HOUSEHOLD.

DINNER TABLE FASHIONS.—No law will govern flower decoration this winter. The arrangement of flowers will be according to fancy. Scarfs of satin and plush will be discarded by those who keep apace of fashion's dictates. Linen will be plain, but fine, as if loomed in fairy land. It will not be spun in flowers or geometric designs, but unmarked, as one of our great-grandmas best pocket handkerchiefs, and, like that, hand hemstitched. The piece of furniture known in England as a "dinner wagon" and in France as an "etagere" has obtained recognition on this side of the Atlantic as a desirable accessory. It consists of a series of open shelves, on which are placed the extra napkins and serviettes to be used. The first heavy napkin is taken away and a more delirate one brought with the Roman punch or whatever is offered in its stead. With the game comes a fresh one, and when the dessert arrives so does a new napkin. The "etagere" holds the salad bowls, spoons and plates, the dessert dishes and finger bowls. The jellies for the meats, relishes, radishes and celery come on the vehicle which our British friends designate by the cumbersome name of "wagon." A handsome china dish in three compartments is sometimes used for the cheese, butter and biscuit passed with salads.

A SPRAINED ankle can be successfully treated at home. Remove the shoe and stocking as quickly as possible and wash frequently with cold salt water. If there is much heat in the joint, apply cloths wet with a mixture of seven ounces of water, one of laudanum and one drachm of sugar of lead. Keep the foot elevated and cool, do not stand on it, and move it as little as possible.

Parallel Lines.

EVERY student knows that in close reasoning parallel lines of thought are laid down and deductions educed.

It is not our purpose at this time to enter into a learned discussion, and we have drawn the above visible lines simply to bring them prominently before your eye and to ask what they represent to you.

A railroad man to whom we showed them said, "To me those four lines represent a double-track railway."

A doctor replied to the same interrogatory, "The lines are to me the large arteries and veins lying alongside each other in the human body."

As will be observed the same lines to either gentleman suggested different lines of thought, as both looked at them through eyes accustomed to see only that which for the most part occupied their attention. To the writer both answers put an old truth in a fresh and original light.

As every intelligent man or woman knows the blood of every living person flows with almost railroad speed through the arteries, forced by that wonderful engine, the heart. From the arteries it is side-tracked through the capilliaries and veins, and every drop of blood goes through the kidneys for purification no less than 2500 times every twenty-four hours. If the kidneys be diseased the impurities of the blood containing the wornout tissues, and deleterious acids are not drawn out or excreted as nature intended, but continually pass and repass through every fibre of the system, carrying death and decay with every pulsation. Unless remedied the heart becomes weakened, the lungs trying to do double work break down, the liver becomes congested, the stomach refuses to digest food and the result is a general break down.

Why?

Because the kidneys, the sewers of the system, are foul and stopped up, and the entire blood becomes nothing more nor less than sewage.

Now is it not criminal, nay, suicidal, to allow such a state of things to continue when a simple remedy is within your reach, known for a certainty to do as represented, which will open the closed pipes of the kidneys, allow the effete matter to escape, relieve the overworked heart, lungs and liver, cause a healty appetite, put the bloom of health in your cheek, the dove of hope in your breast and the light of life in your eye?

You already have divined the remedy we have reference to; its praise is universal, its influence world-wide. Do not allow prejudice to blind you to your best interests, but to-day procure Warner's safe cure and be put on the straight road to rude health and correct living.

Our parallel and closing lines to you are, take our advice and your experience will justify you in thanking us for bringing under your notice a remedy without a parallel.

FRENCH RICE PUDDING.—Pick and wash in two or three waters a couple of handfuls of rice, and put it to cook in rather less than a quart of milk, sweetened to taste, and with the addition of the thin rind of one lemon, cut in one piece, and a small stick of cinnamon. Let the rice simmer gently until it has absorbed all the milk. Turn it out into a basin, and, when cold, remove the lemon rind and cinnamon. Then stir it into the yolks of four eggs and one whole egg beaten up, add a small quantity of candied citron cut into small pieces and mix it well in. Butter and breadcrumb a plain tin mold, put the mixture into it and bake in a quick oven for about an hour. To ascertain when the pudding is done insert a bright trussing needle into it, and if it comes out clean it is done.

EVERY mother knows how often little ones get something in the eye. Take hold of the lashes of the upper lid with the left hand, and pressing the dull point of a pencil against the middle of the lid, turn it upward; then remove the substance with a camel's hair brush, or the corner of a soft handkerchief.

FOR the sting of a bee, or the bite of an insect, apply diluted ammonia, or bi-carbonate of soda, to the part affected.

The Oft Told Story

Of the peculiar medicinal merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully confirmed by the testimony of thousands who have tried it. Peculiar in the combination, proportion, and preparation of its ingredients, peculiar in the extreme care with which it is put up, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures where other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in the unequalled good name it has made at home, peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most successful spring medicine and blood purifier before the public. Be sure to get Hood's.

Spring Medicine.

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I procured one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

THE COLONEL'S BET.—"A boy is a strange being, isn't he?" queried the Colonel, as he looked out of the office window.

"I don't see anything so very strange about that particular boy," replied one of the other loungers, as he sauntered up and saw a boy of 10 on the opposite side of the street.

"But he has got a jug," persisted the Colonel.

"Well, what of it? Can't a boy carry a jug?"

"But he is swinging it about his head."

"Let him swing. You never saw a boy who wouldn't."

"I'll bet he breaks it before he gets to the corner," exclaimed the Colonel.

"Nonsense!"

"Bet you twenty dollars."

"Done!"

Half a dozen rushed up to watch further proceedings. The boy continued to swing the jug, apparently bent upon performing some particular feat, and just before he reached the corner his hand slipped and the jug was dashed to pieces.

"I knew it! I knew it!" chuckled the Colonel, as he danced around.

"Drat him—here's your money!" growled the other.

An hour later, after spending the interval in solemn thought, the loser mildly inquired:

"Colonel, did you think you had a sure thing on me?"

"Certainly. I bought that jug for the boy, and gave him fifty cents to carry out the programme."

NO PRIVATES.—Stranger—Colonel, I am a private detective and am about to open an office in your city, and should like your—

Colonel Bolivar, a native Kentuckian—Wastin' yure time, sah, wastin' it! Thar are no privates here to detect, sah; nuthin' less than captains, sah, an' mighty few of them.

A LUCKY HIT.—Ebenezer Snowball, excitedly—Hi! dare! Who hit me on de head wid dat brick?

Samson Lightshade—I frowed it! What am yer goin' ter do 'bout it?

"Youse bigger dan me, Mr. Lightshade, but it am berry forchnit for you dat it didn't hurt me."

REFRESHMENTS.—Brown, who lives high—You look tired.

Smith—Yes, I am very much exhausted from climbing up those four flights of stairs. Can't you provide me with some little refreshment?

'Certainly, certainly. I'll open one of the windows."

A COLD CUT.—"H'm!" said Jack Borrowit, as he dropped in to luncheon, "I'm dead broke today, Fitz, but if you'll trust me till tomorrow I'd like to have a cold cut."

But the restaurateur looked at him icily and gave him the coldest kind of a cut.

"HENERY? W'y, Henery died 'mos a yeah ago, wid a kyarbuncle."

"My! It's awful how many gits killed on dem kyars now a days wid de bilers bustin' an' a gittin' scrunched 'tween de kyar-buncles."

ENTERPRISING.—Street fakir—Shoe strings, sir; shoe strings!

McHurry—Can't you see that I am wearing buttoned shoes?

"Yes, sir; that's why I thought may be your laced ones were at home without strings."

TEACHER—Tommy, what is half of 8?

Tommy—Sideways or top?

"What do you mean?"

"Why, half from the top of 8 is 0; and half sideways is 3."

A GLASS eye has one compensation—every body else can see through the device, if the wearer can't.

POLENTA FRITTERS.—Put a pint of water and an ounce of butter, with a pinch of salt, into a saucepan on the fire. When the water boils drop in with one hand some Indian corn flour, and by means of a spoon stir with the other hand as if making porridge until a liquid paste is obtained. Care must be taken not to put in too much flour, and to put it in very gradually, so as to get a perfectly smooth paste. Now add plenty of grated Parmesan cheese and powdered pepper to taste, stir well, and turn out the paste on a marble slab to cool. When cold, cut it out into small uniform pieces, flour them, and fry in hot lard.

WET grass stains on white goods with water, rub in some soft soap and as much soda as will adhere; let stand half an hour, then wash in the usual manner.

A LITTLE fellow ran to his mother the other day and asked:

"Ma, can I have some bread and jam?"

His mother wishing to break him of the habit, replied:

"When I was your age I couldn't get anything to eat between meals if I wanted it."

"Yes," said the boy after a moment's pause, "but you didn't have a good, nice mamma like me, did you?"

Mrs. Rounder, absently—If there's anything out later than my husband I'll take it, if only for a curiosity.

STUNNED BY THE PROSPECT.—Old Maid—Have you a parrot for sale?

Bird fancier—Yes, ma'am. The one in the white cage.

"How much?"

"Ten dollars."

"I'll take it."

"Ten dollars on trial; if satisfactory, fifty dollars."

"I'll take it, I'll take it."

A CITY lady said to her new cook in the kitchen:

"I don't know what to have today for dessert. Can you make a suggestion?"

The cook hesitating replied:

"I don't know whether I can or not; but if you will tell me how it is made, I will do the best I can to make it right."

CHEESE FRITTERS.—Put about a pint of water into a saucepan with a piece of butter the size of an egg, the least bit of cayenne and plenty of black pepper. When the water boils throw gradually into it sufficient flour to form a thick paste, then take it off the fire and work into it about one quarter of a pound of ground Parmesan cheese, and then the yolks of three or four eggs and the whites of two beaten up into a froth. Let the paste rest for a couple of hours, and proceed to fry by dropping pieces of it the size of a walnut into plenty of hot lard. Serve sprinkled with very fine salt.

PARTICLES of lime often cause great pain if they get into the eye, as any one who has ever whitewashed a ceiling can testify. Appiy weak vinegar to neutralize the alkali and remove the particle as directed.

A handful of pokeberry root put into a pint of sweet milk is said to be a sure cure for erysipelas.

MAY TO BELL.

Dear Bell: I'll write you a short letter
To say I'm wonderfully better;
How much that means you ought to know,
Who saw me just one month ago—
Thin, nervous, fretful, white as chalk,
Almost too weak to breathe or talk;
Head throbbing, as if fit for breaking,
A weary, ever-present aching.

But now life seems a different thing:
I feel as glad as bird on wing!
I say, and fear no contradiction,
That Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Is grand! Why, I'd have died without it.
Ma thinks there's no mistake about it.
It's driven all my ills away:
Just come and see! Yours ever, MAY.
