Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 8, 1887.

Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlophores. After taking one bottle I found it to be helping me, and after taking four bottles of Athlophores and one of Pills, I found that I was entirely well. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.

Published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

the Constitution.

Joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of this Commonwealth:

SECTION 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment is proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the Eighteenth Article thereof.

AMENDMENT. There shall be an additional article to said obstitution to be designated as Article XfX as

ARTICLE XIX.

ARTICLE XIX.

The manufacture, sale or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquor, to be used as a beverage, is hereby prohibited, and any violation of this prohibition shall be a misdemeanor, punishable as shall be provided by law

The manufacture, sale or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquor for other purposes than as a beverage may be allowed in such manner only as may be prescribed by law. The General Assembly shall, at the first session succeeding the adoption of this article of the Constitution, enact laws with adequate penalties for its enforcement.

CHARLES W. STONE,

SCOTT ASSETTION OF THE STONE OF TH

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE. The New York Sunket and High Licenso

Agitate the Harrisburg Solons. HARRISBURG, April 27.-In the senate was reported by Chairman Reyburn, of the appropriation committee. As viding for the creation and distribution amended in the house, the schools at of a fund for the care, maintenance, and Neallisterville, Mercer, Mount Joy, or Chester Springs, known as "syndicate school," were named specifically and commissioners were prohibited from making contracts with the owners of the second class. Consideration of the medical examiners bill was post-poned.

The places of the bill which in the care, manneralize, and relief of aged or disabled policemen in cities of the second class. Consideration of the medical examiners bill was post-poned.

The places of the bill which in the care, manneralize, and relief of aged or disabled policemen in cities of the second class. Consideration of the medical examiners bill was post-poned. The clause of the bill which schools. specifically names these schools was stricken out and it was made to read, "schools controlled by any syndicate or socalled syndicate or under any contract system." The commissioners of soldiers' schools are prohibited from making any contract "with any syndicate or socalled syndicate schools." A favorable report was also received on the bill enabling the board of revenue commissioners to settle accounts for the horse and cattle taxes improperly collected.

The Fow license transfer bill came up on final passage, and was amended so as to allow judgments to be entered on bonds in case of conviction. The soldiers' orphans' school commission bill came up on second reading, and it was amended by inserting a clause providing that managers and superintendents of such schools should file an affidavit to the effect that they are not interested, directly or indirectly, in any other schools in the state before any money shall be paid them from the treasury. The Thomas Friendly society bill was recommitted to the committee. The governor notified the senate that he had signed the bill making a legal holiday of Sept. 1, known as Labor day, and also the concurrent resolution creating a road commission

The house was rather dull. As usual a large number of members asked for leave of absence, and it was stated by the clerk that forty-three had already received permission to go, and no more leaves of absence were granted.

The act to prohibit the hunting of deer or other game in Mifflin county by non-residents passed second reading. Senate bill to create a commission to investigate the waste of coal mining and mak ing an appropriation to pay the expenses passed finally. The general appropria-tion bill was passed finally. It now goes to the senate.

HARRISBURG, April 26 .- Mr. Capp in the house attempted to cut off the trip of the legislature to New York by getting the house to agree to meet on Monday when it adjourned this week. He made this motion and denounced the trip to New York as a disgrace to the state and to the legislature. Business had been crowded together in a few closing days, and in the face of this condition of affairs if was proposed to take a junket to New York and spend the state's money on a pleasure trip. The motion was ruled out of order. The second reading of the general appropriation bill was proceeded with, and an amendment providing $200,000,000 for the public schools was passed. The senate, on motion of Mr. Reyburn agreed to a concurrent resolution that upon adjournment this week the legislature shall meet again on Thursday morning, in order to attend the New York centennial.

The senate then proceeded to the calendar, and the consideration of the Fow license transfer bill came up on final passage. Mr. McAleer moved to strike out the section which was inserted on second reading by Mr. Cooper, and which provided that the license should be limited to one to every 500 persons in the city or county Mr. Cooper said the question resolved itself to this: For or against high license. The good results of the bill was obvious, and because some judges abused the discretionary powers given them by the legislature by granting licenses to all or no applicants, that was no argument against high license.

Mr. McAleer said the present laws were sufficient to protect the people of the state. He said: "The gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Cooper) has said much about the 18th of June. May I ask just what his position on the prohibition amendment is?" bition amendment is?"

Senator Cooper-When the senator tells me whether it is the truth or not that the Democratic senators have en-tered into a combination to vote for prohibition.

Mr. McAleer-When the senator answers my question I will answer his.

Mr. McAleer's motion was lost. The grade crossing bill was defeated by 23 to 17.

HARRISEURO, April 25.—The senate concurred in the house bill authorizing the governor to appoint a commission to revise the road laws, and to consider the advisability of the state aiding in the building of roads. The trustees of the Ashland hospital and other nominations made by the governor, were confirmed.

Favorable reports were received from committees on the following house bills: To provide for the examination of miners in the anthracite regions, to prevent the employment of incompetent persons in the mines; prescribing the manner in which new counties may be formed; providing for the continuance and maintenance of soldiers' orphan schools. Mr. Henninger attempted to have slate manufacturers included among those exempt from taxation, but he failed by a vote of 12 to 26. Mr. Martin moved to make the tax on hacks and livery stables 2 mills instead of 3, but this failed also. The following bills passed finally: Giv-

The following bills passed finally: Giving to water supply companies the right to condemn property and rights for the purpose of obtaining and supplying water; House bill authorizing petroleum mining companies to carry on the gas supply business; House bill enabling the banks of the commonwealth to become associations for the purpose of banking under the laws of the United States; Authorizing the appointment of deputy Authorizing the appointment of deputy constables vested with the power of policemen on petition of citizens of any township by the court of quarter ses-

The bill preventing mining companies from furnishing goods to their employes, failed on final passage by 17 to 15.

The house passed bills appropriating $50,000 for the vetinary department of the University of Pennsylvania, $20,000 for the Polyclinic college in Philadelphia; $90,000 for the state normal schools, $10,000 for Wills Eve hospital, Philadelphia, and $6,100 for Reading hospital.

Mr. Spier presented a resolution charging the New England Mutual Life Insurance company with bad faith in its dealings with citizens of the commonwealth, and requesting the house to in-wealth, and requesting the house to investigate the charges. The resolution was objected to and deferred.

HARRISBURG, April 24.—James Mc-Manes, of Philadelphia, is here in the in-terest of the judges salary bill, and after a count of noses seems satisfied that it will pass.

In the house the following bills were passed finally and sent to the senate: for logs; to require county commissioners to furnish supplies and fuel for county offices; making an appropriation of $12,000 to provide for transportation, food, the soldiers' orphans appropriation bill and lodging for the national guard at was reported by Chairman Reyburn, of the New York centennial, April 30; pro-As viding for the creation and distribution joint resolution for the appointment of commissioners to represent Pennsylvania in the Paris exposition. Notice was received from the governor that he has signed the bill for a 19,000 edition of the Warren Book of Birds, and the Keyser bill to give privileges to tricycles and bicycles. The house passed the follow-ing house bills finally: To regulate the dockage of coal and the Baker bills for the protection of shad. The senate re used to concur in the house amendments to the following bills: To validate private sales of real estate of defendents heretofore made under authority of orphan's courts, upon petition of executors or administrators for payment of debts not recorded and regulating commissions of lunacy. The senate concurred in the amendments to the bill prohibiting the printing or circulation of publications effering for sale counterfeit money, "green goods," etc. A heated and somewhat personal de bate followed a substitution made by Senator Gobin for the bill on third reading, authorizing water supply companies to condemn property and rights for the purpose of obtaining and supplying wa-ter. Mr. Gobin's amendment to go into the committee of the whole for the purpose of amendment was passed, and the substitution was made.

Notwithstanding the wholesale slaughter of house bills on second reading by dispensing with the house calendar of general bills, in order to gain time, there s still an impression in legislative circles that the legislature cannot adjourn on May 9 without leaving a great deal of important legislation unfinished. There is an ugly feeling manifested among those whose bills are doomed to defeat and signs of trouble are cropping out that may lead to an open rupture. If this comes it will culminate in a fusion of the discontented, who, if not in the majority, can so hamper legislation as to leave unfinished much legislation that the leaders now want. The feeling is that the session will be prolonged beyond May 9, despite the fact that, as one of the leaders said this morning, "It will be a bad thing for the Republican party.'

A FRIGHTFUL HOLOCAUST.

Sixteen Burned Alive in a Wrecked Passenger Train Near Hamilton, Ont. HAMILTON, Ont., April 29.—The limited express on the Grand Trunk railroad yesterday morning met with an accident about two miles west of this city, the result of which was the loss of many

The accident occurred at the junction where a "Y" is built. The "Y" is used to switch through trains for Toronto, Ont., to the Toronto branch from the main line.

A Terrible Crash. The train is said to have been running at a speed of forty miles an hour or more when directly on passing the switch the engine jumped the track and plunged into a water tank which stood in a space between the "Y," smashing the tank into atoms and turning the engine almost upside down. The baggage cars came directly after the engine, and the first of these was pitched over the locomotive and thrown on the main track, leaving its wheels behind it.

The Train Takes Fire. The other baggage car caught fire from the engine, and the two were soon in flames. The coaches following, with the exception of the two Wagner cars in the rear of the train, were huddled to gether by the shock and soon caught fire from the baggage cars.

The passengers in the train, numbering over 150, many of whom were asleep at the time, had a terrible experience. Large slivers of iron and wood flew in all directions, and the confusion among the wrecked passengers can better be imagined than described.

The majority of those aboard the train were enabled to get out of the coaches before the fire had reached them, but in the confusion which reigned it is not known how many viotims were left to the mercy of the flames, pinned in by the material of the wreck and unable to extricate themselves.

Sixteen Mangled Beyond Recognition. Sixteen Mangled Beyond Recognition.

The remains of from sixteen to eighteen men were taken out of the wreek as hour or fwo later. They were cut to pieces almost to a man and burned beyond all possibility of recognition. They were huddled together is a heap in the end of the smoker and were pinked in by the timbers which made it impossible for them to extricate themselves.

Nothing could be done for them, as the flerceness of the flames made it out of the question for men to rescue. The only way in which it could be ascertained that from sixteen to eighteen bodies had been taken out was from the fact that legs and arms corresponding to about that number were found. The remains were taken to the morgue. It will probably be days before the dead are identified.

PITTSBURG, April April 24.—The action of Judge White, of the county license court, in making a wholesale reduction in the number of licenses compared with last year, has caused the liveliest kind of kicking in the entire city of Pittsburg. Many of the leading wholesale and retail houses were knocked out by the court and one of the leavest. out by the court and one of the largest ale brewers in the county was refused. The wholesalers are most indignant, and are discussing what steps they will take. Some want to move to Ohio. Judge White made a frightful slaughter in the applications, granting but ninety-three retail and forty-three wholesale licenses in this city, against a total of over 700 two years ago and 274 last year. Thirtynine retail and fifteen wholesale license were granted in Alleghany. The total number of wholesale and retail licenses granted in the county was 254.

The Swellen Schuylkill.

READING, Pa., April 30 .- The Schuylkill is still much swollen, owing to the continuous rain of the past few days, and much debris is being carried down the stream. There are no further fears of a freshet. The railroad companies are engaged in removing loose rocks that endanger the tracks at different points, and extra repairmen have been ordered out.

The Lutheran Ministerium. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., April 30.—The fifth annual conference of the Lutheran ministerium of Pennsylvania met here and will continue in session to-morrow. A large number of ministers and lay delegates are in attendance at St. Mark's church, where the meetings are being
