LOCAL ITEMS.

Wm. M. Hartman, of Millheim, was quite ill of pneumonia. Wm. Ott, son of James Ott, of near this place, left for Minneapolis, Minn. Communion in the Lutheran church, of this place, Sabbath morning, May 26. Mr. L. C. Rossman, of Farmers Mills, was in town last week, and found time to call. Aaron Harter and Isaac Harpster made a big catch each on Monday, of fish at the Stone Mill dam. Mr. John Hosterman, with son Thomas, of Wolfe Store, were visiting at the home of Dr. Hosterman, his son, in this place. John Mitchell, of State College, who had been released by the Phila. base ball club, has signed with St. Paul club, Minn. The Spracetown Sabbath school has fixed upon 6:30 p. m. for ceremonies in that graveyard on Decoration day. "Cat an' dog" has taken the place of all other games with young America in this place, at present, and they are doing it justice. Thomas Hosterman, of Miles, a brother of Doc. Hosterman of our town, sustained very severe injuries from a fall a short time ago. The measles have not yet disappeared altogether in this section. The number that had them was quite large, and many grown persons were among them. Thanks to Rev. J. A. Bright, chaplain of Kansas senate, for a copy of "Biennial Report of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture," a handsomely gotten up work. An address in favor of the prohibition amendment will be delivered in the Lutheran church, of this place, on Saturday evening next, by an able gentleman from Pittsburg. Mrs. Jackson Bush has also been taken ill; broken down with the weight of care and nursing which rested upon her amid the sickness and three deaths in her family since April 1. The dedication of the Chapel of the new Lutheran church at Coburn will take place next Sabbath, May 19th, at 10 o'clock a. m. Rev. J. H. Menges, of Philadelphia, will preach the dedicatory sermon. Many girls wear glasses because they are short-sighted enough to make spectacles of themselves.—Herald. Many men and boys make sad spectacles of themselves, not by the wear, but by the use of the contents of glasses. What is fair for the goose should be fair for the gander. Wm. T. Amman, of Millheim, graduated at P. and M. college, Lancaster, last week, and will now enter the ministry in the Reformed church. We knew him when a "barefoot boy," and we are glad to see a young man of talent and promise. He is a son of John Amman, of Millheim, and a grand-son of Rev. Tobias deid. William Cox, aged 23 years, a cigarmaker by trade, but recently engaged as a clerk in the store of A. F. McGarvey, at Tyrone, committed suicide at that place on Sunday evening by taking laudanum. When found in the rear of the City Hotel, at about 8 o'clock, he was in bad condition, and died about 12. The cause of the suicide is said to be the refusal of a young lady to receive his attentions. Geographical socials are something new. The method of conducting them is for a lady upon entering the room in which the social is held to draw from a receptacle a card containing the name of some county seat in the state and for each gentleman to draw the name of a county. The counties are then required to hunt up county seat and take them to supper. This is a variation from the "swinging on the gate" social. Mr. R. F. Fetterolf, who will graduate at Penna. College, in a few weeks, was in town a few days ago and gave us a call. Mr. Fetterolf is from Spring Mills, and his visit here was with a view to establish a select school about the 22d of July. We are pleased to know this as our town and neighborhood sustained such a school for many years and this spring is the only period that has been missed. As Mr. F. is a ripe scholar and of excellent character, we trust our citizens will give him all possible encouragement. He may make the customary announcement in proper time, in these columns. A fair sample of the work of some of the petty bosses in our former council is the buying of chairs that were not needed and were never handed over, and which evidently some hoped would be lost sight of. This is on a level with a violation of their oaths and own ordinances, making citations they didn't like build walks on short notice while butties were let slip and some favorites had their walks stealthily paid out of the borough taxes; some of these model councilmen didn't make walks across their own lots, and boasted of the oppression they heaped upon poorer citizens, and then tried to cover their misdeeds by putting out a cowardly statement that did not show what the money was spent for. Then, in "six sheets" we give these hefty ex-councilmen.

A Dust Storm.

VIEWED FROM A MOUNTAIN TOP.

That most singular phenomena, the great dust storm of Friday afternoon last, which seems to have spread over the entire state, also struck this section with all its ugliness and violence, enveloping all in a thick cloud of dust which turned daylight into darkness. No doubt the reader perused an account of this strange storm in the dailies, and as its behaviour was about the same everywhere, we will not describe it here. In the Bear meadows a sarnmill was blown down, and in many sections fences, trees and buildings were damaged. We wish to note, however, that we had an opportunity of observing the coming of this storm from one of the highest elevations in the state, being at the time on the eminence between Houtzdale and Brishin, where an immense scope of country can be viewed, and which is almost devoid of cultivated fields from which dust clouds could be raised. The horizon in the west and northwest was black with an approaching thunder gust. Ahead of this and far from where we stood, we could discern an immense, dirt colored veil, with its base on the earth and reaching halfway to the clouds riding in advance of the rain clouds and growing in extent with its approach. We thought of dust, but the immense territory before us being covered with brush and short grass, we felt certain no such dust could be "kicked up" in that region. We contrasted it with the smoke from the mountain fires and were convinced it was not smoke. On it came, and we soon became convinced that it was real estate dancing a grand polka in the air to the music of heaven's batteries—it was dust, just the stuff we are all made of. We made a dash for Brishin; our striking the first street and the storm striking it, were simultaneous. To see two inches ahead was impossible; we stumbled upon a poron, felt our way up and took shelter under a door, and let the storm king have his own way, and pelt us with the gravel and little stones that were mixed quite profusely with the dust. We thought the houses would join in the dance of the furies—fortunately they didn't, but the lumber piles, which are so numerous around that burg, they had a grand quadrille, you bet. What were our thoughts, did you ask? Well, as we stood under that door, the doleful words, heard always at the brink of the tomb, kept creeping over us, "dust to dust!" In five minutes the duster left all quiet and a moderate thunder shower followed. From the point from which we witnessed the coming of this singular storm we have no doubt it raised the dust from the northwestern counties joining the Ohio line, and gathered in volume as it traveled eastward. R. R. News. The new train on the Bald Eagle railroad will be put on the road next Monday morning. It will leave Lock Haven about 4:50 a. m. arriving at Bellefonte at 5:35 and at Tyrone at 6:40. Returning it will leave Tyrone about 3:10, arriving at Bellefonte at 4:30 and Lock Haven at 5:30. The afternoon train from Lewisburg to Bellefonte, will be 30 minutes later, hereafter, leaving Lewisburg half an hour later, on account of the Niagara express being that much later; this will make the connection quite close at Bellefonte for Tyrone. How the Soldiers Will Go to Gettysburg.

The bill providing for the transport of the soldiers to Gettysburg on the day the monuments are to be dedicated was signed by the Governor on the 8th of May. It is not as liberal as was supposed. It is not intended that everybody who was in the army at any time during the war shall go as a Gettysburg soldier. The appropriation is limited to $50,000; the adjutant general to make contracts with the railroads at a rate not exceeding one and a half cents per mile, tickets to be good for not less than one week, with the privilege of a stop over at any station en route, and no soldier is to be included who was not a member of the military organization on the day on which it was engaged in that battle and honorably discharged. It is doubted if the appropriation will be sufficient to cover all the expenses, and it is therefore, expected that very strict rules will be adopted with regard to this transportation. For Killing an Officer. The trial of Charles Cleary for the murder of Chief of Police Paul, at Reno, March 12, was commenced at Lock Haven on Tuesday, before Judge Mayer. The grand jury found a true bill, and a jury to try the case was secured by the noon recess. The grand jury also indicted Spotts and McVicker, the saloonists who sold young Cleary drink before the shooting, for selling liquor to minors. A large crowd is present at the trial and much interest is manifested. The state will insist on a verdict of murder in the first degree, while the defence will be devoted to saving Cleary from hanging. New RR. Company. A dollar saved is a dollar earned which can be done by buying clothes from the Rochester Clothing House, Bellefonte, largest stock of spring suits in the county. F. H. Swab, one of the rising young Democrats, of Harris, gave our sanctum a call. Mrs. Swab has been ill a number of weeks, but has recovered some within the last ten days. In spite of all competition Lewins continues to take the lead in ready made clothing. Low prices as well as quality of goods. He gets ahead of all, sells more than all, pleases all, and fits all suits all. The engineers are now locating the branch rail road between Utahville and Smoke Run, known as the Moshannon Branch extension, and it is pretty well settled that the road will be built. Lewins beats the state for large assortment of men and boys' clothing—and he beats the world and all clothing stores in it for low prices. There's where you save from $3 to $8 on a suit of clothes. Persons in the habit of sticking their impudent noses right down where the P. M. chagras the mails should know that such synagoga is strictly against the law; stand back like the rest of decent folks, as post masters may feel a delicacy in reproving the impudence. What the Philad. Branch does not have in the line of ready-made clothing, is not worth having. The spring stock now on the counters is immense and goes ahead of anything you ever saw. Lewins is King for low prices.

Part of a small saucer should have a little mound of powdered sugar poured into it, and on the other side the largest and choicest berries obtainable should be heaped up. Each berry is taken up by the stem, dipped into the sugar and eaten from the fingers. If your strawberries have no stems bring them to the Reporter office and we will show you how to eat them without stems. A lady living in Ohio is the mother of six boys.
