TO DESTROY RED ANTS .- Take a large, coarse sponge, saturate it with warm water and press it dry, then sprinkle it over with fine pulverized sugar and place it where the ants are troublesome. They will soon collect upon the sponge and get into the cells. Then dip the sponge into scalding water, which will kill them. Wash out the sponge and repeat the process. By this means you will soon be entirely rid of them.

CITY people order dessert now as they would note paper. All over town there are small shops where ice cream, ices, charlotte russe, and all sorts of after dinner delicacies are kept, and a spec-ialty is made of delivering them to houses and flats after 5 o'clock at night.

LESS expensive churches; more salary to the ministers, and more help to the poor, would greatly improve the quality of religion.

How "Tippecanoe" Harrison Was Saved.

The battle of Tippecanoe was fought November 5th, 1811, in Indiana, on the banks of Tippecanoe river, on the site of the present village of Battle Ground, between the Americans under General Harrison, and the Indians under the Prophet. Tecumseh's brother.

After the famous battle until the end of his days General Harrison, grandfather of President Benjamin Harrison, was known by the loving sobriquet of "Tippecanoe."

Following his brilliant achievements in arms, now more than three-quarters of a century ago, General Harrison, together with many of his troops, was stricken with disease contracted through lack of proper food, and exposure to the miasma of that section of Indiana, and for a time his life was despaired of. Several of his command lay for weeks, suffering the horrors of disease upon the banks of the Tippecanoe River, which rises in a lake of the same name in the northern part of the state, flows south-west 200 miles and empties into the Wabash nine miles above Lafayette. General Harrison's geons was employed in valn to combat a more terrible vnd deadly enemy than even the hostile aborigines under Tecumseh' brother.

But relief came at last.

General Harrison very sensibly concluded that residents of the neighborhood-nay, the Indians themselvesknew nature's specific for the disease which had prostrated him and many of his command, and instantly set on foot enquirles with a view to ascertaining and applying the remedies. They were speedily found and put to test, and worked like a charm. Under their use the stricken soldiers were promptly restored to their wonted good health and vigor.

The medicines were preparations of natural formulae. Their intrinsic ful and gentle. She will go from one house to another, despoiling here and for generations among people living in remote and malarial sections of the through life. country.

We take servants into our houses and intrust them with our choicest things, and they are not only ignorant of their value, the delicacy and the care they require, but they have not the lightness of touch imperatively necessary in their handling. To watch one of these so called "second girls" through an hour's work is a revelation. One begins to wonder in the course of a few minutes how anything is safe, and what demon prompted her in the selection of her field of labor. Why she did not rather elect to shovel coal than to handle china becomes a curiosly interesting query. One of these maids was recently seen to lift a five-gallon stone jug of spring water without a quickening of the breath or increase of color. From this achievement she turned to empty a handsome Chinese bowl of water and brought it against a piece of marble with a force that could have felled an action, and the skill of the army sur- adversary had he been "our great inother breakages of treasures followed, all attributable to simple heaviness of hands.

The girl herself was well meaning, amiable, industrious and honest, but she lacked the deft ways requisite for her position. She stayed with her mistress two weeks, and destroyed for her more than she could be paid for, had the girl been required to replace the broken articles, with three months' wages. What can one say for such a servant? And who has the means and the generosity to see her through her forming period? If she does not have the charge of fragile things, she will never learn the moderation and care their use exacts, and it is only by ex-perience, hard to herself and costly to shopman: "I should like to purchase e simple roots and herbs, based upon perience, hard to herself and costly to very old-fashioned but effective and her employer, that she will become care- muff."

Many of these invaluable formulae have within the last two years come into possession of Hon. W. H. Warner, Commerce, owner of the largest probeing recognized as standard medicines throughout the civilized globe.

In 1887, Mr. Warner, after careful experimenting and trial put upon the market Warner's Log Cabin Remedies, based upon the formulae which has cured thousands of debilitated sufferers, not only on the banks of the "Tippecanoe," as above related, but everywhere where introduced.

designed for an entirely different order of diseases to which the Safe Remedies are applied, among them are Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, Warner's Log Cabin Cough aud Consumption Remedy, and Warner's Log Cabin Hops and Buchu Remedy. Suffering flees before them as a pestilence flees before the purifying breath of heaven and they are sold everywhere.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES OF EGGS .-The white of an egg has proved of late the most efficacious remedy for burns. Seven or eight successive applications of this substance soothes pain and effectually excludes the burned parts from the air. This simple remedy seems preferable to collodion or even cotton. Extraordinary stories are told of the healing properties of a new oil which is easily made from yolks of hen's eggs. The eggs are first boiled hard, and the yolks then removed, crushed and placed over the fire, where they are carefully stirred until the whole substance is just on the point of catching fire, when the oil separates and may be poured off. One yolk will yield nearly two teaspoonfuls of oil. It is in general use among the colonists of southern Russia as a means of curing cuts, bruises and scratelies.
