parotomy" upon the young girl, and in a day or so afterward she died. The family was not satisfied, and desired that an examination of the body be made. A post mortem was made by several physicians of this city, who reported that in their judgment Miss Thumma's malady did not justify the performing of any such operation. Ex-Congressman Belthover has been employed by the physicians. The trial will probably take place in May.

Regist. of "Hungarian Dudes."—EASTON, Pa., March 21.—Since Saturday last from two to three carloads of Hungarians have passed through here every day, bound for New York, whence they sail for their native land. Some of them come from Allentown, and others from the coal regions. The majority of them are neatly dressed and clean. All tell different stories. Some of them say they were compelled to work too hard here and are going to their old homes to engage at farming. Others claimed they had made fortunes and were returning to live retired. In a carload that passed here last evening were two Huns who held conversations in English and wore stand-up collars and diagonal dress suits made in Germany. They called themselves Hungarian-American dudes.

Blasting on the Susquehanna.—WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., March 30.—The warm weather of the past week has caused the snow to melt rapidly in the mountain north and west of here and West Branch river at this point is now eight feet above low water mark in consequence. This is an elegant stage for rafting, but owing to the ice gorges up river the lumbermen have been delayed putting in their timber. A number of rafts that were harbored in Bald Eagle creek during the winter have started for market. The first raft of the season passed this city a few days ago and attracted considerable attention. It was consigned to Himmelreich & Co., at Lewisburg.

Ladies in a License Court.—WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 19.—The license court here, presided over by Judge Waddell, presented an unusual sight yesterday. It was almost filled with ladies representing the different local Women's Christian Temperance Societies in this county, who were delegates regularly appointed to see that the judge does his duty in granting and refusing licenses. There were sixty-seven applications for license made. Fourteen of them are contested, and in these cases there are long lists of names asking the court to refuse licenses. Two licenses only have been granted, to hotels at Phoenixville and Unionville.

Barn Burners Arrested.—BALTIMORE, March 21.—The Sun's special from York, Pa., says: Five persons were arrested charged with burning barns in the southern part of this county during the past few months. Their names are Mrs. Elizabeth Weaver, aged 27 years; Mrs. Amelia Miller, aged 37; Miss Cora Reible, aged 15; Howard and James Stump, sons of Wesley A. Stump, aged 10 and 8 years. All the accused except the boys were brought to York and lodged in jail. The mother of the boys was seized with spasms when the constables were about to take them from her, and they were left with her, the father promising to bring them to York.

Charged with Slighting the Flag.—TOWER CITY, Pa., March 28.—Dr. R. B. Wilson, a member of the school board of this place, having failed to be present when a public presentation of flags was made to the schools of the district by Camps 62 and 443, Patriotic Order Sons of America, he has been requested to resign the board. He is charged with slighting himself willfully, and it is intended that this alleged disrespect of the flag shall not go unnoticed.

JUSTICE MATTHEWS DEAD.

The Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Expires After a Long Illness.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The announcement of the unexpected death of Justice Stanley Matthews, who has been lingering with a dangerous disease nearly a year, has produced a profound sensation in all circles of public life.

The chamber in which Justice Matthews breathed his last, and which has been his world since last September, is on the east side of the second story of the elegant mansion occupied by him for several years on the corner of Connecticut avenue and N street. The tightly drawn blinds along the entire avenue front afforded the first indication to neighbors and passers by that all was not as usual within. The reports of Justice Matthews' condition during the past week had been of such a cheering nature that apprehension was in a great measure subdued, and the news of his death came with a shock, even to many who had been prepared for the announcement at any time during the winter.

The engagement of Miss Matthews and Mr. Justice Gray was announced this week and the marriage was expected to occur in June.

The immediate cause of death was exhaustion of the heart and congestion of the kidneys.

JUSTICE MATTHEWS' FUNERAL.

Many Distinguished Persons Attend the Obsequies of the Deceased Justice.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Funeral services over the remains of the late Associate Justice Stanley Matthews were held at the family residence, corner of Connecticut avenue and N street. The remains lay in the music room adjoining the reception room on the south and the apartment was almost filled with flowers. The casket was cloth covered, with silver nails and handles and on the cover was a silver plate, bearing the inscription: "Stanley Matthews, born July 12, 1824. Died March 22, 1889."

There were in attendance a large number of prominent persons in all ranks of official life, besides many family friends in the private walks of life. Among the earliest arrivals were the members of the supreme court, who had seated in the room where the bier stood. In this room were also the president and vice president, members of the cabinet, and the family. The presidential party gathered at the residence just at the hour fixed for the beginning of the services—1 o'clock. They came in in the following order:

President Harrison and Mrs. Blaine, Secretary Blaine and Mrs. McKee, Postmaster General Wanamaker and Mrs. Russell B. Harrison, Secretaries Windom, Proctor, Rusk and Noble, Attorney General Miller, Private Secretary Halford and Burnett, H. Harrison.

Gen. Scherfeld represented the army and Admiral Porter the navy.

Vice President Morton arrived a few minutes before the president and his party. The remains were taken to the Baltimore and Ohio station and thence to Cincinnati.

PRONOUNCED FOR PROHIBITION

The Central Pennsylvania Conference Decides to End the Campaign.

SHAMONIN, Pa., March 26.—In the session of the Methodist Episcopal conference Carlisle was selected as the place of next meeting.

The committee on constitutional prohibition and observances of the Sabbath, put forth a powerful paper, which was adopted unanimously. The salient features of the report were that the abettors and defenders of the liquor traffic are the implacable enemies of the Sabbath; the destruction of which and drunkenness constituting two great evils, the destruction of the former would undoubtedly aid in doing away with the latter. Those politicians and editors who eulogize high license for the purpose of defeating prohibition are much to be deplored and must be arraigned at the bar of public opinion.

The duty of a Christian is to vote for candidates pledged to favor the enactment and enforcement of the prohibitory law. Christian ministers and laymen should demand the appropriation of all the time, money and energy possible from now until June 18. Knowing of no state paper pronounced in favor of the amendment, it will be requested of the amendment state committee to secure the services of a metropolitan paper to work in the interests of prohibition. All persons desiring prohibition will pledge themselves to such paper's support and circulation. All congressmen, as far as possible, shall release their pastors after May 1 to work for the furtherance of the interest of the amendment.

Following is a part of the statistical report. Full members: Altoona district 9,744, Danville 8,432, Harrisburg 9,227, Juniata 7,962, Williamsport 1,424, total 43,979.

Probationers: Altoona district 1,425, Danville 1,408, Harrisburg 1,241, Juniata 1,299, Williamsport 1,969, total 6,737. Local preachers 187, deaths 598, churches 501, value $1,067,025, parsonages 139, value $322,100.

OPENING CANAL NAVIGATION.

The Coal Canals Open Early This Year and Expect a Prosperous Season.

EASTON, Pa., March 26.—Navigation has opened on the Lehigh, Delaware and Morris canals. The loading of boats was also commenced at the Lehigh Valley docks in Phillipsburg, and before night thirty boats will be ready for travel toward New York. The outlook for profitable boating on the canals for this year is much brighter than it was the early part of last season.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 26.—The Delaware and Hudson canal, which runs from Honesdale to Roundout, N. Y., has been filled with water, and navigation has commenced, being the earliest period in its history of more than fifty years, excepting in the spring of 1869, when it was opened about the middle of March. Last year the first boat at the Honesdale coal chutes was loaded on the 11th of April. There is now piled on the wharves at that place a mountain of coal, which on Friday last contained 443,076 tons, against 301,705 tons on the same date last year. The coal will be removed to tide by boat, along with the thousands of tons which will be banked during the summer, and of itself insures a most prosperous season for the boatmen.
