Probably thousands of people in this section of country, and this section is no exception to any other in this respect in the United States, have read nified demeanor, and inspired the the report said to have been written by somewhat flippant Chicago woman Prof. S. A. Lattimore, Ph. D., LL. D., Analyst of Foods and Medicines, New York State Board of Health and Professor of Chemistry in the Rochester, N. Y., University, stating that all of the Safe Remedies manufactured by H. H. Warner & Co., were pure and wholesome, nor did any of them contain any mercury or deleterious substance. To shorten the controversy, however, we will give Professor Lattimore's report entire:

UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER, ) CHEMICAL LABORATORY, Mr. H. H. Warner has placed in my possession the formulæ of the several the general designation of "Warner's horrid man?" Safe Remedies. I have investigated the processes of manufacture which are conducted with extreme care and according to the best methods. I have taken from the Laboratory samples of husband sat reading his paper. all the articles used in the preparation of these medicines, as well as the several medicines in which they enter. 1 | 1t!" have also purchased from different druggists in this city "Warner's Safe Remedies," and upon critical examination I find them all entirely free from mercury and from poisonous and deleterious substances.

S. A.LATTIMORE, Ph. D., LL. D., Analyst of Foods and Nedicines, New fessor of Chemistry, University of Rochester, N. Y. We cannot think that a firm of the standing of H. H. Warner & Co. it were untrue, and we now have that firm's authority to say to our readers that it is absolutely and unqualifiedly true in every particular.

Pasturing in swamp meadows will produce and aggravate the frequent foot ailments caused by constant moisture and the presence of mud or sand between the claws. thing around you? Cleanliness will prevent this evil. Sore feet should be treated promptly. An excellent remedy for sore feet and wounds in animals of all kinds is an ointment made in this way: melt together four ounces of lard, one ounce Burgundy pitch and one ounce Venice turpentine; stir in one ounce of spirits of turpentine, two drams of acetate of I could not refuse him. copper. Stir until cold and keep in an and then dressed with this ointment Christmas.' daily. It is a good thing to have in the stable. Keep up the feed of milking cows. Shelter them at night. A GOOD WORD FOR WEEDS .-Weeds are plenty in the wrong place. not the expense we be mindin' in any They all probably have their right ways. places and their use somewhere in nature's economy, though these are sometimes hard to appreciate. The most of them may serve to keep some desolate spot from being entirely bare, and the decay of their repeated generations, furnish mould to the ground, and may in time make it fit to bear something better. They all too, have elements of beauty, and these will reveal themselves to every one who diligently searches for them. Even the most forbidding are revealed under microscopic inspection as objects of rare beauty. Many of them, if they were not weeds, would be prised as rare flowers, and some of them have been

LINSEED TEA FOR SICK HORSES .-Linseed tea is not only a valuable restorative for sick horses, but is exceed-ingly useful in cases of inflammation of the membranes peculiar to the organs of respiration and digestion; it shields and lubricates the same; tranquilizes the irritable state of the parts, and favors healthy action. We have prescribed linseed tea in large quantities during the past month, for horses laboring under the prevailing influenza; they seemed to derive much good from it, and generally drank with avidity.

THE hen house should have a tight roof and walls. If the shingles are old and admit the wet, then surely trouble will ensue. Damp floors will be sure to bring colds, and these neglected soon develop into roup, the most difficult disease to control known to the poultry yard. Stop the leaks, patch the roof, seal up the cracks, and so keep the hens healthy, for surely they will not produce eggs if diseased.

ONE of the worst and most hopeless features of the present unprofitable dairying is the fact that so few of our dairymen know just what they are doing and whether all of their cowsor any of them pay cost. So many farmers fail to keep accurate accounts of their operations that it often takes them years to ascertain positively whether they are gaining or losing by their operations and by what ones they gain and what they lose.

TO DESTROY THE CANADA THISTLE. —Henry Ward Beecher, the famous preacher and fancy farmer, claimed to have solved the problem of getting rid of the Canada thistle. He said: The only way to exterminate the weed is to plant it for a crop and propose to make money out of it. The worms will gnaw it, bugs will bite it, beetles will bore it, spiders will web it, birds will peck it, heat will scorch it, cold will freeze it, rains will drown it, and mildew and blight will cover it.

An excellent mixture of hay fer all classes of stock is one-third clover-hay with timothy and redtop, which is much better than either one alone, as the mixture is more complete in food elements. It should be red with an allowance of ground tra'n a so.

A HONEYMOONING PROFESSOR .-It was in Waukesha last summer that a Chicago woman became acquainted with a distinguished professor from the East. He was a man-of grave and digwith no little awe. With the professor was his young wife, a particularly quiet young woman, who seldom spoke. The Chicago woman, being left alone with them, undertook to furnish the chat. "I was sitting out here on the plazza last night," said she, "after every one had left, and I chanced to overhear a scrap of conversation from one of the windows. I don't suppose a serious gentleman like yourself, Professor, will be at all interested, and I tell it for the amusement of your wife. The voices floating out were those of a man and woman, and I heard the man say:

'Poor 'ittle birdie, is oo afraid to be medicines manufactured and sold under all alone in de world wid a great big

STUCK ON NERO .- The special officer was called upon the other day to separate a couple of men who were threatening to come to blows. One of them was an old man, and, after he had been made to resume his coat, vest, comforter, cap and mittens, all of which he had doffed for the encounter, he explained:

"Darndest set of people around here lever saw! I got to thinking about Nero as I waited for the train, and it struck me that I had forgotten his age. I asked about twenty people, but no one could tell. When I asked that old stub-nose over there he said he'd knock my head off if I didn't canter."

"Well, why didn't you go away?" "I was going to, but he acted so mighty cranky I made up my mind to drub him. A man who can't answer a civil question ought to be drubbed." "Well, don't raise any further fuss."

For two years 1 had rheumatism so bad that rheumatism so bad that it disabled me for work and confined me to my bed for a whole year, during which time I could not even raise my hands to my head, and for 3 months could not move myself in bed, was reduced in firsh from 12 to 86 lbs.
