GUNPOWDER GAINS SEVEN VICTIMS.

The Bady of the Strikers Increasing and Disturbances and Encounters Between the People and the Military Continue. A Miner Driven Mad by Military Out-

BERLIN, May 14 .- The kaiser will receive the deputation of the striking miners of Westphalia, Bunte, Siegel and Schroeder as delegates representing 100, 000 strikers.

The strikers assembled in force and prevented the opening of the Althaase and Sproekhoevel pits. They were charged upon by the hussars and dis-A large number of them were arrested.

More Military Murders. A serious affray occurred at Elizenheim arising out of disputed claims to the occupation of private lands. The military were called out to disperse the so without firing upon them. Seven persons were killed. The coal miners of Waldenburg, Silesia, have joined the Westphalia strikers.

A Miner Driven Mad. A brother of Hermes, who was killed in the riot at Schleswig, became insane at hearing of his brother's death and attacked a friend named Bliechert with a hatchet and killed him. Sixty miners, who had struck from the prince regent's colliery at Borchun, repented of their action and resolved to resume work. They were prevented by those still warring against the masters and surrounded by a howling and cursing mob. The military subsequently arrived and a conflict between them and the infuriated strikers is certain.

UNITED BRETHREN SPL T .

Unable to Dwell Together in Harmony Conference Delegates Secede.

YORK, Pa., May 14.—The long expected secession in the United Brethren conference took place yesterday. When it became known that the new constitution was to go into effect immediately the minority left the building and held a secret meeting in another part of the city. They then decided to band together under the old constitution. Accordingly an open talk session was held the feelings of any member, and said if Bishop Wright presiding. Sixteen ministers were present who had ceased to act with the larger body in its delibera-

This step is the culmination of a long controversy, which was begun in its present form four years ago at the general conference at Fostoria, O. The two bodies now disagree as to which is the old church. The minority or seceding section claims that distinction because they cleave to the old constitution, while the majority claims that title because the members have existed until today since 1841 under the constitution. and today work under it only in an amended form. The minority will hold morning, afternoon and evening sessions each day this week.

After the majority session had closed many of the ministers visited the meeting held by the minority and listened to the proceedings. The bolters comprise nearly one-sixth of the entire list of delegates and have opposed the lay dele gation in the general conference, and also membership in secret societies. They claim to have been willing to compromise, but declare their opponents would make no concessions whatever.

PHILADELPHIA LICENSES.

Large Numbers of Applications Refused by the License Court. PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—In the first thirteen wards the liquor license court has knocked out seventy-one licensed saloons. The decisions were handed down by the license court to Clerk Peltz, but the marner of doing this did not dispel either the hope or fear with which the anxiously awaited hour was anticipated. In fact no announcement was made at the time, the crowded gather-ing being told that they could learn the

The evening papers published complete lists of the licenses granted and the ap-plications refused, and they were eagerly consulted, not alone by those directly concerned, but by all classes of citizens, who manifested intense interest in the matter. The decisions in these cases are taken to indicate that the high license law will be as rigorously enforced as heretofore in this city.

PRESENTS AND PRETTY SPEECHES.

The Bachelor Speaker Receives a Silver Service and Other Substantial and Verbal Testimonials of Esteem-Mr. Penrose Elected President Pro Tem. of the Senate-Bills Passed.

HARRISBURG, May 10. - The house passed all of its last night of existence in continuous session and at 7 a. m. the conference report on the general appropriation bill was brought in from the printer and agreed to. During the night the house passed finally the following senate

The act providing for the incorporation and regulation of savings banks and institutions without capital stock; the act relating to the receiving of deposits by insolvent bankers, brokers, or any officer of a bank-national, state or private; the act defining the offense and providing a problemat the same problematical same problema and providing a punishment therefor; the act regulating the payment of traveling expenses of directors of the poor and county commis-sioners within this common wealth; the act to authorize the directors of the poor of the sev-eral counties and the overseers of the poor of the several poor districts of the common-wealth of Pennsylvania to sue for and re-cover any and all choses in action belonging cover any and all choses in action belonging to any person who is now or may hereafter be come chargeable to their respective counties or poor districts; the bill to amend an act entitled "An act relative to jasurance companies," approved April 24, A. D. 1857 to apply the provisions of said act to live stock insurance companies, and to give jurisdiction to aldermen, justices of the peace and magistrates giving to water supply companies right to is sue capital stock to an amount not exceeding $2,000,000; an act to punish bribery at the special election in June.

At 11 o'clock Messrs. Moore, Stevens and McKinnon were appointed a committee to wait on the governor and in-form him that the house was ready to adjourn. Messrs, Jones, Allison and Flad were appointed a committe to wait on the senate and inform it that the house was ready to adjourn.

Presents and Compliments for the Speaker At 11:30 ex-Speaker Graham was called to the chair, and Mr. Dearden, in a neat speech, presented to Speaker Boyer, on behalf of the house, a silver service of knives, forks, etc., and a large solid silver salver. Mr. Dearden referred to the high honor paid Mr. Boyer in his twice being elected speaker, and predicted for him future honors, which was greeted with applause. He paid a high compli-ment to the speaker's fairness, integrity and honest judgment. Speaker Boyer regretted that his physical condition prevented him from answering as he would like to. He appreciated the kind words that were said of him, and set the house to smiling by saying that the present given him was "terribly suggestive."

Speaker Boyer is a bachelor, and that is what made the house laugh. He amended his expression to "exquisitely suggestive," and then referred to the kindness with which he had been treated, and the leniency shown him by his fellow members. When he failed he disclaimed any intention to wound m. in the Park opera house, he had done so, he desired to apologize Mr. Baker, on behalf of Morrison, presented Speaker Boyer with a gold watch charm in the shape of a gavel, with diamonds for the head. Mr. Moore, on behalf of the other clerks. presented the speaker with a diamond Several valuable presents were made on behalf of the house to the clerks, sergeant-at-arms and pages. Resident Clerk Voorhees received a beautiful and costly piano. As Speaker Boyer resumed the chair he was met by ex-Speaker Graham, who complimented him highly for his efficiency, and spoke feelingly of the parting. The gavel then fell, and the speaker declared the house adjourned sine die.

Closing Proceedings in the Senate. The members of the senate sat around all night, sleeping on lounges and in the chairs at the desks. Others, more wakeful, gathered in knots and sang songs. The work of the senate had been nearly all cleared up, and they only waited for the arrival of the amended general appropriation bill. The appropriation bill was received from the printer at 7 o'clock and passed.

The governor notified the senate th he had signed the following acts of as-sembly: Dividing the cities into three classes with respect to the population; amending the act providing for the appointment of constables for three years; authorizing county officers to employ detectives and offer rewards for the detection of crime; providing for the organization and regulation of electric light

A resolution offered by Mr. Cooper was adopted thanking Lieutenant Governor William T. Davies for the impartial manner in which he has presided over the sessions of the senate. Resolutions thanking the various other officers of the senate were then adopted, and several senators made eulogistic remarks on the retirement of Capt. Delaney.

Mr. Penrose Elected President Pro Tem. The senate then proceeded to the election of a president pro tem. Mr. Newmyer nominated Boies Penrose and Mr. Ross nominated William McAleer. A ballot being taken, Mr. Penrose, was declared elected by a vote of 33 to 14. The new speaker was escorted to the chair by Senators Newmyer and Mc-Aleer. After a short speech, he was sworn in by Judge Simonton. The senate then adjourned. After the adjournment of the senate a handsome silver service was presented to John C. Grady, the retiring president pro tem. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Ross, of Bucks. Senator Newmyer, on behalf of Chief Clerk Russell Errett, presented Mr. Grady with a handsome gavel. HARRISBURG, May 9.—When the Fow liquor transfer bill was called up in the senate on final passage, Senator Cooper was surprised to find that a material omission had been made in the printing of the amendment relating to the execution bond. The fault laid, of course, with the public printer. The only way out of the difficulty was to postpone the bill and have the error rectified. When the bill was corrected and returned it failed of a constitutional majority. The vote was 28 to 28. Senator Cooper is disposed to think that there was some underhand work in the matter and Senator Smith says it has a very suspicious look.

ninally. The report of the conference committees on the soldiers' orphans' bill were accepted.

The house passed the bill authorizing boards of prison inspectors to fix the salaries of deputy warrens, keepers and other employes, except in Philadelphia, also the bill empowering the president judges of the court of common pleas of counties not forming separate judicial districts to hold the court of quarter sessions of the peace and over terminer and general jail delivery in the absence of the associate judges.

The senate bill for the government and regulation of county jails and prisons was defeated.

The house on third reading voted down the bill to authorize the formation of corporations for the purpose of driving and floating sawlogs, lumber and timber upon all streams not exceeding twenty miles in length from their source. This is commonly known as the "boom" bill. The vote was afterwards reconsidered and the bill passed.

The reports on the soldiers' orphans' appropriation bill, and the bill to relegate the management of the fund and the orphans to a commission, were presented and the reports agreed to.

The governor forwarded the following appointments: To be superintendent of public printing, Barton D. Evans, of West Chester; superintendent of public instruction, E. E. Higbee. The appointments were at once confirmed.

ments were at once confirmed.

The Quigley bill relative to the revocation of liquor licenses was defeated. At 1:45 o'clock this morning the conference committee on the general appropriation bill reached an agreement and reported the bill, with the senate's amendment giving $5,000 for "Smull's Handbook" copyright, and $5,000 for the battle of Lake Erie picture stricken out. This bill includes the $75,000 for the

At quarter past 1 o'clock this morning the house reconvened and began rushing through the belated bills. In the senate the dignified senators were whiling away the recess in a mock senate, HARRISBURG, May 8,-Mr. Cooper, in the senate, made a motion that the vote by which the Fow liquor license transfer bill was killed last Friday be reconsid-ered. Mr. Packer said he was against the bill and therefore against reconsideration. Mr. Cooper said he hoped the senate would include this measure. It was one of high importance and should not be killed in this way. The object of reconsideration was to correct one objectionable feature, that of compelling saloon keepers to pay constables for their monthly visit and to right a typographical error, the result of a mistake by the printer or of collusion with him.

The senate agreed to reconsider the vote, and Mr. Cooper inserted his amend-Appropriation bills were finally passed as follows: For new laundry at Norristown Insane Asylum, $5,000; Wills Eye Hospital $10,000; proposed dispensary at Norristown, $5,000.

The Quigley bill, relating to the re-vocation of liquor licenses, came up on second reading in the senate. A motion was made by Mr. Woods to strike out the last section of the bill which provides that the saloon keeper shall be furnished with the particulars of the charges against him. The motion was lost.

The governor returned several bills to the house with his veto. The conference report on the general revenue bill was submitted. The house insisted upon its non-concurrence in the senate amendments to the soldiers' orphans' appropria-

Fighting for License.

READING, Pa., May 14.-The thirteen liquor dealers of this city recently informed on made an answer in court why their licenses should not be revoked. They allege that section 7 of the Brooks high license law is wholly unconstitu-tional and void, and confers no authority upon the court to revoke the licenses as prayed for in the petitions of complaint, for the reason that the provisions of said section contravene the requirements of section 9 of article 1 of the constitution of Pennsylvania as well as article 5 and 6 of the amendments to the constitution of the United States. Also that the act of assembly of May 13, 1887, is unconstitutional and void because it offends against the provisians of the constitution of Pennsylvania. Several of the respondents in their answers also deny that liquor was sold on their premises on Sunday with their knowl-edge. The court took the papers and commissioners will probably be appointed to take testimony in the thirteen

Some Possible Vetees.

Harrisburg, May 13. — Governor Beaver attacked the bills left him by the legislature with great vigor Friday and Saturday mornings. When he has disposed of the less important measures he will take up the appropriation bills and other acts concerning which there are doubts of his approval. Among the bills that are said to se in danger of falling under the veto axe are the National Guard dress uniform measure, involving $75,000; the appropriation of $50,000 on transporting the surviving participants in the battle of Gettysburg to the battle field on Pennsylvania's day; the judges' salary bill and other appropriation bills. Auditor General McCamant said some time ago that additional sources of revenue would have to be provided if the legislature continued from year to year the reckless appropriation of public moneys. As it was, the state authorities were compelled to exert themselves to raise the necessary cash.

MANHOOD How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of Spermatorthoea or incapacity induced by excess or early indiscretion.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' practice that the alarming consequences of early error may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
